BY

Thomas Sternhold, John Hopkins,
and others.

Set forth and Allowed to be Sung in all Churches, of all the People together, before and after Morning and Evening Prayer; and also before and after Sermons; and moreover in private Houses, for their godly solace and comfort: laying apart all ungodly Songs and Ballads; which tend only to the nourishing of Vice, and corrupting of Youth.

JAMES V. XIII.

if any be afflicted, let him pray; and if any be merry, let him sing Psalms.

COLOS. III. XVI.

*Let the Word of God dwell plenteously in you, in all wisdom, teaching and exhorting one another in Psalms, Hymns, and Spiritual Songs, singing unto the Lord
with grace in your hearts.*

The PSALMS of DAVID

In METRE.

PSAL. I. T. S.

THe man is blest that hath not lent
to wicked men his ear:
Nor led his life as sinners do,
nor sate in scorners chair.

3 But in the law of God the Lord
doth set his whole delight:
And in that law doth exercise
himself both day and night.

4 He shall be like the tree that grows
near to the rivers side:
Which bringeth forth most pleasant fruit
in her due time and tide.

Whose leaf shall never fade nor fall,
but flourish still and stand:
Even so all things shall prosper well
that this man takes in hand.

5 So shall not the ungodly men,
they shall be nothing so:

But as the dust, which from the earth
the wind drives to and fro.

6 Therefore shall not the wicked men
in judgment stand upright:

Nor yet the sinners with the just shall come in place or sight.

7 For why? the way of godly men unto the Lord is known:

Also the way of wicked men shall quite be overthrown.

PSAL. II. T. S.

Why did the Gentiles tumult raise?
what rage was in their brain?

Why do the people still contrive
a thing that is but vain?

2 The kings and rulers of the earth
conspire, and are all bent Against the Lord, and Christ his Son,
which he among us sent.

3 Shall we be bound to them? say they:
let all their bonds be broke:

And of their doctrine and their law
let us reject the yoke.

4 But he that in the heaven dwells,
their doings will deride:
And make them all as mocking-stocks,
throughout the world so wide.

5 For in his wrath he shall reprove
their pride and scornful way

And in his fury trouble them,
and unto them shall say,

6 I have anointed him my King
upon my holy hill:

I will therefore, Lord, preach thy law,
according to thy will.

7 The law whereof the Lord himself bath thus said unto me

Thou art my only Son, this day
have I begotten thee.

8 All people I will give to thee,
as heirs at thy request:

The ends and coasts of all the earth
by thee shall be possesst.

9 Thou shalt them bruise even like to
that under foot are trod:

And as a potters vessel break
them with an iron rod.

10 Now ye, O kings and rulers all,
be wise therefore, and learn'd.

By whom the matters of the world
be judged and discern'd.

11 See that ye serve the Lord above,
in trembling and in fear:

See that with reverence ye rejoice
when ye to him draw near.

12 See that ye kiss and do embrace
his Son without delay:

Lest in his wrath ye suddenly perish from the right-way.

13 If once his wrath never so small shall kindle in his breast:

Then only they that trust in Christ
shall happy be, and blest.

PSAL. III. T. S.

O Lord, how are my foes increast,
which vex me more and more!

2 They break my heart when as they say
God can him not restore.

3 But thou (O Lord) art my defence,
when I am hard beset:

My worship and mine honour both
and thou holdst up my head.

4 Then with my voice upon the Lord
I did both call and cry:

And he out of his holy hill
did hear me instantly.

5 I laid me down, and quietly
I slept, and rose again:

For why? I know assuredly
the Lord did me sustain.

6 If thousands up against me
I will not be afraid:

For thou art still my Lord and God
my Saviour and mine aid

Rise up therefore, save me, my God
to thee now I do call

7 For thou hast broke the cheeks & teeth
of these wicked men all.

8 Salvation only doth beten
to thee, O Lord above:

Whom thy people dost bestow
thy blessing and thy love;

Psalm IV, V, VI, VII.

PSAL. IV. T. S.

O God that art my righteousness,
 Lord, hear me when I call:
 Thou hast set me at liberty,
 when I was bound in thrall.
 2 Have mercy, Lord, therefore on me,
 and grant me my request:
 For unto thee incessantly,
 to cry I will not rest.
 3 O mortal men, how long will ye my glory thus despise?
 Why wander ye in vanity,
 and follow after lies?
 4 Know ye that good and godly men
 the Lord doth take and chuse:
 And when to him I make complaint,
 he doth me not refuse.
 5 Sin not, but stand in awe therefore,
 examine well your heart,
 And in your chamber quietly,
 see you your selves convert.
 6 Offer to God the sacrifice of righteousness and praise:
 And look that in the living Lord
 you put your trust always.
 7 The greater sort crave worldly goods,
 and riches do embrace:
 But, Lord, grant us thy countenance,
 thy favour and thy grace.
 For thou thereby shalt make my heart
 more joyful and more glad,
 Then they that of their corn and wine
 full great increase have had.
 9 In peace therefore lie down will I,
 taking my rest and sleep:
 For thou only dost me, O Lord, preserve and safely keep.

PSAL. V. T. S.

I Ncline thine ears, O Lord, and let
 my words have free access 2 To thee, who art my God and King,
 from whom I seek redress.
 3 Hear me betime, Lord, tarry not,
 for I will have respect,
 My supplication in the morn
 to thee for to direct.
 4 And I will trust through patience
 in thee my God alone:
 Thou art not pleas'd with wickedness,
 and ill with thee dwells none.
 5 Such as be foolish shall not stand
 in sight of thee, O Lord:
 Vain workers of iniquity
 thou hast always abhor'd.
 The liars and base flatterers
 shall be destroy'd by thee, Boord-hirfty and deceitful men
 likewise shall hated be.
 7 Therefore will I come to thine house,
 raising upon thy grace:
 And reverently will worship thee,
 and watch thine holy place.
 Lord, lead me in thy righteousness,
 for to confound my foes.

Also the way that I shall walk,
 before my face disclose.
 9 For in their mouths there is no truth,
 their inward filth is great:
 Their throat an open sepulchre,
 and tongues full of deceit.
 10 Destroy their false conspiracies,
 that they may come to nought:
 Subvert them in their heaps of sin,
 which have rebellion wrought.
 11 But those that put their trust in thee
 let them be glad always,
 And render thanks for thy defence,
 and give thy Name the praise.
 12 For thou with favour wilt increase the just and righteous still:
 And with thy grace, as with a shield,
 defend him from all ill.

PSAL. VI. T. S.

L Ord, in thy wrath reprove me not,
 Though I deserve thine ire:
 Nor yet correct me in thy rage,
 O Lord, I thee desire.
 2 For I am weak, therefore, O Lord,
 of mercy me forbear.
 And heal me, Lord, for why? thou know
 my bones do quake for fear.
 3 My soul is troubled very sore,
 and vexed vehemently:
 But, Lord, how long wilt thou delay
 to cure my misery?
 4 Lord, turn thee to thy wonted grace,
 my fainting soul up take,
 O save me, not for my deserts,
 but for thy mercies sake.
 5 For why? no man among the dead
 remembereth thee one whit:
 Or who shall worship thee, O Lord,
 in the infernal pit?
 6 So grievous is my plaint and moan,
 that I wax wondrous faint:
 All the night long I wash my bed
 with tears of my complaint.
 7 My sight is dim, and waxeth old
 with anguish of my heart,
 or fear of them that be my foes.
 And would my soul subvert.
 8 But now depart from me, all ye
 that work iniquity,
 Because the Lord hath heard the voice
 of my complaint and cry.
 9 He heard not only the request
 and prayer of my heart:
 But it received at my hands,
 and took it in good part.
 10 And now my foes that vexed me
 the Lord will soon defame:
 And suddenly confound them all,
 with great rebuke and shame.

PSAL. VII. T. S.

O Lord my God, I put my trust
 and confidence in thee,
 Save me from them that me pursue,
 and still deliver me.

Psalm VIII, IX.

Left like a lion he me tear
and rend in pieces small,
while there is none to succour me,
and rid me out of thrall.

O Lord my God, if I have done
the thing that is not right,
or else if I be found in fault,
or guilty in thy sight :

Or to my friend rewarded ill,
or left him in distress,
which me pursu'd most cruelly,
and hated me causeless :

Then let my foe pursue my soul,
let him my life down thrust into the earth, and also lay mine honour in the dust.

Stand up, O Lord, now in thy wrath,
and put my foes to pain :
perform the kingdome promised
to me which wrong sustain.

Then shall great nations come to thee,
and know thee by this thing,
thou declare for love of them,
thy self as Lord and King.

And as thou art of all men Judge,
O Lord, now judge thou me
according to my righteousness
and mine integrity.

The Second Part.

Lord cease the hate of wicked men,
and be the just mans guide :

By whom the secrets of all hearts
are searched and descry'd.

I take my help to come of God,
in all my pain and smart,
that doth preserve all those that be
of pure and perfect heart.

The just man and the wicked both God judgeth by his power :

so that he feels his mighty hand
even every day and hour.

Except he change his mind, I die,
for even as he should smite,
he whets his sword, his bow he bends,
aiming where he may hit :

And doth prepare his mortal darts,
his arrows keen and sharp,

or then that do me persecute,
whilst he doth mischief warp.

But lo, though he in travail be
of his dev'lish forecast,
and of his mischief once conceiv'd
yet brings forth nought at last.

He digs a ditch and makes it deep,
in hope to hurt his brother :

but he shall fall into the pit
that he digg'd up for other.

Thus wrong returneth to the hurt
of him in whom it bred,

and all the mischief that he wrought
shall fall on his own head.

I will give thanks to God therefore that judgeth righteously,
and with my song will praise the Name
of him that is most high.

P S A L. VIII. T. S.

O God our Lord, how wonderful
are thy works every where,
Thy fame surmounts in dignity
above the heavens clear !

1 Even by the mouth of sucking babes
thou wilt confound thy foes :

For in those babes thy might is seen,
thy graces they disclose.

2 And when I see the heavens high,
the works of thine own hand,

The Sun, the Moon, and all the Stars,
in order as they stand :

3 Lord, what is man that thou of him
tak'st such abundant care ?

Or what the son of man, whom thou
to visit dost not spare ?

4 For thou hast made him little less than angels in degree :

And thou hast also crown'd him with glory and dignity.

5 Thou hast prefer'd him to be lord
of all thy works of wonder :

And at his feet hast set all things,
that he should keep them under.

6 As sheep, and neat, and all beasts else
that in the fields do feed :

7 Fowls of the air, fish in the sea,
and all that therein breed.

8 Therefore must I say once again,
O God that art our Lord,

How famous and how wonderful
are thy works through the world !

P S A L. IX. T. S.

With heart and mouth unto the Lord
will I sing laud and praise :

And speak of all thy wondrous works,
and them declare always.

1 I will be glad and much rejoyce
in thee, O God most high :

And make my songs extol thy Name
above the starry skie.

2 Because my foes are driven back and turned unto flight :

They fall down flat and are destroy'd
by thy great power and might.

3 Thou hast revenged all my wrong,
my grief and all my grudge :

Thou dost with justice hear my cause,
most like a righteous judge.

4 Thou dost rebuke the heathen folk and wicked so confound

That afterward the memory
of them cannot be found.

5 Destructions to an end are come,
and cities overthrow'n :

With them likewise is perish
their fame and great renown

6 Know thou that he which is above
for evermore shall reign,

And in the seat of equity
true judgment will maintain.

7 With justice he will keep and guide
the world and every wight :

And so will yield with equity
to every man his right.

Psalm X, XI.

9 He is protector of the poor,
what time they be oppress:
He is in all adversity
their refuge and their rest.
10 And they that know thy holy Name
therefore shall trust in thee:
For thou forsakest not their suit
in their necessity.

The Second Part.

11 Sing psalms therefore unto who dwells on Sion hill:
Among the people all declare
his noble acts and will.
12 For he is mindful of the blood
of those that be oppress:
Forgetting not the humble man
that seeks to him for rest.
13 Have mercy, Lord, on me poor wretch,
my foes do yet remain:
For from the gates of death thou dost
still raise me up again.
14 In Sion that I may set forth
thy praise with heart and voice,
And that in thy salvation,
my soul may still rejoyce.
15 The heathen sick fast in the pit
that they themselves prepar'd,
And in the net that they did hide
their own feet are calmar'd.
16 By judgments great the Lord is known,
whilst wicked men are caught,
And fast entangled in the work
which their own hands have wrought.
17 The wicked and deceitful men
go down to hell below,
And all the people of the world,
that God refuse to know.
18 But sure the Lord will not forget the poor mans grief and pain:
The patient people never look
for help of him in vain.
19 O Lord arise, lest men prevail
that be of worldly might:
And let the heathen folk receive their judgment in thy sight.
20 Lord, strike such terror, fear and dread into their hearts, and then They will be forced to confess themselves to be but men.

P S A L. X. T. S.

WHAT is the cause that thou, O Lord,
art now so far from thine,
And keepest close thy countenance
from us this troublous time?
2 The poor do perish by the proud and wicked mans desire:
Let them be taken in the craft
that they themselves conspire.
3 For in the lust of his own heart
th' ungodly doth delight:
So doth the wicked praise himself,
and doth the Lord despise.
4 He is so proud that right and wrong
he setteth all apart:
Nay, nay, there is no God, saith
for thus he thinks in heart.

5 Because his ways do prosper still,
he doth thy laws neglect,
And with a blast doth puff against such as would him correct.
6 Tush, tush, saith he, I have no dread
lest mine estate should change:
And why? for all adversity
to him is very strange.
7 His mouth is full of cursedness,
of fraud, deceit and guile:
Under his tongue there nothing is
but what's most base and vile.
8 He lieth hid in ways and holes
to slay the innocent:
Against the poor that pass by him
his cruel eyes are bent.
9 And like a lion privily
lies lurking in his den,
If he may snare them in his net,
and spoil poor simple men.
10 With cunning craft and subtilty
he croucheth down alway:
11 So are great heaps of poor men made by his strong power his prey.

The Second Part.

12 Tush, God forgetteth this, saith he,
therefore I may be bold:
His countenance is cast aside,
he doth it not behold.
13 Arise, O Lord our God, in whom the poor mans hope doth rest:
Lift up thy hand, do not forget
the poor that be oppress.
14 What blasphemy is this to thee,
Lord, dost thou not abhor it,
To hear the wicked in their heart
say, Tush, thou canst not for it?
15 But thou see'st all their wickedness,
and well dost understand 16 That friendless and poor fatherless are left into thy hand.
17 Of wicked and malicious men
then break the power for ever
That they with their iniquity
may perish altogether.
18 The Lord shall reign for evermore
as King and God alone,
And he will chase the heathen folk
out of the land each one.
19 Thou hearest, Lord, the poors complaint
their pray'r and their request:
Their hearts thou wilt confirm, until thine ears to hear be prest:
20 To judg the poor and fatherless,
and help them to their right:
That they may be no more oppre-
by men of worldly might.

P S A L. XI. T. S.

IN God the Lord I put my trust
why say ye to my soul, Unto the mountain swiftly flie,
as doth the winged fowl.
2 Behold the wicked bend their bows,
and make their arrows prest,
To shoot in secret and to hurt
the sound and harmless breast.

Psalm XII, XIII, XIV, XV.

of worldly hope all stays were shrunk,
and clearly brought to nought:
the just and righteous man
what evil hath he wrought?
But he that in his temple is most holy and most high,
and in the heavens hath his seat
of royal majesty,

the poor and simple mans estate
considereth in his mind,
and searcheth out full narrowly
the manners of mankind;
And with a cheerful countenance
the righteous man will use:
in his heart he doth abhor
all such as mischief use;

And on the sinners casteth snares
as thick as any rain,
flintstone and fire, and whirlwinds thick,
appointed for their pain.

Ye see then how a righteous God
doth righteousness embrace,
and unto just and upright men
shews forth his pleasant face.

P S A L. XII. T. S.

Help, Lord, for good and godly men
do perish and decay:
And faith and truth from worldly men
is parted clean away.

Who so doth with his neighbour talk,
'tis all but vanity:
For every man bethinketh how to speak deceitfully.

But flattering and deceitful lips,
and tongues that be so stout
To speak proud words, and make great brags,
the Lord soon cuts them out.

For they say still, We will prevail,
our lips shall us extol:
Our tongues are ours, we ought to speak,
what Lord shall us controul?

But for the great complaint and cry
of poor and men oppress,
I will arise now, saith the Lord,
and them restore to rest.

Gods word is like to silver pure,
that from the dross is tri'd,
And hath no less than seven times
in fire been purifi'd.

Now since thy promise is to help,
Lord, keep thy promise then:
And save us now and evermore
from this ill kind of men.

For now the wicked world is full of mischiefs manifold,
When vanity with worldly men
so highly is extoll'd.

P S A L. XIII. T. S.

How long wilt thou forget me, Lord,
shall it for ever be?
How long dost thou intend to hide
thy face away from me?

In heart and mind how long shall I with care tormented be?
And how long shall my deadly foe
thus triumph over me?

Behold me now, my Lord, my God
and hear me sore oppress, Lighten mine eyes, lest that I sleep
as one by death possess:

Lest that mine enemy do say,
behold, I do prevail:
Lest they also that hate my soul,
rejoyce to see me fail.

But from thy mercy and goodness
my hope shall not depart:
In thy relief and saving health
right glad shall be my heart.

I will give thanks unto the Lord,
and praises to him sing:
Because he hath heard my request,
and granted my wishing.

P S A L. XIV. T. S.

There is no God do foolish men
affirm in their mad mood:
Their drifts are all corrupt and vain
not one of them doth good.

The Lord beheld from heav'n most high
the whole race of mankind;
And saw not one that sought indeed
the living God to find.

They went all wide and were corrupt,
and truly there was none
That in the world did any good,
no not so much as one.

Is all their judgment so far lost,
that all work mischief still,
Feeding my people even as bread,
not one to seek Gods will?

When they thus rage, then suddenly great fear on them shall fall:
For God doth love the righteous men,
and will preserve them all.

Ye mock the doings of the poor,
to their reproach and shame:
Because they put their trust in God,
and call upon his Name.

But who shall give thy people health
and when wilt thou fulfill Thy promise made to Israel
from out of Sion hill?

Even when thou shalt restore again
such as were captive led,
Then Jacob shall therein rejoyce,
and Israel be glad.

P S A L. XV. T. S.

Within thy Tabernacle, Lord,
who shall inhabit still?
Or whom wilt thou receive to dwell
in thy most holy hill?

The man whose life is uncorrupt,
whose words are just and straight:
Whose heart doth think the very truth,
whose tongue speaks no deceit.

That to his neighbour doth none ill
in body, goods or name,
Nor willingly doth move false tales,
which might impair the same.

That in his heart regardeth not malicious wicked men.
But those that love and fear the Lord
he maketh much of them.

Psalm XVI, XVII, XVIII.

5 His oath and all his promises
that keepeth faithfully,
Although he make his covenant so that he doth lose thereby.
That putteth not to usury
his money and his coyn, Nor for to hurt the innocent
doth bribe or else purloyn.
7 Whoso doth all things as you see that here is to be done,
Shall never perish in this world,
no; in the world to come.

P S A L. XVI. T. S.

Lord, keep me, for I trust in thee,
and do confesse indeed,
Thou art my God, and of my goods
thou hast not any need.

2 Therefore I give them to the saints
that in the world do dwell,
Namely unto the faithful flock
in vertue that excell.

3 Their sorrows shall be multipli'd,
who run so hastily
To offer to the idol-gods
that are but vanity.

4 As for their bloody sacrifice
and offerings of that sort,
I will not touch, nor yet thereof
my lips shall make report.

5 For why? the Lord the portion is of mine inheritance:
And thou art he that dost preserv
my lot from all mischance.

6 The place wherein my lot is fall
in beauty doth excell:
Mine heritage assign'd to me
doth please me wondrous well.

7 I thank the Lord that caused me
to understand the right,
For by his means my secret thoughts
do teach me every night.

8 I set the Lord still in my sight,
and trust him over all:
For he doth stand on my right hand,
therefore I shall not fall.

9 Wherefore my heart and tongue also rejoyce exceedingly:
My flesh likewise doth rest in hope,
to rise again; for why?

10 Thou wilt not leave my soul in grave,
for, Lord, thou lovest me:
Nor yet wilt give thine holy one corruption for to see.

11 But wilt me teach the way to where there is joy in store,
And where at thy right hand there pleasures for evermore.

P S A L. XVII. T. S.

O Lord, give ear to my just cause,
attend when I complain:
And hear the prayer that I put forth
with lips that do not faine.

2 And let the judgment of my cause proceed always from thee:
And let thine eyes behold and clear
this my simplicity.

3 Thou hast well tri'd me in the night,
and yet couldst nothing find,
That I have spoken with my tongue
that was not in my mind.

4 As for the works of wicked men,
and paths perverse and ill,
For love of thy most holy Name,
I have refrained still.

5 Then in thy paths that be most pure
stay me, Lord, and preserve:
That from the way wherein I walk
my steps may never swerve:

6 For I do call to thee, O Lord,
surely thou wilt me aid:
Then hear my prayer, and weigh right well
the words that I have said.

7 O thou the Saviour of all them
that put their trust in thee,
Declare thy strength on them that spurn
against thy Majesty.

8 O keep me as thou wouldest keep
the apple of thine eye:
And under covert of thy wings
defend me secretly.

The Second Part.

9 From wicked men that trouble me,
and daily me annoy,
And from my foes that go about
my soul for to destroy:

10 Which wallow in their worldly wealth
and are so full and fat,
That in their pride they do not spare
to speak they are not what.

11 They lie in wait where I should pass,
with craft me to confound:
And musing mischief in their minds,
to cast me to the ground.

12 Much like a lion greedily,
that would his prey embrace Or lurking like a lions whelp
within some secret place.

13 Up, Lord, in haste, prevent my foe
and cast him at my feet:
Save thou my soul from the ill man,
and with thy sword him smite.

14 Deliver me, Lord, by thy power
out of these tyrants hands:
Which now so long time reigned have,
and kept us in their bands.

15 I mean from worldly men, to whom all worldly goods are rife,
That have no hope nor part of joy
but in this present life.

16 Thou of thy store their bellies fill'st
with pleasure to their mind:
Their children have enough, and leave
the rest to theirs behind.

17 But I shall with pure conscience
behold thy gracious face:
So when I wake I shall be full of thine image and grace.

P S A L. XVIII. T. S.

O God my strength and fortitude
of force I must love thee:
Thou art my castle and defence
in my necessity.

Psalm XVIII.

My God, my rock in whom I trust,
the worker of my wealth:
My refuge, buckler, and my shield,
the horn of all my health.

When I sing laud unto the Lord
most worthy to be serv'd,
Then from my foes I am right sure that I shall be preserv'd.

The pangs of death did compass me,
and bound me every where:
The flowing waves of wickedness
did put me in great fear.

The flie and subtil snares of hell
were round about me set:
And for my life there was prepar'd
a deadly trapping net.

I thus beset with pain and grief,
did pray to God for grace:
And he forthwith heard my complaint
out of his holy place.

Such is his power that in his wrath
he made the earth to quake, Yea, the foundation of the mount of Basan for to shake

And from his nostrils went a smoke,
when kindled was his ire:
And from his mouth went burning coals
of hot consuming fire.

The Lord descended from above,
and bow'd the heavens high,
And underneath his feet he cast
the darkness of the skie.

On cherubs and on cherubims
full royally he rode:
And on the wings of mighty winds came flying all abroad.

The Second Part.

And like a den most dark he made his hid and secret place:
With waters black and airy clouds encompassed he was.

But when the presence of his face
in brightness shall appear:
Then clouds consume, and in their stead
come hail and coals of fire.

The fiery darts and thunderbolts,
disperse them here and there:
And with his often lightnings,
he puts them in great fear.

When thou, O Lord, with great rebuke thine anger dost declare,
The springs and the foundations of the world discovered are.

And from above the Lord sent down
to fetch me from below,
And pluckt me out of waters great,
that would me overflow.

And me deliver'd from my foes
that sought me to inthrall:
Yea, from such foes as were too strong
for me to deal withall.

They did prevent me evermore
in time of my great grief:
But yet the Lord was my defence
my succour and relief.

He brought me forth in open place,
that so I might be free,
And kept me safe, because he had a favour unto me.

According to mine innocence,
so did he me regard,
And to the cleanness of my hands
he gave me my reward:

For that I walked in his ways
and in his paths have trod,
And not departed wickedly
from him that is my God.

The Third Part.

But evermore I have respect
to his law and decree:
His statutes and commandments
cast not away from me.

But pure and clean and uncorrupt
appear'd before his face,
And did refrain from wickedness
and sin in any case.

The Lord therefore will me reward
as I have done aright:
And to the cleanness of my hands,
appearing in his sight.

For, Lord, with him that holy is,
wilt thou be holy too,
And with the good and vertuous men
right vertuously wilt do.

And for the loving and elect thy favour wilt reserve:
And thou wilt use the wicked men
as wicked men deserve.

For thou dost save the simple folk
in trouble when they lie,
And dost bring down the countenance
of them that look full high.

The Lord will light my candle so that it shall shine full bright:
The Lord my God will make also my darkness to be light.

For by thy help an host of men discomfit, Lord, I shall:
By thee I scale and overleap
the strength of any wall.

Unspotted are the ways of God:
his word is purely tri'd:
He is a sure defence to such as in his faith abide.

For who is God except the Lord?
for other there is none:
Or else who is omnipotent saving our God alone

The Fourth Part.

The God that girdeth me with strength
is he that I do mean,
That all the ways wherein I walk
did evermore keep clean.

That made my feet like to the ha-
in swiftness of my pace,
And for my surety brought me forth into an open place.

He did in order put my hands
to battell and to fight.

Psalm XIX, XX.

To break in sunders of brass
he gave my arm the night.

34 Thou teachest me thy saving health,
thy right hand is my tower:

Thy love and gentleness also doth still increase my power.

35 And under me thou makest plain
the way where I should go,

So that my feet shall never slip,
nor wander to and fro.

36 And mercely I pursue and take
my foes that me annoy'd:

And from the field do not return
till they be all destroy'd

37 So I suppress and wound my foes,
that they can rise no more:

For at my feet they fall down flat,
I strike them all so sore.

38 For thou dost gird me with thy strength
to war in such a wise,

That they be scatter'd all abroad
that up against me rise.

39 Lord, thou hast given me the necks
of all mine enemies,

That so I might destroy all those
that up against me rise.

40 They call'd for help, but none gave ear
nor came to their relief:

Yes, to the Lord they call'd for aid,
yet heard he not their grief

The Fifth Part.

41 And still like dust before the wind
I drive them under feet,

And sweep them out like filthy clay
that lieth in the street.

42 Thou keep'st me from seditious folk that kill in strife are led:

And thou dost of the heathen
appoint me to be head.

43 A people strange to me unknown,
and yet they shall me serve:

And at the first obey my word,
whereas mine own will swerve.

44 I shall be irksom to mine own,
they will not see my light:

But wander wide out of the way,
and hide them out of sight.

45 But blessed be the living Lord,
most worthy of all praise,

That is my rock and saving health,
praised be he always.

46 For God it is that gave me power,
revenge'd for to be,

And with his holy Word^{de} do'd
the people overcome.

47 And from a fox'd cliver'd me
and set me over those

That cruel and ungodly were
and up against me rose.

48 And for this cause, O Lord my God
to thee give thanks I shall,

And sing out praises to thy Name
among the Gentiles all.

49 Beliv'rance great thou giv'st the king,
and dost reserve in storm

Mercy for thine Anointed, and his seed for evermore.

P S A L. XIX. T.

THe heav'ns and the firmament
do wondrously declare

The glory of th' Omnipotent,
his works and what they are.

2 The wondrous works of God appear
by every days success:

The nights likewise which their race run,
the selfsame thing express.

3 There is no language, tongue or speech
where their sound is not heard,

In all the earth and coasts thereof
their knowledge is conferr'd.

4 In them the Lord made for the sun
a place of great renown,

Who like a bridegroom ready trim^{is}
doth from his chamber come.

5 And as a valiant champion,
who for to get a prize,

With joy doth hast to take in hand
some noble enterprise.

6 And all the skie from end to end
he compasseth about:

Nothing can hide it from his heat,
but he will find it out.

7 How perfect is the law of God,
how is his cov'nant sure,

Converting souls, and making wise
the simple and obscure!

8 Just are the Lords commandments and glad both heart and mind

His precepts pure, and do give light to eyes that be full blind.

9 The fear of God is excellent and doth endure for ever:

The judgments of the Lord are true,
and righteous altogether;

10 And more to be embraced as then tin'd gold alway:

The honey and the honey-combe
are not so sweet as they.

11 By them thy servant is forewarn'd
to have God in regard,

And in performance of the same
there shall be great reward.

12 But, Lord, what earthly man doth know
the errors of his life?

Then, cleanse me from my secret sins,
which are in me most rife.

13 And keep me that presumptuous sins
prevail not over me:

And so shall I be innocent,
and great offences flee.

14 Accept my mouth and heart also,
my words and thoughts each one:

For my redeemer and my strength,
O Lord, thou art alone.

P S A L. XX. T.S.

In trouble and adversity

the Lord God hear thee still,

The majesty of Jacobs God

defend thee from all ill:

Psalm XXI, XXII.

- 1 And send thee from his holy place
his help at every need,
And so in Sion stablish thee
and make thee strong indeed.
- 2 Remembring well the sacrifice
that now to him is done:
And so receive most graciously thy burnt-offerings each one.
- 3 According to thy hearts desire
the Lord grant unto thee,
And all thy counsel and device
full well perform may be.
- 4 We shall rejoyce when thou us sav'st,
and our banners display Unto the Lord, which thy requests fulfilled hath alway.
- 5 The Lord will his Anointed save,
I know well by his grace,
And send him help by his right hands
out of his holy place.
- 6 In chariots some put confidence,
and some in horses trust:
But we remember God our Lord,
that keepeth promise just.
- 7 They fall down flat, but we do rise,
and stand up stedfastly,
- 8 O save and help us, Lord and King,
when we to thee do cry.

P S A L. XXI. T. S.

- O Lord, how joyful is the king
in thy strength and in thy power!
Exceedingly he doth rejoyce
in thee his Saviour.
- For thou hast given unto him
his godly hearts desire:
To him nothing thou hast deny'd
of that he did require.
- 1 Thou didst prevent him with thy gifts
and blessings manifold,
And thou hast set upon his head
a crown of perfect gold.
 - 2 And when he asked life of thee,
thereof thou mad'st him sure,
To have long life, yea such a life
as ever shall endure.
 - 3 Great is his glory by thy help,
thy benefit and aid:
Great worship and great honour both thou hast upon him laid.
 - 4 Thou wilt give him felicity
that never shall decay,
And with thy cheerful countenance
wilt comfort him alway.
 - 5 Because the King doth strongly trust
in God for to prevail:
Therefore his goodness and his grace
to save him will not fail.
 - 6 Thine enemies shall feel thy force,
and those that thee withstand:
Find out thy foes, and let them feel
the pow'r of thy right hand.
 - 7 And like an oven burn them, O Lord
in fiery flame and fume:
Thine anger shall destroy them all,
and fire shall them consume.

- 8 And thou shalt root out of the land
their fruit that should increase:
And from the number of thy folk
their seed shall end and cease.
- 9 For why? much mischief they co^{ri}ved against thy holy Name:
Yet did they fail, and had no pow
for to perform the same.
- 10 But as a mark thou shalt them set
in a most open place.
And charge thy bow-strings readily against their very face.
- 11 Be thou exalted, Lord, therefore in thy strength every hour:
So shall we sing right solemnly,
praising thy might and power.

P S A L. XXII. T. S.

- O God, my God, wherefore dost thou forsake me utterly
And helpest not when I make my great complaint and cry?
- 1 To thee, my God, even all day long
I do both cry and call:
I cease not all the night, and yet
thou hearest not at all.
 - 2 But thou that in thy holy place
continually dost dwell, Thou art the joy, the comfort and glory of Israel.
 - 3 And he in whom our fathers old,
had all their hope for ever:
And when they put their trust in thee,
thou didst them still deliver.
 - 4 They were deliver'd ever when they called on thy Name:
And for the faith they had in thee
they were not put to shame.
 - 5 But I am now become more like
a worm then to a man:
An out-cast whom the people scorn
with all the spite they can.
 - 6 All men despise as they behold
me walking on the way:
They grin, make mouths and nod their head
and on this wise do say,
 - 7 This man did glory in the Lord,
his favour and his love, Let him redeem and help him now,
his power if he will prove.
 - 8 But from the prison of the womb
I was by thee releast:
Thou didst preserve me still in hope
while I did suck the breast.
 - 9 I was committed from my birth
with thee to have abode:
Since I was in my mothers womb,
thou hast been still my God.

The Second Part.

- 1 Then Lord, depart not now from me
in this my present grief,
Since I have none to be my help,
my succour and relief,
- 2 So many bulls do compass me
that be full strong of head Yea, bulls to fat as though they had in Balaam field been fed.

Psalm XXIII, XXIV:

13 They gape upon me greedily,
 as though they would me slay:
 Much like a lion roaring out,
 and ramping for his prey.
 14 But I drop down like water shed,
 my joints in sunder break,
 My heart doth in my body melt
 like wax, I am so weak.
 15 My strength doth like a potsherd dry,
 my tongue it cleaveth fast Unto my jaws, and I am brought to dust of death at last.
 16 And many dogs do compass me,
 in council they do meet:
 Conspiring still against my life,
 piercing my hands and feet.
 17 I was tormented so that I might all my bones have told:
 Yet still upon me they do look,
 and still they me behold.
 18 My garments they divided have
 in parts among them all:
 And for my coat they did cast lots
 to whom it might befall.
 19 Therefore I pray thee be not far from me at my great need:
 But rather, since thou art my strength,
 to help me, Lord, make speed.
 20 And from the sword, save thou my soul
 by thy might and thy power:
 And ever keep my darling dear,
 from dogs that would devour.
 21 And from the lions mouth, that would me all in sunder shiver,
 And from the horns of unicorns
 I'd, safely me deliver.
 22 Then shall I to my brethren all thy Majesty record:
 And in thy Church shall praise the Name
 of thee the living Lord.
 The Third Part.
 23 All ye that fear him, praise the Lord
 thou, Jacob, honour him:
 And all ye seed of Israel
 with reverence worship him.
 24 For he despiseth not the poor,
 he hideth not away
 His countenance when they do call,
 but hears them when they pray.
 25 Among the folk that fear the Lord
 I will therefore proclaim Thy praise, and keep my promise made for setting forth thy Name.
 26 The poor shall eat and be suffic'd
 and those that do endeavour
 To know the Lord, shall praise his Name
 their hearts shall live for ever.
 27 The coasts of all the earth shall praise
 the Lord, and seek his grace:
 The heathen folk shall worship
 before his blessed face.
 28 The kingdoms of the heathen folk the Lord shall have therefore:
 And he shall be their Governour
 and King for evermore.

29 The rich men of his goodly gifts
 shall feed and taste also:
 And in his presence worship him,
 and bow with their knees full low.
 30 And all that shall go down to dust,
 of life by him shall taste:
 A feed shall serve and worship him
 while any world shall last.
 31 They shall declare and plainly shew
 his truth and righteousness,
 Unto a people yet unborn,
 who shall his Name confess.

PSAL. XXIII. W. W.

THe Lord is only my support,
 and he that doth me feed:
 How can I then lack any thing
 whereof I stand in need:
 1 He doth me fold in cotes most safe
 the tender grass fast by:
 And after drives me to the streams
 which run most pleasantly.
 2 And when I feel my self near lost,
 then doth he me home take,
 Conducting me in his right paths
 even for his own Names sake.
 3 And though I were even at deaths door,
 yet would I fear none ill:
 For with thy rod and shepherds crook
 I am comforted still.
 4 Thou hast my table richly deckt
 in despite of my foe:
 Thou hast my head with balm refresht
 my cup doth overflow.
 5 And finally while breath doth last thy grace shall me defend.
 And in the house of God will I
 my life for ever spend.

Another of the same by T. S.

MY shepherd is the living Lord,
 nothing therefore I need,
 In pastures fair with waters calm,
 he setteth me to feed.
 2 He did convert and glad my soul,
 and brought my mind in frame,
 To walk in paths of righteousness,
 for his most holy Name.
 3 Yea, though I walk in vale of death
 yet will I fear none ill:
 Thy rod and staff do comfort me,
 and thou art with me still.
 4 And in the presence of my foes
 my table thou shalt spread:
 Thou shalt, O Lord, fill full my cup,
 and wilt anoint my head.
 5 Through all my life thy favour is so frankly shew'd to me,
 That in thy house forevermore
 my dwelling-place shall be.

PSAL. XXIV. J. H.

THe earth is all the Lords, with all her store and furniture:
 Yea, his is all the world and all that therein doth endure.
 2 For he hath fastly founded it above the seas to stand

And

Psalm XXV, XXVI.

And plac'd below the liquid fouds,
to flow beneath the land.

Who is the man, O Lord, that shall ascend unto thy hill,

Or pass into thy holy place,
there to continue still?

He that hath pure hands and heart,
which nothing doth denile:

His soul not set on vanity,
and hath not sworn to guile.

Him that is such a one, the Lord
most highly shall regard:

And from his God and Saviour shall receive a just reward.

This is the flock of travellers,
in seeking of his grace:

As Jacob did the Israelite,
in that time of his race

Ye princes ope your gates, stand ope
the everlasting gate:

For there shall enter in thereby
the King of glorious state.

Who is the King of glorious state
the strong and mighty Lord,

The mighty Lord in battel stout,
and trial of the sword.

Ye princes ope your gates, stand ope
the everlasting gate:

For there shall enter in thereby
the King of glorious state.

Who is the King of glorious state?
the Lord of hosts it is:

The kingdom and the royalty
of glorious state is his.

PSAL. XXV. T.S.

I Lift my heart to thee,
my God and guide most just:

Now suffer me to take no shame,
for in thee do I trust.

Let not my foes rejoyce,
nor make a scorn of me:

And let them not be overthrown
that put their trust in thee.

But shame shall them befall
which harm them wrongfully:

Therefore thy paths and thy right ways unto me, Lord, direct.

Direct me in thy truth,
and teach me I thee pray:

Thou art my God and Saviour,
on thee I wait alway.

Thy mercies manifold
remember, Lord, I pray:

Also thy pity plentiful,
for they have been alway.

Remember not the faults
and frailty of my youth:

Remember not how ignorant
I have been of thy truth.

Nor after my deserts

Let me thy mercy find:

But of thine own benignity

Lord, have me in thy mind;

His mercy is full sweet,

his truth a perfect guide

Therefore the Lord will sinners reach and such as go aside.

The humble he will teach
his precepts to obey:

He will direct in all his path
the lowly man alway.

For all the ways of God
both truth and mercy are,

To them that do his covenant
and statutes keep with care.

The Second Part.

Now for thy holy Name,

O Lord, I thee intreat,
To grant me pardon for my sin,
for it is wondrous great.

Whoso doth fear the Lord,
by him he shall be kept,

To lead his life in such away
as he doth best accept.

His soul shall evermore
in goodness dwell and stand,

His seed and his posterity
inherit shall the land.

All those that fear the Lord,
know his secret intent:

And unto them he doth declare his will and testament.

Mine eyes and thankful heart
to him I will advance,

That pluckt my fee out of the snare
of sin and ignorance.

With mercy me behold,
to thee I make my mone:

For I am poor and desolate,
and comfortless alone.

The troubles of my heart
are multipl'd indeed:

Bring me out of this misery,
necessity and need.

Behold my poverty,
mine anguish and my pain:

Remit my sin and mine offence,
and make me clean again.

O Lord, behold my foes,
how they do still increase,

Pursuing me with deadly hate,
that I should live in peace.

Preserve and keep my soul,
and still deliver me:

And let me not be overthrown,
because I trust in thee.

Let mine integrity
and uprightness still be,

My sure protection and defence,
because I wait on thee.

Deliver, Lord, thy folk,
and send them some relief,

I mean thy chosen Israel,
from all their pain and grief.

PSAL. XXVI. T.S.

Lord, be my Judge, and thou shalt see
my paths be right and plain:

I trust in God, and hope that he
with strength will me sustain.

a Prove

Psalm XXVII, XXVIII.

1 Prove me my God, I thee despise
my ways to search and try:
As men do prove their gold with fire,
my reins and heart espy.

2 Thy loving kindness in my sight
I do behold always:
I ever walked in thy truth,
and will do all my days.

3 I do not love to haunt or use with men whose deeds are vain:
To come in house I do refuse
with the deceitful train.

4 I much abhor the wicked sort,
their deeds I do despise:
I do not once to them resort
that hurtful things devise.

5 My hands I wash and do proceed
in works to walk upright:
I ben to thine altar I make speed,
to offer there in sight.

6 That I may speak and preach the praise
that doth belong to thee,
And so declare how wondrous ways
thou hast been good to me.

7 O God, thy house I love most dear,
to me it doth excell:
My chief delight is to be near
the place where thou dost dwell.

8 O shut not up my soul with them
in sin that take their fill,
Nor yet my life among those men
that seek much blood to spill.

9 For in their hands much mischief is,
their lives therewith abound:
And nothing else in their right hand
but bribes is to be found.

10 But I in righteousness resolve
my time and days to spend:
Therefore, that I may never swerve,
let my grace me defend.

11 My foot is staid for all assays,
it standeth well and right:
Wherefore to God will I give praise
in all the peoples sight.

P S A L. XXVII. J. H.

THe Lord is both my health and light,
shall man make me dismayd?
Since God doth give me strength and might,
why should I be afraid?

1 While that my foes with all their strength
begin with me to brawl,
And think to eat me up, at length themselves have caught the fall.

2 Though they in camp against me lie,
my heart is not afraid:
And if in battel they will try,
I trust in God for aid.

3 One thing of God I do require,
that he will not deny:
For which I pray and will desire
till he to me apply:

4 That I within his holy place
my life throughout may dwell,
To see the beauty of his face,
and view his temple well

5 In time of dread he shall me hide
within his place most pure,
And keep me secret by his side,
as on a rock most sure.

6 At length I know the Lord's good grace shall make me strong and stout,
My foes to foil and clean deface,
that compass me about.

7 Therefore within his house will I give sacrifice of praise:
With psalms and songs I will apply to laud the Lord always.

The Second Part.

8 Lord, hear the voice of my request,
for which to thee I cry:
Have mercy, Lord, on me oppress,
and help me speedily.

9 My heart confesseth unto thee,
I sue to have thy grace:
Then seek my face, saidst thou to me,
Lord, I will seek thy face.

10 In wrath turn not thy face away,
nor suffer me to slide:
Thou art my help still to this day,
be still my God and guide.

11 My parents both their son forsook,
and cast me off at large:
Yet then the Lord himself did take
of me the care and charge.

12 Teach me, O Lord, the way to thee,
and lead me on forth right,
For fear of such as watch for me,
to trap me if they might.

13 O leave me not unto the will
of them that be my foes:
For they surmise against me still false witness to depose.

14 I utterly should faint, but that
this hope supporteth me,
That in the land wherein I live
Gods goodness I shall see.

15 Trust still in God whose whole thou art,
his will abide thou must,
He will support and ease thy heart,
if thou in him do trust.

P S A L. XXVIII. T. S.

Thou art, O Lord, my strength and Ray
the succour which I crave:
Neglect me not, lest I be like
to them that go to grave.

2 My voice and supplications hear,
when unto thee I cry,
When I lift up my hands unto thy holy ark most high.

3 Repute me not among those men
in sin that take their fill:
That speak right fair unto their friends,
but think in heart full ill.

4 According to those wicked deeds
which they did most regard:
And after their inventions
let them receive reward.

5 Because they never mind the words of God, he will therefore,

Psalm XXIX, XXX, XXXI.

In stead of building of them up,
destroy them evermore.

6 To render thanks unto the Lord
how great a cause have I,
my voice, my prayer, and my complaint
that heard so willingly!

7 He is my shield and fortitude,
my buckler in distress:
My hope, my help, my hearts relief,
my song shall him confess.

8 He is our strength and our defence,
our foes for to resist:
The health and the salvation
of his elect by Christ.

9 Thy people and thine heritage,
Lord, bleiss, guide and preserve:
Increase them, Lord, and rule their hearts,
that they may never swerve.

PSAL. XXIX. T. S.

Give to the Lord, ye potentates,
give ye with one accord,
All praise and honour, might and strength,
unto the living Lord.

2 Give glory to his holy Name,
and honour him alone:
Worship him in his majesty
within his holy throne.

3 His voice doth rule the waters all,
even as himself doth please:
He doth prepare the thunder-claps,
and governs all the seas.

4 The voice of God is of great force,
and wondrous excellent:
It is most mighty in effect,
and most magnificent.

5 The voice of God doth rend and break
the cedar-trees so long:
The cedar-trees of Lebanon,
which are most high and strong:

6 And makes them leap like as a calf,
or as the unicorn:

Not only trees but mountains great whereon the trees are born.

7 His voice divides the flames of fire,
and shakes the wilderness:

8 It makes the desert quake for fear,
that called is Cadès.

9 It makes the hinds for fear to calve,
and makes the coverts plain:

And in his temple every man
his glory doth proclaim.

10 The Lord doth move the floods,
their fury to restrain:

And he likewise as Lord and King
for evermore shall reign.

11 The Lord will give his people strength whereby they shall increase:

And he will bleiss his chosen flock
with everlasting peace.

PSAL. XXX. J. H.

ALL laud and praise with heart and voice,
O Lord, I give to thee,
Which didst not make my foes rejoyce,
but hast exalted me,

2 O Lord my God, to thee I cry'd
in all my pain and grief:
Thou gav'st an ear, and didst provide
to ease me with relief.

3 Of thy good will thou hast call'd mee
my soul from hell to save:
Thou didst revive when strength did lack
and kept'st me from the grave.

4 Sing praise, ye saints, that prove and see
the goodness of the Lord:
In memory of his Majesty
rejoyce with one accord.

5 For why? his anger but a space
doth last and slack again:
But in his favour and his grace
always doth life remain.
Though gripes of grief and pangs full sore
abide with us all night,
The Lord to joy shall us restore
before the day be light.

6 When I enjoy'd the world at will,
thus would I boast and say,
Tush, I am sure to feel none ill,
my wealth shall not decay.

7 For thou, O Lord, of thy good grace
didst send me strength and aid:
But when thou turn'd'st away thy face,
my mind was sore dismay'd.

8 Wherefore again then did I cry
to thee, O Lord of might:
And my complaints did multiply,
praying both day and night.

9 What gain is in my blood, said I,
if death destroy my days?
Can dust declare thy Majesty,
or give thy truth its praise?

10 Wherefore, my God, some pity take,
O Lord, I thee desire:
Do not this simple soul forsake,
of thee help I require.

11 Then didst thou turn my grief and wo
into a cheerful voice:
The mourning weed thou took'st me fro
and mad'st me to rejoyce.

12 Wherefore my soul incessantly
shall sing unto thy praise:

My Lord my God, to thee will I give laud and thanks always.

PSAL. XXXI. J. H.

O Lord, I put my trust in thee,
let nothing work me shame:
As thou art just, deliver me,
and set me free from blame.

2 Hear me, O Lord, and that anon,
to help me make good speed:
Be thou my rock and house of stone,
my fence in time of need.

3 For why? as stones thy strength is mine,
thou art my fort and tower:
For thy Names sake be thou my guide
and lead me in thy power.

4 Pluck thou my feet out of the snare
which they for me have laid:
Thou art my strength, and all my care
is for my might and aid.

Psalm XXXII.

5 Into thy hands, Lord, I commit
my soul, which is thy due:
Because thou hast redeemed it,
O Lord my God most true.
6 I hate such folk as will not part
from things to be abhorr'd:
When they on trifles set their heart,
my trust is in the Lord.
7 For I will in thy mercy joy,
I see it doth excell:
Thou see'st when ought would me annoy,
and know'st my soul full well.
8 Thou hast not left me in their hand
that would me overcharge:
But thou hast set me out of band,
to walk abroad at large.

The Second Part.

Great grief, O Lord, doth me assail,
some pity on me take:
Mine eyes wax dim, my sight doth fail,
my heart with fear doth ake.
10 My life is worn with grief and pain,
my years in wo are past,
My strength is gone, and through disdain
my bones corrupt and waste.
11 Among my foes I am a scorn,
my friends are all dismay'd:
My neighbours and my kinsmen born
to see me are afraid.
12 As men once dead are out of mind,
so am I now forgot:
A little use of me they find,
as of a broken pot.
13 I heard the brags of all the rout,
their threats my mind did fray,
How they conspir'd, and went about
to take my life away.
14 But, Lord, I trust in thee for aid
not to be overtrod:
For I confess, and still have said,
thou art the Lord my God.
15 The length of all my life and age,
O Lord, is in thy hand:
Defend me from the wrath and rage
of them that me withstand.
16 To me thy servant, Lord, express and shew thy joyful face:
And save me, Lord, for thy goodness,
thy mercy and thy grace.

The Third Part.

17 Lord, let me not be put to shame,
because on thee I call:
But let the wicked bear the blame,
and into the grave fall.
18 O Lord, make dumb their lips outright
which are addict to lies,
And cruelly with pride and spite
against the just devise.
19 O how great good hast thou in store
laid up full safe for them
That fear and trust in thee therefore,
before the sons of men!
O Thy presence shall them fence and guide
from all proud brags and wrongs:

Within thy place thou shalt them hide
from all the strife of tongues.
21 Thanks to the Lord that hath declar'd
on me his grace so far,
Me to defend with watch and ward,
as in a town of war.
22 Thus did I say both day and night,
when I was sore oppress'd,
Lo, I am clean cast out of sight,
yet heard'st thou my request.
23 Ye saints, love ye the Lord alway,
the faithful he doth guide:
And to the proud he doth repay
according to their pride.
24 Be of good courage evermore,
on God your strength depend:
For those that put their trust in him
he ever will defend.

PSALM XXXII. T. S.

THe man is blest whose wickedness
the Lord doth clean pass by:
And he whose sin is likewise hid,
and cover'd secretly.
2 And blest is he to whom the Lord
imputeth not his sin:
Which in his heart hath hid no guile,
nor fraud is found therein.
3 For whilst that I kept close my sin
in silence and constraint,
My bones did wear and waste away
with daily mean and plaint.
4 For night and day thy hand on me
so grievous was and smart,
That all my blood and humours moist
to driness did convert.
5 I did therefore confess my fault,
and all my sins discover:
Then thou, O Lord, didst me forgive
and all my sins pass over.
6 The humble man shall pray therefore,
and seek thee in due time:
So that the floods of waters great
shall have no power on him.
7 When trouble and adversity
do compass me about,
Thou art my refuge and my joy,
and thou dost rid me out.
8 Come hither, and I will thee teach
how thou shalt walk aright:
I will thee guide as I my self have learn'd by proof and fight.
9 Be not so rude and ignorant
as is the horse and mule, Whole mouth without a rein or bit
from harm thou canst not rule.
10 The wicked man shall manifold sorrows and griefs sustain:
But unto him that trusts in God
his goodness shall remain.
11 Be merry therefore in the Lord,
ye just lift up your voice:
And ye of pure and perfect heart
with chearfulness rejoice.

Psalm XXXIII, XXXIV.

PSAL. XXXIII. J. H.

YE righteous in the Lord rejoyce,
 it is a seemly sight,
 That upright men with thankful voice
 should praise the Lord of might.
 Praise ye the Lord with harp and song,
 in psalms and pleasant things:
 With lute and instrument also
 that soundeth with ten strings.
 Sing to the Lord a song most new,
 with courage give him praise:
 For why? his word is ever true
 his works and all his ways.
 To judgment equity, and right,
 he hath a great good will:
 And with his gifts he doth delight
 the earth throughout to fill.
 For by the word of God alone
 the heav'ns above were wrought:
 Their hosts and powers every one
 his breath to pass hath brought.
 The waters great gather'd hath he
 on heaps within the shore:
 And hid them in the depth to be,
 as in a house of store.
 All men on earth both least and most fear God and keep his law:
 Ye that inhabit in each coast,
 dread him and stand in awe.
 What he commanded wrought it was
 at once with present speed:
 What he doth will is brought to pass
 with full effect indeed.

10 The counsels of the nations rude
 the Lord doth bring to nought:
 He doth defeat the multitude of their device and thought.
 11 But his decrees continue still,
 they never slack nor swage:
 The motions of his mind and will take place in every age.
 The Second Part.
 12 And blest are they to whom the Lord
 as God and guide is known:
 Whom he doth chuse of meer accord
 to take them as his own.
 13 The Lord from heav'n did cast his sight
 on men mortal by birth:
 14 Beholding from his seat of might
 the dwellers on the earth.
 15 The Lord, I say, whose hand hath wrought
 mans heart, and doth it frame:
 For he alone doth know the thought,
 and working of the same.
 16 A king that trusteth in his host,
 shall nought prevail at length:
 The man that of his might doth boast,
 shall fall for all his strength.

17 The troops of horsemen all shall fail,
 their sturdy steeds shall swerve:
 The strength of horse shall not prevail
 the rider to preserve.
 18 But lo, the eyes of God intend
 and watch to aid the just:
 With such as fear him to offend,
 and on his goodness trust.

19 That he of death and great distress
 may set their souls from dread:
 And if that dearth their land oppress,
 in hunger them to feed.
 20 Wherefore our soul doth whole depend on God our strength and stay:
 He is our shield us to defend,
 and drive all darts away.
 21 Our joyful souls always proclaim his power and his might:
 For why? in his most holy Name
 we hope and much delight.
 22 Therefore let thy goodness, O Lord,
 still present with us be:
 As we always with one accord
 do only trust in thee.

PSAL. XXXIV. T. S.

I Will give laud and honour both unto the Lord always,
 Also my mouth for evermore
 shall speak unto his praise.
 2 I do delight to laud the Lord
 in soul, in heart, and voice:
 That humble men and mortifi'd
 may hear and so rejoyce.
 3 Therefore see that ye magnifie
 with me the living Lord, Let us exalt his holy Name
 always with one accord.
 4 For I my self besought the Lord,
 he answer'd me again,
 And me deliver'd instantly
 from all my fear and pain.
 5 Whoso they be that him behold,
 shall see his light most clear:
 Their countenance shall not be dash
 they need it not to fear.
 6 This poor distressed man for help
 unto the Lord did call,
 Who did him hear without delay,
 and rid him out of thrall.
 7 The angel of the Lord doth pitch
 his tents in every place,
 To save all such as do him fear,
 that nothing them deface.
 8 Taste and consider well therefore,
 that God is good and just:
 O happy man that maketh him
 his only stay and trust.
 9 Fear ye the Lord, ye holy ones,
 above all earthly thing:
 For they that fear the living Lord,
 are sure to lack nothing.
 10 The lions shall be hunger-bit,
 and pin'd with famine much:
 But as for them that fear the Lord,
 no lack shall be to such.

The Second Part.

11 Come near to me, my children dear
 and to my words give ear:
 I will you teach the perfect way,
 how ye the Lord shall fear.
 12 Who is the man that would live long,
 and lead a godly life?
 13 See thou refrain thy tongue and lips
 from all deceit and strife.

Psalm XXXV.

14 Turn back thy face from doing ill,
and do the godly deed:
Enquire for peace and quietness,
and follow it with speed.
15 For why? the eyes of God above
upon the just are bent:
His ears likewise to hear the cry
of the poor innocent.
16 But he doth frown and bend his brows
upon the wicked train:
And cuts away the memory
that should of them remain.
17 But when the just do call and cry,
the Lord doth hear them so,
That out of pain and misery
forthwith he lets them go.
18 The Lord is ever nigh to them
that broken-hearted are:
And for the contrite spirit he salvation doth prepare.
19 Full many be the miseries
that righteous men endure:
But of deliverance from them all the Lord doth them secure.
20 The Lord doth so preserve and keep their very bones alway,
That not so much as one of them
doth perish or decay.
21 The sin shall slay the wicked man,
which he himself hath wrought:
And such as hate the righteous man,
shall soon be brought to nought.
22 But they that fear the living Lord,
are ever safe and sound:
And as for those that trust in him,
nothing shall them confound.

PSAL. XXXV. J. H.

Lord, plead my cause against my foes,
confound their force and might:
And take my part against all those
that seek with me to fight.
2 Lay hand upon the spear and shield,
thy self in armour dress:
Stand up for me and fight the field,
to help me from distress.
3 Gird on thy sword, and stop the way,
mine enemies withstand,
That thou unto my soul mayst say,
I am thy help at hand.
4 Confound them with rebuke and blame,
that seek my soul to spill:
Let them turn back and flee with shame,
that think to work me ill.
5 Let them disperse and flee abroad,
as wind doth drive the dust:
That so the angel of our God
their might away may thrust.
6 Let all their ways be void of light,
and slipp'ry like to fall:
And send thine angel with thy might,
to persecute them all.
7 For why? without my fault they have
in secret set their gin:
And for no cause have digg'd a pit
to take my soul therein.

8 When they think least and have no care
O Lord, destroy them all:
Let them be traps in their own snare,
and in their mischief fall.
9 And let my soul, my heart and voice,
in God have joy and wealth:
That in the Lord I may rejoyce,
and in his saving health.
10 Then all my bones shall speak and say,
my parts shall all agree:
O thou great God of heav'n and earth,
what man is like to thee?

The Second Part.

11 Thou dost defend the weak from them
that are both stout and strong:
And rid the poor from wicked men,
that spoil and do them wrong.
12 My cruel foes again? me rise
to witness things untrue:
And to accuse me they devise
of things I never knew.
13 Where I to them did shew good will,
they quit me with disdain:
That they should pay my good with ill,
my soul doth sore complain.
14 When they were sick I mourn'd therefore my self in sackcloth clad:
With fasting did I faint full sore,
and pray'd with heart most sad.
15 As they had been my brethren dear
I did my self behave:
As one that mourneth heavily about his mothers grave.
16 But they in mine adversity
did gather in a rout:
Yea, abject slaves reproachfull
at me did mock and shout.
17 The belly-gods and flattering train,
that all good things deride,
At me do grin with great disdain,
and pluck their mouths aside.
18 Lord, when wilt thou for me appear?
why dost thou stay and pause?
O rid my soul, mine only dear,
out of these lions claws.

19 And then will I give thanks to thee
before the Church always:
And where most of the people be,
there will I shew thy praise.
20 Let not my foes prevail on me,
which hate me for no fault:
Nor let them wink or turn their eye,
that causeless me assault.

The Third Part.

21 Of peace no word they think or say,
their talk is all untrue:
They still consult and would betray
all those that peace ensue.
22 With open mouth they run at me,
their fury is like fire:
Well, well, say they, our eye doth see
the thing that we desire.
23 But Lord, thou see'st what ways they take
and what they do intend:
Be not far off, nor me forsake,
as men that sell their friend.

Psalm XXXVI, XXXVII.

24 Awake, arise, and stir abroad,
defend me in my right :
Revenge my cause, O Lord my God,
and aid me with thy might.
25 According to thy righteousness,
my Lord God, set me free:
And let them not their pride express,
nor triumph over me.
26 Let not their hearts rejoyce and cry,
even so we would it have:
Nor give them cause to say on high,
he's sunk into the grave.
27 Confound them with rebuke and shame,
that joy when I do mourn :
And pay them home with spite and blame,
that brag at me with scorn.
28 Let them most heartily rejoyce,
which love mine upright way :
Let them all times with heart and voice
still praise the Lord, and say, 29 Great is the Lord, and doth excell,
and he doth much delight
To see his servants prosper well:
it is his pleasant sight.
30 Wherefore my tongue I will apply
thy righteousness to praise:
To thee the Lord my God will I
give laud and thanks always.

PSALM XXXVI. J. H.

THe wicked by his works unjust
doth thus perswade my heart,
That in the Lord he hath no trust,
his fear is set apart.
Yet doth he joy in his estate,
to walk as he began,
So long till he deserve the hate
of God as well as man.
3 His words are wicked, vile and naught,
his tongue no truth doth tell:
Yet at no hand will he be taught
which way he may do well.
4 When he should sleep, then doth he muse,
his mischiefs to fulfil:
No wicked ways doth he refuse,
nor any thing that's ill.
5 But, Lord, thy goodness doth ascend above the heav'ns most high:
So doth thy truth it self extend unto the cloudy skie.
6 Much more than hills so high and steep,
thy justice is express:
Thy judgments like to seas most deep,
thou sav'st both man and beast.
7 Thy mercy is above all things,
O God, it doth excell:
In trust whereof, as in thy wings,
the sons of men shall dwell.
8 Within thy house shall they be fed with plenty at their will:
Of all delights they shall be sped,
and take thereof their fill.
9 Because the well of life most pure
doth ever flow from thee,
And in thy light we are full sure
the lasting light to see.

10 From such as thee desire to know,
let not thy grace depart:
Thy righteousness declare and show
to men of upright heart.
11 Let not the proud on me prevail
O Lord of thy good grace:
Nor let the wicked me assail,
to throw me out of place.
12 But they in their device shall find that wicked works maintaine:
They shall be certainly cast down,
and never rise again.

PSALM XXXVII. W. W.

GRudge not to see the wicked men
in wealth to flourish still:
Nor yet envy such as to ill
have bent and set their will.
2 For as green grafs and the green herbs
are cut and wither away:
So shall their great prosperity
soon pass, fade and decay.
3 Trust thou therefore in God alone
to do well give thy mind:
So shalt thou have the land as thine
and there sure food shalt find.
4 In God set all thy hearts delight,
and look what thou wouldst have
Or else canst wish in all the world,
thou need'st it not to crave.
5 Cast both thy self and thine affairs
on God with perfect trust,
And thou shalt see with patience
th' effect both sure and just.
6 Thy perfect life and godly Name
he will clear as the light:
So that the sun even at noon-day
shall not shine half so bright.
7 Be still therefore, and stedfastly
on God see thou wait then,
Not shrinking for the prosp'rous state
of leud and wicked men.
8 Shake off despite, envy and hate,
let not thine anger rise:
That thou may'st not be drawn into
some wicked enterprise.
9 For every wicked man will God
destroy both more and less:
But such as trust in him are sure
the land for to possess.
10 Wait but a while and thou shalt see
no more the wicked train,
No not so much as house or place
where once he did remain.

The Second Part.

11 But merciful and humble men
enjoy shall sea and land:
In rest and peace they shall rejoyce,
for nought shall them withstand.
12 The leud men and malicious
against the just conspire:
They gnash their teeth at him, as men
which do his bane desire.
13 But while ungodly men thus think,
the Lord laughs them to scorn

Psalm XXXVIII.

For he doth see their terms approach,
when they shall sigh and mourn.

14 The wicked have their sword out drawn,
their bow also is bent,
To overthrow and kill the poor,
whose life is innocent.

15 But the same sword shall pierce their heart
which was to kill the just:

So shall the bow in shivers break
wherein they put their trust.

16 Doubtless the just mans poor estate is to be valued more

Then all the leud and wicked mans
rich pomp and heaped store.

17 For though their power be most strong,
God will it overthrow:

Where contrary he doth preserve
the humble men and low.

18 He sees by his great providence
the good mans trade and way:
And will give them inheritance
which never shall decay.

19 They shall not be discouraged,
when some are hard befeard:

When others shall be hunger-bit,
they shall be clad and fed.

20 For whosoever wicked is,
and enemy to God,

Shall like the fat of lambs consume,
or smook that flies abroad.

The Third Part.

21 Behold the wicked borrows much,
and never pays again:

Whereas the just by lib'ral gifts
the needy doth sustain.

22 For they whom God doth bless shall have the land for heritage:

And they whom he doth curse, likewise
shall perish in his rage.

23 The Lord the just mans steps doth guide
and all his ways doth bless:

To every thing he takes in hand
he giveth good success.

24 Though he do fall, yet is he sure
not utterly to sink:

For God upholds him with his hand,
and from him will not shrink.

25 I have been young, but now am old,
yet did I never see

the just man left, nor yet his seed
to beg for misery.

26 He gives always most lib'ral
and lends where there is need
By which he doth from God secure a blessing to his seed.

27 Flee vice therefore and wickedness,
and vertue do embrace:

So God shall grant thee long to have
on earth a dwelling-place.

28 For God so loveth equity,
and shews to his such grace,
That he preserveth them, but doth
cut off the wicked race.

29 Whereas the good and godly men
inherit shall the land,

Having as lords all things therein
in their own pow'r and hand.

30 The just mans mouth doth ever speak
of matters wise and high:
His tongue doth talk of judgment, and
of truth and equity.

31 For in his heart the law of God
his Lord doth still abide:

So that where-ever he doth go
his foot shall never slide.

32 The wicked like a greedy wolf
the just man doth beset,

By all means seeking him to kill
and take him in his net.

The Fourth Part.

33 But though he fall into his hands,
yet God will succour send:

Though men against him sentence give,
God will him yet defend.

34 Wait thou on God and keep his way,
he shall preserve thee then

The earth to rule, and thou shalt see destroy'd these wicked men.

35 The wicked have I seen most strong,
and plac'd in high degree,

Flourishing in all wealth and store,
as doth the laurel-tree.

36 But suddenly he past away,
and lo he was quite gone:

Then I him sought, but could not find
the place where dwelt such one.

37 Mark and behold the perfect man
how God doth him increase:

For the just man shall have at length
great joy with rest and peace.

38 As for transgressors, wo to them,
destroy'd they all shall be:

God will cut off their budding race,
and rich posterity.

39 But the salvation of the just doth come from God above,

Who in their trouble sends them aid,
of his meer grace and love.

40 God evermore delivers them
from leud men and unjust:

And still will save them whilst that they
in him do put their trust.

PSALM XXXVIII. J. H.

Pitt me not to rebuke, O Lord
in thy provoked ire:

And in thy wrath correct me not
I humbly thee desire.

2 Thine arrows do stick fast in me,
thy hand doth preise me sore:

And in my flesh no health at all appeareth any more.

3 And all this is by reason of thy wrath that I am in:

Not any rest is in my bones
by reason of my sin.

4 For lo, my wicked doings, Lord,
above my head are gone:

A greater load then I can bear,
they lie me sore upon.

Psalm XXXIX, XL.

1 My wounds do stink and are corrupt,
 and loathsom are to see:
 Which all through mine own foolishness
 doth happen unto me.
 2 And I in careful wise am brought into such great distress:
 That I go wailing all the day
 in doleful heaviness.
 3 My loyns are fill'd with sore disease,
 my flesh hath no whole part:
 4 I feeble am and broken sore,
 and roar for grief of heart.
 5 Thou know'st, Lord, my desire, my groans are open in thy sight:
 6 My heart doth pant, my strength doth fail,
 mine eyes have lost their light.
 7 My lovers and my wonted friends
 stand looking on my woe:
 Also my kinsmen far away
 are me departed fro.
 8 They that do seek my life, lay snares,
 and they that go the way
 To do me hurt, speak lies, and think
 on mischief all the day.
 The Second Part.
 9 But as a deaf man I became,
 that cannot hear at all:
 10 And as one dumb, that opens not his mouth to speak withall.
 11 For all my confidence, O Lord,
 is wholly set on thee:
 Therefore, O Lord, that art my God,
 do thou give ear to me.
 12 This do I crave, that they my foes triumph not over me:
 For when my foot doth slip, then they rejoyce my fall to see.
 13 And I am ready for to halt,
 I cannot stand upright:
 Also my grievous heaviness
 is ever in my sight.
 14 For while that I my wickedness
 in humble wise confesse,
 And while I for my sinful deeds
 my sorrows do expresse:
 15 My foes do still remain alive,
 and mighty are also:
 And they that hate me wrongfully,
 in number hugely grow.
 16 They stand against me that my good
 with evil do repay:
 Because that good and honest things
 I do ensue alway.
 17 Forake me not, O Lord my God,
 be thou not far away:
 18 Haste me to help, my Lord, my God,
 my safety and my stay.

PSALM XXXIX. J. H.

I Said, I will look to my ways,
 for fear I should go wrong:
 I will take heed all times that I offend not with my tongue.
 2 As with a bit I will keep fast
 my mouth with force and might,
 Not once to whisper all the while
 the wicked are in sight.

3 I held my tongue and spake no word
 but kept me close and still:
 Yea, from good talk I did refrain,
 but sore against my will.
 4 My heart waxt hot within my breast,
 with musing, thought and doubt,
 Which did increase and stir the fire:
 at last these words burst out,
 5 Lord, number out my life and days
 which yet I have not past,
 So that I may be certin'd
 how long my life shall last.
 6 Lord, thou hast pointed out my life
 in length much like a span:
 Mine age is nothing unto thee,
 so vain is every man.
 7 Man walketh like a shade, and doth
 in vain himself annoy,
 In getting goods and cannot tell
 who shall the same enjoy.
 8 Therefore now, Lord, what wait I for what help do I desire?
 Of truth my help depends on thee,
 I nothing else require.

The Second Part.

9 From all the sins that I have done,
 Lord, quit me out of hand,
 And make me not a scorn to fools
 that nothing understand.
 10 I was as dumb, and to complain
 no trouble might me move:
 Because I knew it was thy work,
 my patience for to prove.
 11 Lord, take from me thy scourge & plague!
 I can them not withstand:
 I faint and pine away for fear
 of thy most heavy hand.
 12 When thou for sin dost man rebuke,
 he waxeth woe and wan,
 As doth a cloth that moths have fret,
 so vain a thing is man.
 13 Lord, hear my suit and give good heed,
 regard my tears that fall:
 I sojourn like a stranger here,
 as did my fathers all.
 14 O spare a little, give me space
 my strength for to restore,
 Before I go away from hence,
 and shall be seen no more.

PSALM XL. J. H.

I Waited long and sought the Lord,
 and patiently did bear:
 At length to me he did accord
 my voice and cry to hear.
 2 He pluckt me from the lake so deep
 out of the mire and clay:
 Upon a rock he set my feet,
 and he did guide my way.
 3 To me he taught a psalm of praise,
 which I must shew abroad,
 And sing new songs of thanks alway
 unto the Lord our God.
 4 When all the folk these things shall see
 as people much afraid,
 Then they unto the Lord will flee
 and trust upon his aid.

Psalm XLI.

5 O blest is he whose hope and heart
doth in the Lord remain,
That with the proud doth take no part,
not such as lies maintain.
6 For, Lord, my God, thy wondrous deeds
in greatness far do pass:
Thy favour towards us exceeds all things that ever was.
7 When intend and do devise thy works abroad to show,
To such a reck'ning they do rise,
thereof no end I know.
8 Burnt-off'rings thou delight'st not in,
I know thy whole desire,
With sacrifice to purge his sin
thou dost no man require.
9 Meat-offerings and sacrifice
thou wouldst not have at all:
But thou, O Lord, hast open made mine ears to hear withall.
10 But then said I, Behold and look,
I come with heart most free:
For in the volume of thy book
thus it is said of me.
11 That I, O God, should do thy mind,
which thing doth please me well:
For in my heart thy law I find
fast placed there to dwell.
12 Thy righteousness and justice I
in great assemblies tell:
Behold, my tongue no time doth cease,
O Lord, thou know'st full well.

The Second Part.

13 I have not hid within my breast
thy goodness as by stealth:
But I declare and have express
thy truth and saving health.
14 I kept not close thy loving mind,
that no man should it know:
The trust that in thy truth I find,
to all the Church I show.
15 Thy tender mercy, Lord, from me withdraw thou not away
but let thy love and verity preserve me every day.
16 For I with many troubles am encompassed about:
My sins so greatly do increase,
I cannot spy them out.
17 For why? in number they exceed the hairs upon my head:
My heart doth faint for very fear,
that I am almost dead.
18 With speed send help and set me free,
O Lord, I thee require:
Make haste with aid to succour me,
O Lord, at my desire.
19 Confound them with rebuke and shame
that seek my soul to spill:
Give back my foes and them defame
that wish me any ill.
20 For their ill feats do them delivery
that would deface my name:
Always at me they rail and cry,
Fie on him, fie for shame.

21 Let them in thee have joy and wealth
that seek to thee always:
That those that love thy saving health
may say, To God be praise.
22 But as for me, I am but poor,
oppress and brought full low:
Yet thou, O Lord, wilt me restore to health, full well I know.
23 For why? thou art my hope and trust
my refuge help and stay:
Wherefore, my God, as thou art just,
with me no time delay.

PSALM XLI. T. S.

THe man is blest that doth provide for such as needy be:
For in the season perilous
the Lord will set him free.
1 The Lord will keep him safe, and make him happy in the land:
And not deliver him into
his enemies strong hand.
2 And from his bed of languishing
the Lord will him restore:
For thou, O Lord, wilt turn to health
his sickness and his sore.
3 Then, in my sickness thus said I,
have mercy, Lord, on me,
And heal my soul which is full wo
that I offended thee.
4 My foes did with me ill in heart,
and thus of me did say,
When shall he die, that so his name
may perish quite away?
5 And when they come to visit me
they ask if I do well:
But in their hearts they mischief hatch
and then abroad it tell.
6 All they that hate me do conspire against me craftily:
And still devise how to procure
my ruine secretly.
7 Some grievous sin hath brought him to this sickness, say they plain:
He is so low that without doubt
he cannot rise again.
8 The man also that I did trust,
with me did use deceit:
Who at my table eat my bread,
the same for me laid wait.
9 Have mercy, Lord, on me therefore
and let me be preserv'd,
That I may render unto them
the things they have deserv'd.
10 By this I know assuredly
to be belov'd of thee, Because my foes no power have to triumph over me.
11 But in my right thou hast me kept,
and it maintained well:
And in thy presence place assign'd
where I shall ever dwell.
12 The Lord the God of Israel
be praised evermore:
Even so be it, Lord, with I say,
Praise ye the Lord therefore.

Psalm XLII, XLIII, XLIV.

P S A L. XLII. J. H.

Like as the hart doth pant and bray
 The well-springs to obtain,
 So doth my soul desire alway
 With thee, Lord, to remain.
 2 My soul doth thirst and would draw near
 The living God of might:
 Oh when shall I come and appear
 In presence of his sight?
 3 The tears all times are my repost
 Which from mine eyes do slide:
 Whilst wicked men cry out so fast,
 Where now is God thy guide?
 4 Alas, what grief is it to think What freedom once I had!
 Therefore my soul as at pits brink
 Most heavy is and sad.
 For I did march in good array,
 With joyful company:
 Into the temple was our way,
 To praise the Lord most High.
 5 My soul why art thou sad alway,
 And frett'st thus in my breast?
 Trust still in God, for him to praise
 I hold it ever best.

7 him I have succour at need
 Against all pain and grief:
 He is my God, which with all speed
 Doth haste to send relief.
 6 My soul within me is cast down,
 Therefore, O Lord, I will Remember thee from Jordans land
 And Hermons little hill.

The Second Part.

7 One grief another in doth call,
 As clouds burst out their voice:
 The floods of evil that do fall,
 Run over me with noise.
 8 Yet I by day felt his goodness,
 And help at all assays:
 Likewise by night I did not cease
 The living God to praise.
 9 I am persuaded thus to say
 To him with reverence,
 O Lord, thou art my guide and stay,
 My rock and sure defence.
 Why do I then in pensiveness
 Hanging the head thus walk,
 While that mine enemies oppress,
 And vex me with their talk?
 10 For why? they pierce my inward parts
 With pains to be abhorr'd,
 When they cry out with stubborn hearts,
 Where is thy God the Lord?
 11 So soon, my soul, why dost thou faint
 With pain and grief oppress?
 Why do sad thoughts without restraint,
 Give rage within my breast?
 12 Trust in the Lord thy God alway,
 And thou the time shalt see
 To give him thanks with laud and praise,
 For health restor'd to thee.

P S A L. XLIII. T. S.

Judge not revenge my cause, O Lord,
 From them that evil be,

From wicked and deceitful men,
 O Lord, deliver me.

2 For of my strength thou art the God,
 Why am I put from thee?
 Why walk I heavily, whilst that
 My foe oppresseth me?
 3 O Lord, send out thy light and truth,
 And lead me with thy grace,
 Which may conduct me to thy hill,
 And to thy dwelling-place.
 4 Then shall I so thine altar go
 With joy to worship there:
 And on my harp give thanks to thee,
 O God my God most dear.
 5 Why art thou then so sad, my soul,
 And frett'st thus in my breast?
 Still trust in God, for him to praise
 I hold it always best.
 6 By him I have deliverance
 Against all pain and grief:
 He is my God which doth alway
 At need send me relief.

P S A L. XLIV. T. S.

Our ears have heard our fathers tell,
 And reverently record
 The wondrous works that thou hast done
 In ancient time, O Lord.
 2 How thou didst drive the Gentiles out,
 With a most powerful hand:
 Planting our fathers in their place,
 And gav'st to them their land.
 3 They conquer'd not by their own sword
 The land wherein they dwell:
 But by thy hand, thy arm and grace:
 Because thou lov'dst them well.
 4 Thou art my King, O God, who sav'st
 Jacob in sundry wise.
 5 Led with thy power, we threw down such
 As did against us rise.
 6 I trusted not in bow nor sword,
 They could not save me sound:
 7 Thou kept'st us from our foes great rage
 Thou didst them all confound.
 8 And still we boast of thee our God,
 And praise thy holy Name:
 9 Yet now thou go'st not with our host
 But leave'st us to shame.
 10 Thou mad'st us flee before our foes,
 So were we overtrod:
 They did us rob, and spoil our goods,
 We were dispers'd abroad.
 11 Thou hast us given to our foes,
 As sheep for to be slain:
 Amongst the heathen every where Scatter'd we do remain.
 12 Thy people thou hast sold like slaves,
 And as a thing of nought:
 For profit none thou hadst thereby,
 No gain at all was sought.
 13 And to our neighbours thou hast made
 Of us a laughing-stock:
 And those that round about us dwell,
 At us do grin and mock.

Psalm XLV, XLVI.

The Second Part.

- 14 Thus we serve for no other use,
but for a common talk:
They mock, they scorn, they nod their heads
where-e'r they go or walk.
- 15 With shame and great confusion
I am afflicted sore:
As so I blush that all my face
with red is cover'd o're.
- 16 For why? we hear such slanderous words,
such false reports and lies:
That death it is to see their wrongs,
their threatnings and their cries.
- 17 For all this we forgot not thee,
nor yet thy cov'nant brake:
- 18 We turn not back our hearts from thee,
nor yet thy paths forsake.
- 19 Yet thou hast trod us down to dust,
where dens of dragons be,
And cover'd us with shade of death,
and great adversity.
- 20 If we God's Name forgotten have,
and help of idols sought,
- 21 Shall he not search and find this out
for he doth know our thought.
- 22 But 'tis for thy Names sake, O Lord,
we always are slain thus:
As sheep unto the shambles sent,
even so they deal with us.
- 23 Up Lord, why sleepest thou? wake,
for ever leave us not:
- 24 Why hidest thou thy countenance?
our thrall thou hast forgot.
- 25 For down to dust our soul is brought,
our troubles come so fast:
Our belly, like as it were gl'd,
unto the ground cleaves fast.
- 26 Rise up therefore for our defense
and help us, Lord, at need:
We thee beseech for thy goodness
to rescue us with speed.

PSAL. XLV. J. H.

- MY heart doth take in hand
some godly song to sing:
The praise that I shall shew therein pertaineth to the king.
- 2 My tongue shall be as quick
his honour to indite,
As is the pen of any scribe
that useth fast to write.
- 3 O fairest of all men,
thy speech is pleasant pure:
For God hath blessed thee with gifts
for ever to endure.
- 4 About thee gird thy sword,
O prince of might elect:
With honour, glory and renown
thou art most richly deckt.
- 5 Go forth with godly speed,
with meekness, truth and right:
And thy right hand shall thee instruct in works of dreadful might.
- 6 Thine arrows sharp and keen
their hearts so sore shall sting:
That folk shall fall and kneel to thee
yea, all thy foes, O king.

- 7 Thy royal seat, O Lord
for ever shall remain:
Because the sceptre of thy realm
doth righteousness maintain.
- 8 Because thou lov'st the right,
and dost the ill detest,
Therefore hath God anointed thee
with joy above the rest.
- 9 With mirth and favours sweet
thy clothes are all bespread:
When thou dost from thy palace pass,
thereby to make thee glad.
- 10 Kings daughters do attend
in fine and rich array:
At thy right hand the queen doth stand
in gold and garments gay.

The Second Part.

- 11 O daughter take good heed,
incline and give good ear:
Thou must forget thy kindred all,
and fathers house most dear.
- 12 Then shall the king desire thy beauty fair and trim
For why? he is the Lord thy God,
and thou must worship him.
- 13 The daughters then of Tyre,
with gifts full rich to see,
And all the wealthy of the land shall make their suit to thee.
- 14 The daughter of the king
is glorious to behold:
Within her closet she doth sit
all deckt in beaten gold.
- 15 In robes with needle wrought,
and many pleasant thing:
With virgins fair on her to wait,
she cometh to the king.
- 16 Thus are they brought with joy
and mirth on every side,
Into the palace of the king,
and there they do abide.
- 17 In stead of parents left,
(O queen, the case so stands)
Thou shalt have sons whom thou mayest set as princes in all lands.
- 18 Wherefore thy holy Name
all ages shall record:
The people shall give thanks to thee
for evermore, O Lord.

PSAL. XLVI. J. H.

- THe Lord is our defence and aid,
the strength whereby we stand:
When we with wo are much dismay'd,
he is our help at hand.
- 2 Though the earth move, we will not fear
though mountains high and steep,
Be thrust and hurled here and there
within the sea so deep.
- 3 No, though the sea do rage so sore
that all the banks it spils:
And though it overflow the shore,
and beat down mighty hills.
- 4 For one fair fount doth send abroad
his pleasant streams apace,
To fresh the city of our God
and wash his holy place.

Psalm XLVII, XLVIII, XLIX.

In midst of her the Lord doth dwell,
He can no whit decay:
All things against her that rebell
The Lord will surely slay.
The heathen folk and kingdoms fear,
The people make a noise:
The earth doth melt, and not appear,
When God puts forth his voice.

The Lord of hosts doth take our part,
To us he hath an eye:
Our hope of health with all our heart
On Jacobs God doth lie.
Come here and see with mind and thought
The working of our God:
What wonders he himself hath wrought
In all the world abroad.

By him all wars are hushed and gone,
Though countreys did conspire:
Their bows and spears he brake each one,
Their chariots burnt with fire.
Be still therefore, and know that I Am God, and therefore will Among the heathen people be Highly exalted still.

The Lord of hosts doth us defend,
He is our strength and tower:
On Jacob's God we do depend,
And on his might and power.

PSAL. XLVII. J. H.

Ye people all with one accord
Clap hands and much rejoyce:
Be glad and sing unto the Lord
With sweet and pleasant voice.
For high the Lord and dreadful is,
His wonders manifold:
Mighty King he is truly,
In all the earth extoll'd.

The people shall he make to be Unto our bondage thrall:
And underneath our feet shall he,
The nations make to fall.
For us the heritage he chose
Which we possess alone,
The excellency of Jacob
His well beloved one.

Our God ascended up on high
With joy and pleasant noise,
The Lord goes up above the sky
With trumpets royal voice.
Sing praises to our God, sing praises
Sing praises to our King:
For God is King of all the earth,
All skilful praises sing.

God on the heathen reigns, and sits
Upon his holy throne:
The princes of the people have Them joyned every one
To Abrahams people: for our God,
Which is exalted high,
With a buckler doth defend
The earth continually.

PSAL. XLVIII. J. H.

Great is the Lord, and with great praise
To be advanced shall

Within the city of our God,
Upon his holy hill.

Mount Sion is a pleasant place,
It gladdeth all the land:

The city of the mighty King
On her north-side doth stand.

Within the palaces thereof
God is a refuge known:

For lo, the kings are gather'd, and Together they are gone.

But when they did behold it so They wondred, and they were Astonisht much, and suddenly
Were driven back with feat.

Great terrour there on them did fall
For very wo they cry,
As doth a woman when she shall Go travail instantly.

As thou with eastern wind the ship
Upon the sea dost break,
They were destroy'd: and even as we Have heard our fathers speak

So in the city of the Lord
We saw as it was told,
Yea, in the city which our God
For ever will uphold.

O Lord, we wait and do depend
On thy good help and grace:
For which we do all times attend
Within thy holy place.

O Lord, according to thy Name
For ever is thy praise
And thy right hand, O Lord is full Of righteousness always.

Let, for thy judgments, Sion mount Fulfilled be with joy:
Also of Judah grant, O Lord,
The daughters to rejoyce.

Go walk about all Sion hill,
Yea, round about her go,
And tell the towers that there
Are builded on a row.

And mark ye well her bulwarks,
Behold her towers there:
That ye may tell thereof to them
That after shall be here.

For this most mighty God, our God
For evermore is he:
Yea, and unto the death also
Our guider shall he be.

PSAL. XLIX. J. H.

All people hearken and give ear
To that which I shall tell,

Both high and low, both rich and poor
That in the world do dwell.

For why? my mouth shall make discourse
Of many things right wise:
In understanding shall mine heart
Its study exercise.

I will incline mine ear to know
The parable so dark:
And open all my doubtful speech
In metre on my harp.

Why should I fear affliction,
Or any cruel rage?

Psalm L.

1 Or else my foes which at my heels
 are profit my life to spoil?
 2 For as for such as riches have,
 wherein their trust is most,
 3 And they which of their treasures great themselves do brag and boast, 4 There is not one of them that can
 his brother's life redeem,
 Or give a ransom unto God
 sufficient for him.
 5 It is too great a price to pay,
 none can thereto attain:
 6 So that he might his life prolong,
 or not in grave remain.
 7 They see wise men, as well as fools,
 subject unto death's bands:
 And being dead, strangers possess
 their houses, goods, and lands.
 8 Their care is to build houses fair,
 and so determine sure
 To make their names upon the earth
 for ever to endure.
 9 Yet shall no man always enjoy high honour, wealth and rest, 10 But shall at length taste of death's cup,
 as well as the brute beast.

The Second Part.

11 And tho' they find their foolish thoughts
 to be most leud and vain:
 Their children yet approve their talk,
 and in like sin remain.
 12 As sheep into the fold are brought,
 they shall be laid in grave:
 Death shall them eat, and in that day
 the just shall lordship have.
 13 Their beauty and their royal port shall fade and quite decay,
 When from their house unto the pit
 with wo they pass away.
 14 But God will surely me preserve
 from death and endless pain:
 Because he will of his good grace
 my soul receive again.
 15 If any man grow wondrous rich,
 be not afraid therefore:
 Although the glory of his house
 increaseth more and more.
 16 For when he dies, of all these things
 nothing shall he receive.
 His glory will not follow him,
 his pomp will take his leave.
 17 Yet in this life he counts himself
 the happiest under sun:
 And others likewise flatter him,
 saying, All is well done.
 18 But yet if he should live as long as did his fathers old,
 Yet must he needs at length give place,
 and be brought to death's fold.
 19 Man that in honour lives, and doth not understand, may be Compar'd unto the very beasts,
 that perish utterly.

PSALM L. W.W.

THe mighty God,
 th' eternal hath thus spoke,
 And all the world
 he will call and provoke:
 Even from the east,
 and so forth to the west.
 2 From towards Sion,
 which place he liketh best,
 God will appear
 in beauty most excellent:
 Our God will come
 before long time be spent.
 3 Devouring fire
 shall go before his face,
 A great tempest
 shall round about him trace.
 4 Then shall he call
 the earth and heavens bright,
 To judge his folk
 with equity and right:
 5 Saying, Go ye,
 and now my saints assemble,
 My part they keep,
 their gifts do not dissemble.
 6 The heavens shall declare his righteousness:
 For God is Judge
 of all things more and less, 7 Hear, my people,
 for I will now reveal,
 Like Israel
 I'm from thee nought conceal.
 Thy God, thy God
 am I, and will not blame thee 8 For giving not
 all manner offerings to me.
 9 I have no need to take of thee at all Goats of thy fold,
 or calf out of thy stall:
 10 For all the beasts
 are mine within the woods:
 On thousand hills
 cartel are mine own goods:
 11 I know for mine
 all birds that are on mountains.
 All beasts are mine
 which haunt the fields and fountains 12 Hungry if I were,
 I would not thee it tell:
 For all is mine
 that in the world doth dwell.
 13 Eat I the flesh
 of great bulls or bullocks?
 Or drink the blood
 of goats, or of the flocks?
 14 Offer to God
 praise and hearty thanksgiving,
 And pay thy vows
 unto God everliving.
 15 Call upon me
 when troubled thou shalt be:
 Then will I help,
 and thou shalt honour me.

Psalm L.

6 To the wicked
thus saith th' eternal God,
why dost thou preach
my laws and holts abroad:
17 Seeing thou hast
thou with thy mouth abused,
And hat'st to be
by discipline reformed?
My words, I say,
thou dost reject and hate:
18 If that thou see
a thief, as with thy mate,
Thou run'st with him,
and so your prey seek out,
And art all one
with the adult'rous rout.
19 Thou giv'st thy self
to backbite and to slander:
And how thy tongue
deceives, it is a wonder.
20 Thou sitt'st musing
thy brother how to blame,
And how to put
thy mothers son to shame.
21 These things thou didst,
and whilst I held my tongue,
Thou didst me judge,
because I staid so long,
Like to thy self:
yet though I keep long silence,
Once shalt thou feel
of thy wronges just recompence.
22 Consider this
ye that forget the Lord,
And fear not when
he threatneth with his word:
Lest without help
I spoil you as a prey.
23 But he that thanks
offereth, praiseth me ay,
saith the Lord God:
and he that walketh this trace
I will him reach
Gods saving health to embrace.

Another of the same by J. H.

THe God of gods, the Lord,
hath call'd the earth by name:
From whence the Sun doth rise, unto
the setting of the same.
1 From Sion his fair place,
his glory bright and clear,
The perfect beauty of his grace,
from thence it did appear.
2 Our God shall come in haste,
to speak he shall not doubt:
Before him shall the fire waste,
and tempest round about.
3 The heavens from on high,
the earth below likewise
He will call forth to judge and try,
the people that are his.
4 Bring forth my saints, saith he,
my faithfull flock so dear:
Which are in band and league with me
my law to love and fear,

6 And when these things are end,
then shall the heav'ns record,
That God is just, and all multibide
the judgment of the Lord.
7 My people, O give heed,
Israel to thee I cry:
I am thy God, thy help at need,
thou can'st it not deny.
8 I do not say to thee
thy sacrifice is slack:
Thou offerest daily unto me
much more then I do lack.
9 Think'st thou that I do need thy cattel young or old?
Or else so much desire to feed
on goats out of thy fold?
10 Nay, all the beasts are mine,
in woods that eat their fill:
And thousands more of neat and kine
that run wild on the hills.

The Second Part.

11 The birds that build on high,
in hills and out of sight:
And beasts that in the fields do lie,
are subject to my might.
12 Then though I hungered sore,
what need I ought of thine,
Since that the earth with her great store,
and all therein is mine?
13 To bulls flesh have I mind
to eat it dost thou think?
Or such a sweetness do I find
the bloud of goats to drink?
14 Give to the Lord his praise,
with thanks to him apply:
And see thou pay thy vows always unto the God most high.
15 Then seek and call to me,
when ought would work thee blame:
And I will sure deliver thee,
that thou mayst praise my Name.
16 But to the wicked train,
which talk of God each day,
And yet their works are foul and vain
to them the Lord will say, 17 With what face dar'st thou
my word once speak or name?
Why dost thy talk my law allow,
thy deeds deny the same?
18 Whereas for to amend thy life thou art so slack:
My word the which thou dost pretend is cast behind thy back.

The Third Part.

19 When thou a thief dost see
by theft to live in wealth,
With him thou run'st and dost
likewise to thrive by stealth.
20 When thou dost them behold
that wives and maids defile, Thou lik'st it well, and waxest bold
to use that life most vile.

1 Thy lips thou dost apply
 to slander and defame:
 Thy tongue doth teach to cheat and lie,
 and still doth use the same.
 Thou studiest to revile
 thy friends to thee so near:
 With slander thou wouldst needs defile
 thy mothers son most dear.
 23 Herest while I do wink,
 as though I did not see,
 Thou go'st on still, and so dost think that I am like to thee.
 24 But sure I will not let
 to strike, when I begin:
 Thy faults in order I will set,
 and open all thy sin.

25 Mark this I you require,
 that have not God in mind:
 Lest when I plague you in mine ire,
 your help be far to find.
 26 He that doth give to me
 the sacrifice of praise, Doth please me well, and he shall see
 to walk in godly ways.

PSALM LI. W.W.

O Lord, consider my distress,
 and now with speed some pity take:
 My sins deface, my faults redress.

2 good Lord, for thy great mercies sake.
 3 Wash me, O Lord, and make me clean
 from this unjust and sinful act,
 And purifie me once again
 from this foul crime and bloody fact.

4 Remorse and sorrow do constrain
 me to acknowledge mine excess:
 My sin alas doth still remain
 before my face without release.
 5 Against thee only I have sinn'd,
 committing evil in thy sight:
 And if I should no mercy find,
 yet were thy judgments just and right.

6 It is too manifest alas
 that first I was conceiv'd in sin:
 Yea, of my mother so born was,
 and yet, vile wretch, remain therein.
 7 Also behold, Lord, thou dost love
 the inward truth of a pure heart:
 Therefore thy wisdom from above
 thou hast reveal'd me to convert.

8 If thou with hyssop purge this blot,
 I shall be cleaner than the glass:
 And if thou wash away my spot,
 the snow in whiteness shall I pass.
 9 Therefore, O Lord, such joy me send,
 that I may praise thee with my voice:
 And that my strength may now amend,
 and broken bones also rejoice.

10 Turn back thy face and frowning ire,
 for I have felt enough thy hand:
 And purge my sins, I thee desire,
 which do in number pass the sand.
 11 Make new my heart within my breast,
 and frame it to thy holy will:
 and let thy Spirit in me rest,
 which may my soul with comfort fill.

The Second Part.

11 Cast me not, Lord, out from thy sight,
 but speedily my torments end:
 Take not from me thy holy spirit,
 which may from dangers me defend.

12 Restore me to those joys again
 which I was wont in thee to find:
 Let me thy free Spirit retain,
 which unto thee may stir my mind.

13 Thus when I shall thy mercies know
 I shall instruct others therein:
 And men that are likewise brought low
 by mine example shall flee sin.

14 O God, that of my health art Lord,
 forgive me this my bloody vice:
 My heart and tongue shall then accord
 to sing thy mercies and justice.

15 Touch thou my lips, my tongue untie,
 O Lord, which art the only key:
 And then my mouth shall testify
 thy wondrous works and praise alway.

16 And as for outward sacrifice,
 I would have offer'd many one:
 But thou esteem'st them of no price,
 and therein pleasure takest none.

17 The heavy heart, the mind oppress'd,
 O Lord, thou never dost reject:
 Because in truth, it is the best,
 and of all sacrifice th' effect.

18 Lord, unto Sion turn thy face,
 pour out thy mercies on thy hill,
 And on Jerusalem thy grace,
 build up the walls, and love it still.

19 Thou shalt accept then our offering,
 of peace and righteousness alway,
 Yea, calves and many other things,
 upon thine altar will we lay.

Another of the same by J. H.

HAVE mercy on me, Lord, after thy great abounding grace:
 After thy mercies multitude
 do thou my sins deface.

2 Yea, wash me clean from mine offence,
 and mine iniquity:
 For I do own my faults, and still
 my sin is in mine eye.

3 Against thee, thee alone I have offended in this case:
 And evil have I done before
 the presence of thy face:

4 That in the things which thou hast done
 upright thou may'st appear:
 And when thou judgest all may see,
 that thou art very clear.

5 Behold, in wickedness my kind and shape I did receive:
 My sinful mother at the first
 in sin did me conceive.

6 But lo, truth in the inward part,
 is pleasant unto thee;
 And secrets of thy wisdom thou revealed hast to me.

7 With hyssop, Lord, besprinkle me,
 I shall be cleansed so

Psalm LII, LIII, LVII.

Yea, wash thou me, and so I shall be whiter then the snow.
2 Of joy and gladness make thou me
to hear the pleasant voice:
That so the bones which thou O Lord,
hast broken, may rejoyce.
3 From the beholding of my sins,
Lord, turn away thy face:
And all my deeds of wickedness
do utterly deface.
4 O God, create in me a heart
unspotted in thy sight:
Within my bowels, Lord, renew
a firm and stable spirit.
5 Cast me not from thy sight, nor take thy holy Spirit away:
The comfort of thy saving health
give me again, I pray.
6 With thy free Spirit establish me and I will teach therefore Sinners thy ways, that so they may turn to thee evermore.

The Second Part.

7 O God that art God of my health,
from blood deliver me:
That praises of thy righteousness
my tongue may sing to thee.
8 My lips that yet fast closed be,
do thou O Lord, unloose:
The praises of thy Majesty
my mouth shall then disclose.
9 I would have offer'd sacrifice,
if that had pleased thee:
But pleased with burnt-offerings
I know thou wilt not be.
10 A troubled spirit is sacrifice delightful in Gods eyes:
A broken and an humble heart
Lord, thou wilt not despise.
11 In thy good will deal gently, Lord,
to Sion, and withall, Grant that of thy Jerusalem
uprear'd may be the wall.
12 Burnt-off'rings, gifts, and sacrifice of justice in that day Thou shalt accept, and calves they shall upon thine altar lay.

P S A L. LII. J. H.

Why dost thou tyrant boast abroad
thy wicked works to praise?
Dost thou not know there is a God,
whose mercies last always?
1 Why doth thy mind yet still devise such wicked wiles to warp?
Thy tongue untrue in forging lies,
is like a rasour sharp.
2 On mischief why sett'st thou thy mind,
and wilt not walk upright?
Thou hast more lust false tales to find
than bring the truth to light.
3 Thou dost delight in fraud and guile,
in mischief, blood, and wrong:
Thy lips have learn'd the flattering style,
O false deceitful tongue.

4 Therefore the Lord shall thee confound,
and pluck thee from thy place,
Thy seed root out from off the ground,
and utterly deface.
5 The just when they behold thy fall,
with fear will praise the Lord,
And in reproach of thee withall
cry out with one accord.
6 Behold the man that would not take the Lord for his defence:
But of his goods his God did make,
and trust his corrupt sense.
7 But I as olive fresh and green shall spring and spread abroad:
For why? my trust all times hath been upon the living God.
8 For this therefore will I give praise
to thee with heart and voice:
I will advance thy Name a'ways,
wherein thy saints rejoyce.

P S A L. LIII. T.S.

The foolish man within his heart
blasphemously hath said,
There is not any God at all,
why should we be afraid?
1 They are corrupt and they also a haious work have wrought Among them all there is not one of good that worketh ought.
2 The Lord lookt down from heav'n upon
the sons of men below,
To see if any were that sought
the living God to know.
3 They are all gone out of the way;
they are corrupted all:
There is not any that doth good,
there is not one at all.
4 Do not all wicked workers know:
that they do feed upon
My people, as they feed on bread?
the Lord they call not on.
5 Even there they were afraid, and stood with trembling all dismay'd, Whereas there was no cause at all
why they should be afraid.
6 For God his bones that thee besieg'd hath scatter'd all abroad:
He hath confounded them, for they rejected are of God.
7 O Lord, give thou thy people health,
and thou, O Lord, fulfill Thy promise made to Israel,
from out of Sion hill.
8 When God his people shall restore,
that once were captive led,
Then Jacob shall therein rejoyce,
and Israel be glad.

P S A L. LIV. J. H.

God, save me for thy holy Name,
and for thy goodness sake:
Unto the strength, Lord, of the same,
I do my cause betake.

Psalm LV.

1 Regard, O Lord, and give an ear
to me, when I do pray :
Bow down thy self to me, and hear
the words that I do say.
2 For strangers up against me rise,
and tyrants vex me still :
Which have not God before their eyes,
they seek my soul to spill.
3 But lo, my God doth give me aid,
the Lord is straight at hand :
With them by whom my soul is staid,
the Lord doth never stand.
4 With plagues repay again all those
for me that lie in wait :
And in thy truth destroy my foes
with their own snare and bait.
5 An offering of free heart and will then I to thee shall make,
And praise thy Name, for therein still great comfort I do take.
6 Thou, Lord, at length hast set me free
from them that craft conspire :
And now mine eye with joy doth see
on them my hearts desire.

P S A L. LV. J. H.

God give ear, and do apply
to hear me when I pray :
And when to thee I call and cry,
hide not thy self away.
2 Take heed to me, grant my request,
and answer me again :
With grief I pray full sore oppress,
sorrow doth me constrain.
3 Because my foes with threats and cries,
oppress me through despight :
And so the wicked sort likewise
to vex me have delight.
4 For they in counsel do conspire
to charge me with some ill,
And in their hasty wrath and ire
they do pursue me still.
5 My heart doth faint for want of breath,
it panteth in my breast :
The terrors, and the dread of death,
do work me much unrest.
6 Such dreadful fear on me doth fall,
that I therewith do quake :
Such horror overwhelmeth me,
that I no shift can make.
7 But I did say, Who will give me
the swift and pleasant wings
Of some fair dove, that I may flee,
and rest me from these things ?
8 Lo, then I would go far away,
to lie I would not cease :
And I would hide my self, and stay
in some great wilderness.
9 I would be gone in all the haste,
and not abide behind :
Till I were quit and overpast
these blasts of boistrous wind.
10 Divide them, Lord, and from them pull
their false and double tongue :
For I have spi'd their city full
Of envie, strife, and wrong.

11 Which things both night & day through-
inclose her as a wall :
In midst of her is mischief wrought,
and sorrow great withall.

12 Her inward parts are wicked plain,
her deeds are much too vile :
And in her streets there doth remain
nothing but fraud and guile.

The Second Part.

13 If that my foes did seek my shame,
I might it well abide :
Because from all their check and blame
somewhere I could me hide.
14 But thou it was my fellow dear,
which friendship didst pretend,
And didst my secret counsel hear,
as my familiar friend.
15 With whom I had delight to walk
in secret and abroad,
And we together oft did walk
unto the house of God.
16 Let death in haste upon them fall,
and send them quick to hell :
For mischief doth abide in all the places where they dwell.
17 But I unto my God will cry,
to him for help I flee :
The Lord will help me instantly
and he will succour me.
18 At morning, noon, and evening-tide
unto the Lord I pray :
When I so constantly have cri'd,
he did not say me nay.
19 To peace he shall restore me yet,
though war be now at hand :
Although the number be full great,
that would against me stand.
20 The Lord that first and last doth reign
both now and evermore,
Will hear when I to him complain,
and punish them full sore.
21 For sure there is no hope that they
to turn will once accord :
For why ? they will not God obey,
nor yet do fear the Lord.
22 Upon their friends they laid their hands,
which were in covenant knit :
Of friendship to neglect the bands
they do not care one whit.
23 While they have war within their hearts,
as bitter are their words :
And though they were as soft as oyl,
they cut as sharp as swords.
24 Cast thou thy care upon the Lord,
and he shall nourish thee :
For in no wise he will accord
the just in thrall to see.
25 But God shall cast them deep in pit
that thirst for blood always :
He will no guileful man permit
to live out half his days.
26 Though such be quite destroy'd and gone,
on him is all my stay :
I will depend his grace upon,
with all my heart alway.

P S A L.

Psalm LVI, LVII, LVIII.

PSAL. LVI. J. H.

HAve mercy, Lord, on me, I pray,
for man would me devour:
He fighteth with me day by day,
and troubleth me each hour.
2 My foes do daily enterprise
to swallow me out-right:
To fight against me many rise,
O thou most High of might.
3 When they would make me most afraid
with boasts and brags of pride,
I trust in thee alone for aid,
by thee I will abide.
4 Gods promise I do mind and praise,
O Lord, I stick to thee:
I do not care at all assays,
what flesh can do to me.
5 What things I either did or spoke,
they wrest them at their will:
And all the counsel that they take
is how to work me ill.
6 They all consent themselves to hide,
close watch for me to lay:
They spy my paths, and snares have t'ed
to take my life away.
7 Shall they thus scape on mischief set thou God on them wilt frown:
For in thy wrath thou dost not let,
to throw whole kingdoms down.
Thou see'st how oft they made me flee,
and on my tears dost look:
Reserve them in a glass by thee,
and write them in thy book.
8 When I do call upon thy Name,
my foes away do start:
I well perceive it by the same,
that God doth take my part.
9 I glory in the word of God,
to praise it I accord:
With joy I will declare abroad
the promise of the Lord.
10 I trust in God the Lord, and say,
as I before began,
The Lord he is my help and stay,
I do not care for man.
11 I will perform with heart most free,
my vows to God always:
And I, O Lord, all times to thee
will offer thanks and praise.
12 My soul from death thou dost defend,
and keep'st my feet upright:
That I before thee may ascend
with such as live in light.

PSAL. LVII. J. H.

TAke pity for thy promise sake,
have mercy, Lord, on me:
For why? my soul doth her besake
unto the help of thee.
2 Within the shadow of thy wings,
I set my self full fast,
Till mischief, malice, and like things
be gone and overpast.
3 I call upon the God most high,
to whom I stick and stand:

I mean the God that will stand by the cause I have in hand.
4 For he from heav'n hath sent his aid,
to save me from their spite,
That to devour me have assaid,
his mercy, truth, and might.
5 I lead my life with lions fell,
all set on wrath and ire:
And with such wicked men I dwell,
that fret like flames of fire,
6 Their teeth are spears and arrows long as sharp as I have seen:
They wound & cut with their quick tongue
like swords and weapons keen.
7 Set up and shew thy self, O God,
above the heav'ns most bright:
Exalt thy praise on earth abroad,
thy Majesty and might.
8 They laid their net and did prepare a privy cave and pit:
Wherein they thought my soul to snare:
but they are fall'n in it.
9 My heart is set to laud the Lord,
in him to joy always:
My heart doth ever well accord
to sing his laud and praise.
10 Awake my joy, awake, I say,
my lute, my harp and string:
And I my self, before the day,
will rise, rejoyce, and sing.
11 Among the people, I will tell
the goodness of my God,
And shew his praise that doth excell
in heathen lands abroad, 12 His mercy doth extend as far as the heav'ns all are high:
His truth as high as any star
that shineth in the skie.
13 Set forth and shew thy self, O God,
above the heav'ns most bright:
Extol thy self on earth abroad,
thy Majesty and might.

PSAL. LVIII. J. H.

YE rulers that are put in trust
to judge of wrong and right,
Be all your judgments true and just,
regarding no mans might:
2 Nay, in your hearts ye mark and muse
in mischief to consent,
And where ye should true justice use,
your hands to bribes are bent.
3 The wicked sort from their birth-day
have erred on this wise:
And from their mothers womb alway
have used craft and lies.
4 In them the poyson and the breath
of serpents do appear:
Yes, like the adder that is deaf,
and fast doth stop her ear.
5 Because she will not hear the voice
of one that charmeth well:
No, though he were the chief of choice
and did therein excell.
6 The teeth, O Lord, which fall are set in their mouth round about

Psalm LIX, LX.

The lions teeth that are so great,
do thou, Lord, break them out.
7 Let them consume away and waste,
as water runs forth-right,
The shafts that they do shoot in haste,
let them be broke in flight.
8 As snails do waste within the shell,
and unto slime do run,
As one before his time that fell,
and never saw the sun.
9 Before the thornes that now are young,
to bushes big shall grow,
The storms of anger waxing strong,
shall take them ere they know.
10 The just shall joy, it doth them good,
that God doth vengeance take,
And they shall wash their feet in blood
of them that him forsake.
11 Then shall the world shew forth & tell,
that good men have reward,
And that a God on earth doth dwell,
that justice doth regard.

P S A L. LIX. J. H.

S End aid, and save me from my foes,
O Lord, I pray to thee: Defend and keep me from all those
that rise and live with me.
2 O Lord, preserve me from those men,
whose doings are not good:
And set me sure and safe from them
that thirst still after blood.
3 For lo, they wait my soul to take,
they rage against me still:
Yea, for no fault that I did make,
I never did them ill.
4 They run and do themselves prepare,
when I no whit offend:
Arise and save me from their snare,
and see what they intend.
5 Arise, O God of Israel
smite every heathen land:
And pity none that do rebel,
and in their mischief stand.
6 At night they stir and seek about like dogs they howl also:
And all the city clean throughout,
from place to place they go.
7 They speak of me with mouth alway,
but in their lips are swords:
They have contriv'd my death, and say,
what? none doth hear our words.
8 But, Lord, thou hast their ways espi'd,
and thou shalt them disgrace:
The heathen folk thou dost decide,
and mock them to their face.
9 The strength that doth our foes withstand,
O Lord, doth come from thee:
My God, he is my help at hand,
a fort and fence to me.
10 The Lord to me doth shew his grace
in great abundance still,
That I may see my foes in case
such as my heart doth will.

The Second Part.

11 Destroy them not at once, O Lord,
lest it from mind do fall:
But with thy strength drive them abroad,
and so consume them all.
12 For their ill words and truthlesse tongue
confound them in their pride:
Their wicked oaths with lies and wrong
let all the world deride.
13 Consume them in thy wrath, O Lord,
that nought of them remain:
That men may know throughout the world
that Jacobs God doth reign.
14 At evening they return apace,
as dogs they grin and cry:
Throughout the streets in every place
they run about and spy.
15 They seek about for meat alway,
but let them not be fed:
Nor find a house wherein they may be bold to put their head.
16 But I will shew thy strength abroad,
thy goodness I will praise:
For thou art my defence and God
at need in all assays.
17 Thou art my strength, thou hast me staid
O Lord, I sing to thee:
Thou art my fort, my fence, and aid,
a loving God to me.

P S A L. LX. J. H.

O Lord, thou didst us clean forsake,
and scatter all abroad:
Such great displeasure thou didst take,
return to us, O God.
1 Thy might did move the Land so sore
that it in sunder brake:
The hurt thereof, O Lord, restore,
for it doth bow and quake.
2 With heavy things thou plaguest thus
the people that are thine:
And thou hast given unto us
a drink of deadly wine.
3 But yet to such as fear thy Name
a banner thou dost shew:
That they may triumph in the same,
because thy Word is true.
4 So that thy might may keep and save
thy folk that favour thee:
That they thy help at hand may have,
O Lord, grant this to me.
5 The Lord did speak from his own place
this was his joyful tale,
I will divide Sichem by pace,
and mete out Succoths vale.
6 Gilead is giv'n to my hand,
Manasses mine beside:
Ephraim the strength of all my land,
my Law doth Judah guide.
7 In Moab I will wash my feet,
o'er Edom throw my shoe:
And thou Palestine ought'st to seek
for favour unto me.
8 But who will bring me at this tide unto this city strong?

Psalm LXI, LXII, LXIII.

Or who to Edom will me guide,
 so that I go not wrong?
 10 Lord, wilt not thou, which did'st forsake
 thy folk, their land, and coasts,
 Our wars in hand thou wouldst not take,
 nor walk among our hosts.
 11 Give aid, O Lord, and us relieve from them that us disdain:
 The help that hosts of men can give,
 is all but weak and vain.
 12 But through our God we shall have might
 to take great things in hand:
 He will tread down and put to flight
 all those that us withstand.

PSAL. LXI. J. H.

Regard, O Lord, for I complain,
 and make my suit to thee:
 Let not my words return in vain,
 but give an ear to me.
 2 From out the coasts and utmost parts
 of all the earth abroad,
 In grief and anguish of my heart
 I cry to thee, O God.
 3 Upon the rock of thy great pow'r,
 my woful mind repose:
 Thou art my hope, my fort and tow'r,
 my fence against my foes.
 4 Within thy tent I long to dwell,
 for ever to endure:
 Under thy wings I know right well,
 I shall be safe and sure.
 5 The Lord doth my desire regard,
 and doth fulfill the same:
 With riches great will he reward
 all those that fear his Name.
 6 The king shall he in health maintain,
 and so prolong his days:
 That he from age to age shall reign,
 with honour great always.
 7 That he may have a dwelling-place
 before the Lord alway:
 O let thy mercy, truth, and grace,
 defend him from decay.
 8 Then shall I sing for ever still,
 with praise unto thy Name:
 That all my vows I may fulfill,
 and daily pay the same.

PSAL. LXII. J. H.

My soul to God shall give good heed,
 and him alone attend:
 For why? my health and hope to speed
 doth whole on him depend.
 2 For he alone is my defence,
 my rock, my health, and aid:
 He is my stay, that no pretence
 shall make me much dismayed.
 3 O wicked folk, how long will ye use craft? sure ye must fall:
 For as a rotten hedge ye be,
 and like a tott'ring wall.
 Whom God doth love, ye seek always
 to put him to the worse:
 Ye love to lie, with mouth ye praise,
 and yet your heart doth curse.

5 Yet still my soul doth whole depend on God my chief desire:
 From all ill fears me to defend,
 none but him I require.
 6 He is my rock, my fort and tow'r,
 my health is of his grace:
 He doth support me, that no pow'r
 can move me out of place.
 7 My glory and salvation doth
 on him alone depend:
 He is my strength, my stay, my wealth
 and still doth me defend.
 8 O have your trust in him alway,
 ye folk with one accord:
 Pour out your hearts to him, and say
 our trust is in the Lord.
 9 The sons of men deceitful are
 on balance but a sleight:
 With things most vain do them compare
 for they can hold no weight.
 10 Trust not in wrong and robbery,
 let vain delights be gone:
 Though riches flow in suddenly,
 set not your hearts thereon.
 11 The Lord long since one thing did tell which here to mind I call:
 He spake it oft, I heard it well,
 that he alone doth all.
 12 And that thou, Lord, art good and kind thy mercy doth exceed:
 So that all sorts with thee shall find
 according to their deed.

PSAL. LXIII. T. S.

O God my God, I watch betime
 to come to thee in haste:
 For why? my soul and body both
 do thirst of thee to taste.
 And in this barren wilderness
 where waters there are none,
 My flesh is parcht for thought of thee,
 for thee I wish alone.
 2 That I might see yet once again
 thy glory, strength, and might,
 As I was wont it to behold
 within thy temple bright.
 3 For why? thy mercies far surpass
 this life and wretched days:
 My lips therefore shall give to thee
 due honour, laud, and praise.
 4 And whilst I live, I will not fail to worship thee alway:
 And in thy Name I will lift up
 my hands when I do pray.
 5 My soul is fill'd as with marrow,
 which is both fat and sweet:
 My mouth therefore shall sing such songs
 as are for thee most meet.
 6 When in my bed I think on thee
 and in the watchful night,
 7 And under covert of thy wings
 rejoyce with great delight.
 8 My soul doth surely stick to thee,
 thy right hand is my pow'r:
 9 And those that seek my soul to destroy death shall them soon devour.

Psalm LXIV, LXV, LXVI.

The Sword shall them devour each one,
their carcases shall feed
The hungry foxes, which do run their prey to seek at need.
The king and all men shall rejoyce,
that do professe Gods word:
For liars mouths shall then be stopt,
and all their ways abhor'd.

PSAL. XIV. J. H.

O Lord, unto my voice give ear,
when I complain and pray:
And rid my life and soul from fear
of foes that threat to slay.
2 Defend me from that sort of men
which in deceit do lurk:
And from the frowning face of them
that all ill feats do work.
3 Who whet their tongues as we have seen men whet and sharp their swords:
They shoot abroad their arrows keen,
I mean most bitter words.
4 With privy sleights shoot they their shaft,
the upright man to hit:
The innocent to strike by craft,
they care or fear no whit.
5 A wicked work they have decreed,
in council thus they cry,
To use deceit: let us not dread,
what? who can it espy?
6 What way to hurt they talk and muse
all times within their heart:
They all consult what feats to use,
each doth invent his part.
7 But yet all this shall not prevail,
when they think least upon,
God with his dart shall sure assail
and wound them every one.
8 Their crafts and their ill tongues withall
shall work themselves such blame,
That they which then behold their fall,
shall wonder at the same.
9 And all that see shall know right well,
that God the thing hath wrought,
And praise his wondrous works, and tell what he to pass hath brought.
10 Yet shall the just in God rejoyce,
still trusting in his might:
So shall they joy with mind and voice,
whose hearts are pure and right.

PSAL. LXV. J. H.

Thy praise alone, O Lord, doth reign
in Sion thine own hill:
Their vows to thee they do maintain,
and evermore fulfill.
2 For that thou dost their prayers hear,
and dost thereto agree:
The people all both far and near
with trust shall come to thee.
Our wicked life so far exceeds,
that we shall fall therein:
But Lord forgive our great misdeeds,
and purge us from our sin.
4 The man is blest whom thou dost chuse
within thy courts to dwell,

Thy house and temple he shall use with pleasures that exceed.
5 Of thy great justice hear, O God,
our health of thee doth rise:
The hope of all the earth abroad,
and the sea-coasts likewise.
6 With strength thou art beset about,
and compass with thy pow'r:
Thou mak'st the mountains strong & stur,
to stand in ev'ry show'r.
7 The swelling seas thou dost asswage,
making them very still:
Thou dost restrain the peoples rage,
and rule them at thy will.
8 The folk that dwell throughout the earth shall dread thy signs to see:
Morning and evening in great mirth
send praises up to thee.
9 When that the earth is chapt and dry,
and thirsteth more and more,
Then with thy drops thou dost supply,
and much increase her store.
10 The flood of God doth overflow,
and so doth cause to spring
The seed and corn which men do sow,
for he doth guide the thing.
11 With wet thou dost her furrows fill,
whereby her clods do fall:
Thy drops on her thou dost distill:
and bless her fruit withall.
12 Thou deck'st the earth of thy good grace
with fair and pleasant crop:
Thy clouds distill their dew apace,
great plenty they do drop.
13 Whereby the desert shall begin full great increase to bring:
The little hills shall joy therein,
much fruit in them shall spring.
14 In places plain the flocks shall feed,
and cover all the earth:
The vales with corn shall so exceed,
that men shall sing for mirth.

PSAL. LXVI. T. S.

Ye men on earth in God rejoyce,
with praise set forth his Name:
Extol his might with heart and voice,
give glory to the same.
2 How wonderful, O Lord, say ye,
in all thy works thou art!
Thy foes for fear shall seek to thee
full sore against their heart.
3 All men that dwell the earth throughout shall praise the name of God:
The laud thereof the world about
is shew'd and set abroad.
4 All folk come forth, behold and see what things the Lord hath wrought!
Mark well the wondrous works that he
for man to pass hath brought.
5 He laid the sea like heaps of mire, therein a way they had
On foot to pass both fair and dry,
whereof their hearts were glad.
6 His might doth rule the world alway,
his eyes all things behold:

Psalm LXVII, LXVIII.

- All such as shall him disobey,
by him shall be controll'd.
Ye people give unto our God
due laud and thanks always:
With joyful voice declare abroad,
and sing unto his praise:
Which doth endue our soul with life,
and it preserve withall:
He stays our feet, so that no strife
can make us slip or fall.
The Lord doth prove our deeds with fire,
if that they will abide:
As workmen do when they desire to have their metals tri'd.
Although thou suffer us so long
in prison to be cast,
And there with chains and fetters strong
to lie in bondage fast.

The Second Part.

- Although, I say, thou suffer men
on us to ride and reign:
Though we through fire and water run,
with very grief and pain:
Yet sure thou dost of thy good grace
dispose it to the best,
And bring us out into a place,
to live in wealth and rest.
Unto thy house resort will I
to offer and to pray,
And there I will my self apply
my vows to thee to pay:
The vows that with my mouth I spake
in all my grief and smart:
The vows, I say, which I did make
in delour of my heart.
Burnt-off'ringes will give to thee
of oxen fat, and rams:
Yes, this my sacrifice shall be of bullocks, goats, and lambs.
Come forth and hearken here full soon,
all ye that fear the Lord:
What he for my poor soul hath done
to you I will record.
Full oft I call to mind his grace,
this mouth to him doth cry:
And thou my tongue make speed apace
to praise him instantly.
But if I feel my heart within
in wicked works rejoyce:
Or if I have delight to sin,
God will not hear my voice.
But surely God my voice hath heard,
and what I do require:
My pray'r also he doth regard,
and granteth my desire.
All praise to him that hath not put
nor cast me out of mind:
Nor yet his mercy from me shut,
which I do ever find.

P S A L. LXVII. J. H.

HAve mercy on us, Lord,
and grant to us thy graces:
To shew to us do thou accord
the brightness of thy face,

- That all the earth may know
the way to godly wealth:
And all the nations here below
may see thy saving health.
Let all the world, O God,
give praise unto thy Name:
And let the people all abroad
extol and laud the same.
Throughout the world so wide
let all rejoyce with mirth:
For thou with truth and right do st guide
the nations of the earth.
Let all the world, O God,
give praise unto thy Name:
And let the people all abroad
extol and laud the same.
Then shall the earth increase,
great store of fruit shall fall,
And then our God the God of peace shall ever bless us all.
God shall us greatly bless,
and then both far and near,
The folk which all the earth possess,
of him shall stand in fear.

P S A L. LXVIII. T. S.

- Let God arise, and then his foes
will turn themselves to flight
His enemies for fear shall run,
and scatter out of sight.
And as the fire doth melt the wax
and wind blows smoke away:
So in the presence of the Lord,
the wicked shall decay.
But righteous men before the Lord,
shall heartily rejoyce:
They shall be glad and merry all,
and cheerful in their voice.
Sing praise, sing praise unto the Lord
who rideth on the skie:
Extol the great Jehovah's Name,
and him do magnifie.
The same is he that is above
within his holy place,
That Father is of fatherless,
and Judge of widows case.
Houses he gives and issue both
unto the comfortless:
He bringeth bondmen out of thrall,
and rebels to distress.
When thou didst march before thy foes,
th' Egyptians from among,
And brought'st them through the wilderness,
which was both wide and long:
The earth did quake, the rain pour'd down
heard were great claps of thunder, Mount Sinai shook in such a sort
as if 'twould break in sunder.
Thine heritage with drops of rain
abundantly was water:
And if to be it barren wast,
by thee it was refresh'd.
Thy chosen flock doth there remain
thou hast prepar'd that place:
And for the poor thou dost provide
of thine especial grace.

Psalm LXIX.

The Second Part.

God will give women causes just
to magnifie his Name,
When as his people triumphs make,
and purchase mighty fame.
22 Puissant kings for all their power,
shall flee and take the foil,
And women which remain at home
shall help to part the spoil.
23 And though ye were as black as pots,
your hue shall pass the dove, Whose wings and feathers seem to have silver and gold above.
24 When in this land God shall triumph
o're kings both high and low:
Then shall it be like Salmon hill,
as white as any snow.
25 Though Basan be a fruitful hill,
and in height others pass:
Yet Sion Gods most holy hill
doth far excell in grace:
26 Why leap ye thus ye hills most high,
and thus with pride do swell?
The hill of Sion God doth love,
and there will ever dwell.
27 Gods army is two millions of warriors great and strong:
The Lord also in Sinai
is present them among.
28 Thou didst (O Lord) ascend on high,
and captive led'st them all,
Which in times past thy chosen flock
in bondage did intrall.
Thou mad'st them tribute for to pay,
and such as did repine
Thou didst subdue, that they might dwell
in thy temple divine.
29 Now praised be the Lord, for that he pours on us such grace:
From day to day he is the God
of our health and solace.

The Third Part.

30 He is the God from whom alone
salvation cometh plain:
He is the God by whom we scape
all dangers, death, and pain.
31 But he will wound his enemies head,
and break the hairy scalp
Of those that in their wickedness
continue still to walk.
32 From Basan will I bring, said he
my people and my sheep:
And all mine own, as I have done,
from dangers of the deep.
33 And make them dip their feet in blood
of those that hate my Name:
And dogs shall have their tongues embrew'd
with licking of the same.
34 Thy goings they have seen, O God,
unto their own disgrace:
How thou my God and King dost go
within thy holy place.
35 The singers go before with joy,
the Minstrels follow after

And in the midst the damsels do with timbrels sweetly play.

26 Now in the congregation,
O Israel, praise the Lord:
And Jacobs whole posterity,
give thanks with one accord.
27 Their chief was little Benjamin,
but Judah made their host,
With Zabulon and Nephthelim,
which dwelt about their coast.
28 As God hath given power to thee
so Lord make firm and sure
The thing that thou hast wrought in us,
for ever to endure.
29 Then in thy temple gifts will we offer to thee, O Lord:
And in thine own Jerusalem
praise thee with one accord.

The Fourth Part.

Yes, and strange kings by us subdu'd
shall do like in those days:
For unto thee they shall present
their gifts of laud and praise.
30 He shall destroy the spear-mens ranks,
the calves and bulls of might:
And make them tribute pay, and daunt
all such as love to fight.
31 Then shall the lords of Egypt come,
and presents with them bring:
The Moors most black shall stretch their
to God their Lord and King. (hands) 32 Therefore ye kingdoms of the earth,
give praise unto the Lord:
Sing psalms to God with one consent,
thereto let all accord.
33 For he doth ride, and ever did
above the heavens bright:
And by his fearful thunderclaps
men may well know his might.
34 Therefore the strength of Israel
ascribe to God on high,
Whose might and power doth far extend above the cloudy sky.
35 O God, thy holiness and power
is dread for evermore:
The God of Israel gives us strength praised be God therefore.

P S A L M LXIX. J. H.

SAve me, O God, and that with speed
the waters flow full fast:
So nigh my soul do they proceed,
that I am sore agast.
1 I sink full deep in mire and clay,
where I can feel no ground:
And in deep waters where I may most suddenly be drown'd 2 With crying oft I weary am,
my throat is hoarse and dry:
My sight doth fail with looking up
for help to God on high.
3 My foes that guiltless do oppress
my soul, with hate are led:
In number sure they are no less
then hairs upon my head.

2 Though

Psalm LXX.

Though for no cause they vex me sore,
they prosper and are glad:
They do compel me to restore the things I never had.

6 What I have done for want of wit,
thou, Lord, all times canst tell:
And all the faults that I commit to thee are known full well.

7 O God of hosts, defend and stay
all those that trust in thee:
Let no man doubt or shrink away
for ought that chanceth me.

8 It is for thee and for thy sake
that I do bear this blame:
In spite to thee they would me make
to hide my face for shame.

9 My mothers sons, my brethren all reject me with disgrace:
And as a stranger they me call,
they will not know my face.

10 Unto thy house such zeal I bear,
that it doth vex me much:
Their checks and taunts at thee to bear,
my very heart doth grutch.

The Second Part.

11 Though I do fast my flesh to chafe
yea, if I weep and moan:
This in my teeth likewise is cast
by scorners every one.

12 If I for grief and pain of heart
in sackcloth use to walk,
Then they anon will it pervert,
thereof they jest and talk.

13 Both high and low, and all the throng
that sit within the gate,
They have me ever in their tongue,
of me they talk and prate.

14 The drunkards which in wine delight,
It is their chief pastime,
To seek which way to work me spite,
of me they sing and rhyme.

15 But unto thee, O Lord, I pray,
that when it pleaseth thee,
For thy great truth thou wilt alway
send down thine aid to me.

16 Pluck thou my feet out of the mire,
from drowning do me keep:
From such as owe me wrath and ire,
and from the waters deep.

17 Left with the waves I should be drown'd,
and depth my soul devour,
And that the pit should me confound,
and shut me in her power.

18 O Lord of hosts, to me give ear,
as thou art good and kind:
And as thy mercy is most dear,
Lord, have me in thy mind.

19 And do not from thy servant hide
nor turn thy face away.
I am oppress'd on every side,
in haste give ear, I pray.

20 O Lord, unto my soul draw nigh,
the same with aid repose:
Because of their great tyranny,
acquitt me from my foes.

The Third Part :

21 That I abide rebuke and shame;
thou know'st and thou canst tell:
For those that seek and work the same,
thou see'st them all full well.

22 When they with brags do break my heart
some help I fain would see:
But find no friends to ease my smart,
not one to comfort me.

23 But in my meat they gave me gall,
too cruel for to think:
And gave me in my thirst withall,
strong vinegar to drink.

24 Lord, turn their table to a snare
to take themselves therein:
And when they think full well to fare,
then trap them in their gin,

25 And let their eyes be dark and blind,
that they may nothing see:
Bowe down their backs, and do them bind
in thralldom for to be.

26 Pour out thy wrath as hot as fire,
that it on them may fall:
Let thy displeasure in thine ire
take hold upon them all.

27 As deserts dry their house disgrace,
their seed do thou expel:
That none thereof possess their place,
nor in their tents e're dwell.

28 If thou dost strike the man to shame,
on him they lay full sore:
And if that thou do wound the same,
they seek to hurt him more.

29 Then let them heap up mischief still;
since they are all pervert,
That of thy favour and good will
they never have a part.

30 And rase them clean out of thy booke
of life, of hope, and trust:
That for their names they never looke
in number of the just.

The Fourth Part.

31 Though I, O Lord, with wo and grief
have been full sore oppress'd:
Thy help shall give me such relief,
that all shall be redress'd.

32 That I may give thy Name the praise
that doth to thee belong:
I will extol the same alway
with a thanksgiving song.

33 Which is more pleasant unto thee,
such mind thy grace hath born Then either ox or calf can be,
that hath both hoof and horn.

34 When simple folk do this behold,
it shall rejoyce them sure:
All ye that seek the Lord, your life
for ever shall endure.

35 For why? the Lord of hosts doth
the poor when they complain:
His prisoners are to him full dear,
he doth them not disdain.

36 Wherefore the sky and earth below,
the sea, with flood and stream

Psalm LXX, LXXI.

His praise they shall declare and show,
with all that live in them.

37 For sure our God will Sion save,
and Juda's cities build:

38 Much folk possession there shall have,
her streets shall all be fill'd.

His servants seed shall keep the same
all ages out of mind:

39 And there all they that love his Name,
a dwelling-place shall find.

PSAL. LXX. J. H.

O God, to me take heed,
of help I thee require:
O Lord of hosts, with haste and speed
help me, I thee desire.

2 With shame confound them all,
that seek my soul to spill:
Rebuke them back with blame to all that think and wish me ill.

3 Confound them that apply
and seek to work me shame:
And at my harm do laugh, and say,
So so, there goes the game.

4 But let them joyful be in thee with joy and wealth,
Which only trust and seek to thee,
and to thy saving health.

5 That they may say always
in mirth and one accord,
All glory, honour, laud and praise
be given to thee, O Lord.

6 But I am weak and poor,
come, Lord, thine aid I lack:
Thou art my stay and help, therefore make speed, and be not slack.

PSAL. LXXI. I. H.

MY Lord my God, in all distress
my hope is whole in thee:
Then let no shame my soul oppress,
nor once take hold on me.

2 As thou art just, defend me, Lord,
and rid me out of dread:
Give ear, and to my suit accord,
and send me help at need.

3 Be thou my rock, to whom I may
for aid all times resort:
Thy promise is to help alway,
thou art my fence and fort.

4 Save me, my God, from wicked men,
and from their strength and pow'r:
From seek unjust, and also them
that cruelly devour.

5 Thou art the stay whereon I rest,
thou Lord of hosts art he:
Yea, from my youth I thought it best
still to depend on thee.

6 Thou hast me kept even from my birth,
and I through thee was born:
Wherefore I will thee praise with mirth,
both evening and at morn.

7 As to a monster seldom seen,
much folk about me throng:
But thou art now, and still hast been my fence and aid most strong.

8 Wherefore my mouth for ever shall be filled with thy praise:

Also my tongue shall never fail
to honour thee always.

9 Refuse me not, O Lord, I pray,
when age my limbs doth take:
And when my strength doth waste away
do not my soul forsake.

10 Among themselves my foes inquire
to take me through deceit:
And they against me do conspire,
that for my soul lay wait.

The Second Part.

11 Lay hand, and take him now, they say,
for God from him is gone:
Dispatch him quite, for to his aid
most sure there cometh none.

12 Do not absent thy self away,
O Lord, when need shall be:
But that in time of grief I may
in haste have help from thee.

13 With shame confound and overthrow
all those that seek my life:
Suppress them with rebuke also,
that vain would work me strife.

14 But I will patiently abide thy help at all assays:
Still more and more, each time and tide,
I will set forth thy praise.

15 My mouth thy justice shall record that daily help doth send:
For thy great benefits, O Lord,
no numbers have, nor end.

16 Yet will I go and seek forth one,
with thy good help, O God,
The saving health of thee alone
to shew and set abroad.

17 For of my youth thou took'st the care,
and dost instruct me still:
Therefore thy wonders to declare
I have great mind and will.

18 And as in youth from wanton rage
thou didst me keep and stay:
Forsake me not in mine old age,
and when my head is gray.

The Third Part.

19 That I thy strength and might may shew
to them that now be here:
And that our seed thy pow'r may know
hereafter many year.

20 O Lord, thy justice doth exceed thy doings all may see:
Thy works are wonderful indeed,
Oh who is like to thee!

21 Thou mad'st me feel affliction sore,
and yet thou didst me save:
Yea, thou didst help, and me restore,
and took'st me from the grave.

22 And thou mine honour dost increase,
my dignity maintain:
Yea, thou dost make all grief to cease,
and comfort'st me again.

23 Therefore thy faithfulness to praise
I will with viol sing:

Psalm LXXII, LXXIII.

My harp shall sound thy laud always,
 O Iſr'els holy King.
 24 My mouth will joy with pleaſant voice
 when I ſhall ſing to thee;
 Alſo my ſoul ſhall much rejoyce,
 for thou haſt made me free.
 25 My tongue thy uprightness ſhall ſound,
 and ſpeak it daily ſtill:
 For grief and ſhame do them confound
 that ſeek to work me ill.

PSALM LXXII. J. H.

Lord, give thy judgments to the king,
 therein inſtruct him well:
 And with his ſon that princely things
 Lord, let thy juſtice dwell.
 2 That he may govern uprightly,
 and rule thy folk aright:
 And ſo defend through equity
 the poor that have no might.
 3 And let the mountains that are high,
 unto thy folk give peace:
 Let little hills alſo apply,
 in juſtice to increaſe.
 4 That he may help the weak and poor
 with aid, and make them ſtrong:
 And ſo deſtroy for evermore
 all thoſe that do them wrong.
 5 And then from age to age ſhall they regard and fear thy might:
 So long as ſun doth ſhine by day,
 or elſe the moon by night.
 6 Lord, make the king unto the juſt
 like rain to fields new mown:
 And like to drops that lay the duſt,
 Reſreſhing land new ſown.
 7 The juſt ſhall flouriſh in his days,
 and all ſhall be at peace,
 Until the moon ſhall leave to waſe,
 to change, and to increaſe.
 8 He ſhall be Lord, and have command
 from ſhore to ſhore throughout:
 And from the floods within the land,
 through all the earth about.
 9 The people that in deſerts dwell,
 ſhall kneel to him full thick:
 And all his foes that do rebell,
 the earth and duſt ſhall lick.
 10 The lords of all the iſles thereby great gifts to him ſhall bring:
 Arabia and Saba's kings
 give many & coſtly thing.

The Second Part.

11 All kings ſhall ſeek with one accord
 in his good grace to ſtand:
 And all the people of the world
 obey at his command.
 12 For he the needy ſort doth ſave,
 that unto him do call:
 Alſo the ſimple folk that have no help of man at all.
 13 He taketh pity on the poor
 that are with need oppreſt:
 He doth preſerve them evermore,
 and bring their ſoul to reſt.

14 He ſhall redeem their lives from dread
 from fraud, from wrong, and might:
 Alſo the blood that they ſhall bleed
 is precious in his ſight.

15 But he ſhall live, and they ſhall bring to him of Saba's gold:
 He ſhall be honour'd as a king,
 and daily be extoll'd.

16 The mighty mountains of his land
 of corn ſhall bear ſuch throng,
 That it like cedar-trees ſhall ſtand
 in Libanus full long.

17 Their cities alſo well ſhall ſpeed,
 the fruits thereof ſurpaſs:
 In plenty it ſhall far exceed,
 and ſpring as green as graſs.

18 For ever they ſhall praiſe his Name,
 while that the ſun is light:
 And think them happy through the ſame,
 all folk ſhall bleſs his might.

19 Praiſe ye the Lord of hoſts, and ſing
 to Iſr'els God each one:
 For he doth ev'ry wondrous thing,
 yea, he himſelf alone.

20 And bleſſed be his holy Name
 all times eternally:
 Let all the earth ſtill praiſe the ſame,
 Amen, amen, ſay I.

PSALM LXXIII. T. S.

However it be, yet God is good and kind to Iſrael:

And to all ſuch as ſafely keep their conſcience pure and well:

2 But as for me, I almoſt ſlip,
 my feet began to ſlide:

Before that I was well aware,
 my ſteps did turn aſide.

3 For when I ſaw ſuch fooliſh men,
 I grudge'd with great diſdain,
 That wicked men all things ſhould have without turmoil or pain.

4 They never ſuffer pangs nor grief,
 as if death ſhould them ſmite:
 Their bodies are both ſtout and ſtrong,
 and ever in good plight:

5 Always free from adverſity
 and every ſad event:

With other men they take no part of plague or puniſhment.

6 Therefore preſumption doth embrace their necks as doth a chain:

They are even wrapt as in a robe,
 with rapine and diſdain.

7 They are ſo fed that even with ſat
 their eyes oft-times out ſtart:

And as for worldly goods they have more then can wiſh their heart.

8 Their life is moſt licentious,
 boaſting much with their tongue,

How they the poor and ſimple have oppreſſed with great wrong.

9 They ſet their mouth againſt the heavens
 and do the Lord blaſpheme:

They proudly ſpeak of worldly things,
 no one they do eſteem.

Psalm LXXIV.

10 Gods people oftentimes turn back to see their prosp'rous state:
And almost drink the self-same cup,
and follow the same race.

The Second Part.

11 How can it be that God, say they should know or understand These worldly things, since wicked men
be lords of sea and land?
12 For we may see how wicked men
in riches still increase,
Rewarded well with worldly goods,
and live in rest and peace.
13 Then why do I so carefully
from wickedness refrain?
And wash my hands in innocence,
and cleanse my heart in vain?
14 And suffer scourges every day,
as subject to all blame:
And every morning from my youth sustain rebuke and shame?
15 And I had almost said as they,
misliking mine estate:
But then I should thy children judge
as folk unfortunate.
16 Then I bethought me how I might
this matter understand:
But yet the labour was too great
for me to take in hand:
17 Until the time I went into thine holy place, and then I understood right perfectly
the end of all these men.
18 Namely, how that thou settest them
upon a slipp'ry place:
And at thy pleasure and thy will thou dost them soon deface.
19 Then all men muse at that strange sight,
to see how suddenly
They are destroyed, and consum'd
to death so horribly.
20 Much like a dream when one awakes,
so shall their wealth decay:
Their famous names in all mens sight
shall fail and pass away.

The Third Part.

21 Yet thus my heart was grieved then,
my mind was much oppress'd:
22 So fond was I and ignorant,
and in this point a beast.
23 Nevertheless by my right hand
thou hold'st me always fast:
24 And with thy counsel dost me guide
to glory at the last.
25 What thing is there that I can wish
but thee in heav'n above?
And in the earth there is nothing
like thee that I can love.
26 My flesh and spirit both do fail,
but God doth fail me never,
For of my health he is the strength,
and portion even for ever.
27 But lo, all such as thee forsake
thou shalt destroy each one:

And those that trust in any thing saving in thee alone.

28 Therefore will I draw near to God,
and ever with him dwell:
In God alone I put my trust,
his wonders I will tell.

P S A L. LXXIV. J. H.

Why art thou, Lord, so long from us
in all this danger deep?
Why doth thine anger kindle thus
at thine own pasture-sheep?
1 Lord, call the people to thy thought which have been thine so long,
The which thou hast redeem'd and brought from bondage sore and strong.
2 Have mind therefore and think upon,
remember it full well,
Thy pleasant place, thy mount Sion,
where thou wast wont to dwell.
3 Lift up thy feet and come in haste,
and all thy foes deface:
Which now at pleasure rob and waste
within thy holy place.
4 Amidst thy congregations all thy foes do rore, O God:
They set as signs on every wall
banners display'd abroad.
5 As men with axes hew down trees
that on the hills do grow:
So shine the bills and swords of these within thy temple now.
6 The cieling saw'd, the carved boards,
the goodly graven stones,
With axes, hammers, bills, and swords,
they beat them down at once.
7 Thy places they consume with flame,
their rage doth so abound:
The house appointed to thy Name
they rasedown to the ground.
8 And thus they say within their heart,
Dispatch them out of hand:
Then burn they up in every part
Gods Houses through the land.
9 Yet thou no sign of help dost send,
our prophets all are gone:
To tell when this our plague shall end
among us there is none.
10 How long, Lord, shall thine enemies
thus boldly thee defame?
Shall they for evermore blaspheme
thy great and holy Name?
11 Why dost thou thy right hand withdraw from us so long away?
Out of thy bosom pluck it forth,
with speed thy foes to slay.

The Second Part.

12 O God, thou art our King and Lord,
and evermore hast been:
Yea thy good grace throughout the world
for our good help is seen.
13 The seas that are so deep and dead,
thy might did make them dry:
And thou didst break the serpents head,
that hetherin did die,

Psalm LXXV, LXXVI.

15 Yea, thou didst break the heads so great
of whales that are most fell :
And gav'st them to the folk to eat
that in the deserts dwell.

16 Thou mad'st a spring with streams to rise
from rocks both hard and high :
Thy mighty hand hath made likewise deep rivers to be dry.

17 Both day and night are also thine,
by thee they were begun :
And thou likewise prepared hast
the light of moon and sun.

18 Thou didst appoint the ends and coasts of all the earth about :
Both summer-heats and winter-frosts,
thy hand hath found them out.

19 Think on, O Lord, no time forget
thy foes that thee defame :
And how the foolish folk are set to rail upon thy Name.

20 O let no cruel beasts devour
thy turtle that is true :
And always leave not in their pow'r
the poor that much do rue.

21 Regard, O Lord, thy covenant,
behold our misery :
All the dark places of the earth
are full of cruelty.

22 Let not the simple man therefore,
be turned back with shame :
But let the needy evermore
give praise unto thy Name.

23 Arise, O Lord, and plead thy cause against thine enemies,
Who daily do reject thy laws,
and thee with scorn despise.

24 The voice forget not of thy foes,
for the presumption high is more and more increast of those that hate thee spitefully.

P S A L. LXXV. J. H.

TO thee, O God, will we give thanks,
we will give thanks to thee:

Since thy Name is so near, declare thy wondrous works will we.

As I will uprightly judge when get convenient time I may:

The earth is weak, and all therein,
but I her pillars stay.

I did to the mad people say,
deal not so furiously :

And unto the ungodly ones,
set not your horns on high,

I said unto them, Set not up
your raised horns on high,

And see that you do with stiff neck
not speak presumptuously.

For neither from the eastern parts,
nor from the west likewise,
Nor from forsaken wilderness,
promotion doth arise.

But God who rules both heaven & earth,
the righteous Judge alone :

It is he that puts down one, and sets
another in the throne.

7 For why ? a cup of mighty wine
is in the hand of God :

And all the mixture of the same
himself doth pour abroad.

8 As for the lees and filthy dregs that do remain of it,
The wicked of the earth shall drink
and suck them every whitt.

9 But I will talk of God alway,
and his great Name adore :
And will not cease to celebrate his praise for evermore.

10 In sunder break the horns of all ungodly men will I :
But then the horns of righteous men
shall be exalted high.

Gloria Patri.

To Father, Son, and holy Ghost,
all glory be therefore :

As in beginning was, is now,
and shall be evermore.

P S A L. LXXVI. J. H.

TO all that now in Jewry dwell
the Lord is clearly known :

His Name is great in Israel,
a people of his own.

1 At Salem he hath pitcht his tent,
to tarry there a space :

In Sion also he is bent
to fix his dwelling-place.

2 And there he brake both shaft and bow,
the sword, the spear, and shield :
His enemies did overthrow
in battel in the field.

3 Thou art more worthy honour, Lord :
more might in thee doth lie,
Then in the strongest of the world,
that rob on mountains high.

4 But now the proud are spoil'd through and they are fall'n asleep : (thou,

Through men of war no help can be,
themselves they could not keep.

5 At thy rebuke, O Jacobs God,
when thou didst them reprove
As half asleep their chariots stood,
no horseman once did move.

6 For thou art dreadful, Lord, indeed,
what man the courage hath
To bide thy sight, and doth not dread
when thou art in thy wrath ?

7 When thou dost make thy judgments heard from heav'n unto the ground,
Then all the earth full sore afraid
in silence shall be found.

8 And that when thou, O God, dost stand
in judgment for to speak,
To save th' afflicted of the land,
on earth that are full weak.

9 The fury that in man doth reign
shall turn unto thy praise :
Hereafter, Lord, do thou restrain their wrath and threats always.

10 Make vows and pay them to our God
ye folk that nigh him be :

bria 8

Psalm LXXVII, LXXVIII.

Bring gifts, all ye that dwell abroad,
for dreadful sure is he.
12 For he doth take both life and might
from princes great of birth:
And full of terrour is his sight
to all the kings on earth.

PSALM LXXVII. J. H.

[With my voice to God did cry,
who lent a gracious ear:
My voice I lifted up on high,
and he my suit did hear.
2 In time of grief I sought to God,
by night no rest I took:
But stretcht my hands to him abroad,
my soul comfort forsook.
3 When I to think on God intend,
my trouble then is more:
I spake, but could not make an end,
my breath was stoppt so sore.
4 Thou dost mine eyes so hold from rest,
that I always awake:
With fear I am so sore oppress,
my speech doth me forsake.
5 The days of old in mind I cast and oft do think upon
The times and ages that are past
full many years ago.
6 By night my songs I call to mind,
once made thy praise to show:
And with my heart much talk I find
my spirits search to know.
7 Will God, said I, at once for all cast off his people thus,
So that henceforth no time he shall be friendly unto us?
8 What? is his goodness quite decay'd,
and passed clean away?
Or is his promise now delay'd,
and doth his truth decay?
9 And will the Lord our God forget his mercies manifold?
Or shall his wrath increase so hot,
his mercies to withhold?
10 At last I said, This surely is mine own infirmity:
But his right hand can help all this,
and change it speedily.

The Second Part.

11 I will regard and think upon
the working of the Lord:
And all his wonders past and gone
I gladly will record.
12 Yea, all his works I will declare,
and what he did devise:
To tell his facts I will not spare,
and all his counsel wise.
13 Thy works, O Lord, are all upright,
and holy all abroad:
What one hath strength to match the might
of thee, O Lord our God?
14 Thou art a God that dost forth show
thy wonders every hour:
And so dost make the people know
thy vertue and thy power.

15 And thine own folk thou dost defend with strength and stretched arm,
Those that from Jacob did descend,
and Josephs seed from harm.
16 The waters, Lord, perceived thee,
the waters saw thee well:
And they for fear away did see,
the depths on trembling fell.
17 The clouds that were both thick & black
did rain full plenteously:
The thunder in the air did crack,
thy shafts abroad did fly.
18 Thy thunder in the air was heard,
thy lightnings from above,
With flashes great made men afraid,
the earth did quake and move.
19 Thy ways within the sea do lie,
thy paths in waters deep:
Yet none can there thy steps espy,
nor know thy paths to keep.
20 Thou leddest thy folk upon the land
as sheep on every side:
By Moses and by Aarons hand
thou didst them safely guide.

PSALM LXXVIII. J. H.

A Ttend my people to my law,
and to my words incline:
2 My mouth shall speak strange parables,
and sentences divine.
3 Which we ourselves have heard & learn'd
even of our fathers old,
And which for our instruction
our fathers have us told.
4 Because we should not keep it close
from them that after came:
Who should Gods mighty power declare,
and wondrous works proclaim.
5 To Jacob he commandment gave
how Israel should live, Willing our fathers should the same
unto their children give.
6 That they and their posterity
that were not sprung up then,
Should have the knowledge of the law,
and teach it their children.
7 That they might have the better hope
in God that is above:
And not forget to keep his laws
and his precepts in love.
8 Not being as their fathers, who rebelled in Gods sight:
And would not frame their wicked hearts
to know their God aright.
9 How went the sons of Ephraim their neighbours for to spoil:
Shooting their darts in day of war,
and yet receiv'd the foil?
10 For why? they did not keep with God
the cov'nant that was made,
Nor yet would walk or lead their lives
according as he said:
11 But put into oblivion
his counsel and his will,
And all his works magnificent which he declared still.

Psalm LXXVIII.

The Second Part.

1 What wonders to our forefathers
 did he himself disclose
 In Egypt land within the field
 that call'd is Thaneos?
 2 He did divide and part the sea,
 through which he made a way
 for them to pass, and on a heap
 the waters made to stay.
 3 He led them secret in a cloud
 by day when it was bright:
 And in the night when dark it was,
 with fire he gave them light.
 He brake the rocks in wilderness,
 and gave the people drink:
 As plentiful as when the deeps
 do flow up to the brink.
 4 He drew forth rivers out of rocks
 that were both dry and hard,
 Of such abundance, that no floods
 to them might be compar'd.
 5 Yet for all this against the Lord
 their sin they did increase:
 And stirr'd up him that is most high
 to wrath in wilderness.
 6 They tempted God within their hearts,
 like people of mistrust;
 Requiring such a kind of meat
 as served to their lust:
 7 They spake against him, and thus said
 in their unfaithfulness,
 What! can this God prepare for us
 a feast in wilderness?
 8 Behold, he strake the stony rock,
 and floods forthwith did flow:
 But can he now give to his folk
 both bread and flesh also?
 9 When God heard this, he waxed wroth
 with Jacob and his seed,
 So did his indignation
 'gainst Israel proceed.

The Third Part.

11 Because they did not faithfully believe, and hope that he Could always help and succour them
 in their necessity.
 12 Wherefore he did command the clouds,
 orthwith they brake in sunder:
 13 And rain'd down manna for to eat,
 a food of mighty wonder.
 14 When earthly men with angels food
 were fed at their request, 15 He bad the east-wind blow away,
 and brought in the south-west.
 16 He rain'd down flesh as thick as dust,
 and fowls as thick as sand:
 17 Which he did cast amidst the place where all their tents did stand.
 18 Then did they eat exceedingly,
 and all men had their fills:
 Yet more and more they did desire
 to serve their lusts and wills.
 19 But as the meat was in their mouths,
 his wrath upon them fell,

31 And slew the strength of all their youth,
 and choice of Israel.
 32 Yet sell they to their wonted sin,
 and still they did him grieve:
 For all the wonders that he wrought,
 they would him not believe.
 33 Their days therefore he shortened,
 and made their honour vain:
 Their years did waste and pass away
 with terror and with pain.
 34 But ever when he plagued them,
 they sought him instantly,
 35 Remembering that he was their strength,
 their help, and God most high.
 36 Though with their mouths they nothing but flatter with the Lord: (did
 And with their tongues, and in their hearts
 dissembled every word

The Fourth Part.

37 For why? their hearts were nothing bent
 to him, nor what he said:
 Not yet to keep or to perform
 the cov'nant that he made.
 38 Yet was he still so merciful,
 when they deserv'd to die,
 That he forgave them their misdeeds,
 and would not them destroy.
 Yea, many a time he turn'd his wrath,
 and did them not surprise:
 And would not suffer all his whole displeasure to arise.
 39 Considering they were but flesh,
 or like to wind and rain
 Passing away, and never doth return and come again.
 40 How oftentimes in wilderness
 did they the Lord provoke!
 How did they move and stir the Lord
 to plague them with his stroke!
 41 Yet did they turn again to sin,
 and tempted him full soon,
 Prescribing to the mighty God
 what things they would have done:
 42 Not thinking of his mighty hand,
 nor of the day when he Deliver'd them out of the hands of the fierce enemy.
 43 Nor how he wrought his miracles
 (as they themselves beheld)
 In Egypt, and the wonders that he did in Zoan field.
 44 Nor how he turned by his power
 their waters into blood:
 That no man might receive his drink
 at river or at flood.
 45 Nor how he sent them swarms of flies
 which did them sore annoy:
 And fill'd their countrey full of frogs,
 which did their land destroy.
 The Fifth Part.
 46 Nor now he did their fruits unto the caterpillar give:
 And of the labour of their hands
 locusts did them deprive.

Psalm LXXIX.

67 With hailstones he destroy'd their vine,
 so that they all were lost :
 And also all their sycomores,
 did he consume with frost.
 68 And yet with hailstones once again
 the Lord their cattel smote,
 And all their flocks and herds likewise
 with thunderbolts full hot.
 69 He cast upon them his fierce wrath,
 and indignation sore :
 Amongst them evil angels sent,
 which troubled them yet more.
 70 Then to his wrath he made a way,
 and spared not the least :
 But gave unto the pestilence
 the man as well as beast.
 71 He strike also the first-born all that up in Egypt came :
 And all the chief of men and beasts
 within the tents of Ham.
 72 But as for his own people dear,
 he did preserve and keep :
 And carry them through wilderness
 even like a flock of sheep.
 73 Without all fear both safe and sound
 He brought them out of thrall :
 Whereas their foes with rage of seas
 were overwhelmed all.
 74 And brought them out into the coasts
 of his own holy land, Even to the mount which he had got
 by his strong arm and hand.
 75 And there cast out the heathen folk,
 and did their land divide :
 And in their tents he set the tribes
 of Israel to abide.
 76 Yet for all this, their God most high they stirr'd and tempted still,
 And would not keep his testament,
 nor yet obey his will.
 77 But as their fathers turned back,
 even so they went astray,
 Much like a bow that would not bend,
 but slip and start away.

The Sixth Part.

78 And griev'd him with their hill alters,
 with offering and with fire :
 And with their idols grievously
 provoked him to ire.
 79 For which his wrath began again
 to kindle in his breast :
 The wickedness of Israel
 he did so much detest.
 80 The tabernacle he forsook of Silo, where he was Right conversant with earthy men,
 even as his dwelling place.
 81 Then suffer'd he his might and power
 in bondage for to stand,
 And gave the honour of his ark
 into his enemies hand.
 82 And did commit them to the sword,
 wroth with his heritage :
 83 Their young men were devour'd with maids had no marriage.

And with the sword the priests all did perish every one :
 And not a widow left alive
 their death for to bemoane.
 85 Then did the Lord awake as one whom sleep could not confine :
 And like a mighty giant that refreshed is with wine.
 86 With en'm' rods in the hinder parts
 his enemies he smote :
 And put them unto such a shame
 as should not be forgot.
 87 The tent and tabernacle he
 of Joseph did refuse :
 Also the tribe of Ephraim,
 he would in no wise chuse :
 88 But he the tribe of Judah chose,
 that he therein might dwell :
 Even the most noble mount Sion,
 which he did love so well.
 89 And there he did his temple build,
 both sumptuously and sure.
 Like as the Earth which he hath made
 for ever to endure.
 90 Then chose he David him to serve,
 his people for to keep :
 Whom he took up and brought away
 even from the folds of sheep.
 91 As he did follow th' ewes with youn,
 the Lord did him advance
 To feed his people Israel
 and his inheritance.
 92 Thus David with a faithful heart
 his flock and charge did feed,
 And prudently with all his power
 did govern them indeed.

PSALM LXXIX. J. H.

O God, the Gentiles do invade thine heritage to spoil :
 Jerusalem an heap is made,
 thy temple they defile.
 2 The bodies of thy saints most dear
 abroad to birds they cast :
 The flesh of them that do thee fear,
 the beasts devour and waste.
 3 Their blood throughout Jerusalem
 as water spilt they have :
 So that there is not one of them
 to lay their dead in grave.
 4 Thus are we made a laughing-stock
 almost the world throughout :
 The enemies do jest and mock which dwell our coasts about.
 5 How long, O Lord, wilt thou retain thine anger and thy rage ?
 And shall thy wrath and jealousy
 not any more assuage ?
 6 Upon those people pour the same,
 which did thee never know :
 All realms which call not on thy Name,
 consume and overthrow.
 7 For they have got the upper hand,
 and Jacobs seed destroy'd :
 His habitation and his land
 they have laid waste and void.

Psalm LXXX, LXXXI.

Be not in mind our former faults,
with speed some pity show:
and aid us, Lord, in all assaults,
for we are weak and low.

The Second Part.

O God, that giv'st all health and grace,
on us declare the same:

Weigh not our works, our sins deface,
for honour of thy Name.

Why shall the wicked still alway,
to us as people dumb,
in thy reproach rejoyce, and say,
where is their God become?

Require, O Lord, as thou see'st good,
before our eyes in sight,

Of all these folk thy servants bloud
which they spilt in despight.

Receive into thy sight in haste
the clamours, grief, and wrong

Of such as are in prison cast,
and bound in irons strong.

Thy force and strength to celebrate,
Lord, set them out of band:

Which unto death are destinate,
and in their en'mies hand.

The nations which have been so bold
as to blaspheme thy Name,

Into their laps seven-fold do thou repay again the same.

So we thy flock and pasture sheep
will praise thee evermore,

And teach all ages for to keep
for thee like praise in store.

PSAL LXXX. J. H.

Thou Shepherd that dost Israel keep,
give ear and take good heed:

Which ledest Joseph like a sheep,
and dost him watch and feed.

And thou, O Lord, whose seat is set
on cherubims most bright,

Shew forth thy self and do not let,
send down thy beams of light.

Before Ephraim and Benjamin,
Manasses in likewise.

To shew thy power do thou begin,
come help us, Lord, arise.

Direct our hearts by thy good grace
convert us unto thee:

Shew us the brightness of thy face,
and then full safe are we.

Lord God of hosts of Israel,
how long wilt thou delay?

And 'gainst thy folk in anger swell,
and wilt not hear them pray?

Thou dost them feed with sorrows deep,
their bread with tears they eat,

And drink the tears that they do weep,
in measure full and great.

Thou hast us made a very strife
to those that dwell about:

Which much doth please our enemies,
they laugh and jest it out.

O take us, Lord, unto thy grace,
convert our hearts to thee:

Shew forth to us thy joyful face,
and we full safe shall be.

From Egypt where it grew not well
thou brought'st a vine full dear:

The heathen folk thou didst expell,
and thou didst plant it there.

Thou didst prepare for it a place
and set its roots full fast:

That it did grow and spring apace,
and fill'd the land at last.

The Second Part.

The hills were cover'd round about
with shade that from it came,

Also the cedars strong and stout,
with branches of the same.

Why then didst thou her walls destroy
her hedge pluck up thou hast:

That all the folk that pass thereby
the same do spoil and waste.

The bear out of the wood so wild
doth dig and root it out:

The furious beasts out of the field
devour it all about.

O Lord of hosts, return again,
from heav'n do thou look down:

Behold, and with thy help sustain thy vineyard overthrown.

Thy pleasant vine, thine Israel,
which thy right hand hath set:

The same which thou didst love so well
O Lord, do not forget.

They lop and cut it off apace,
they burn it down with fire:

And through the frowning of thy face
we perish in thine ire.

Let thy right hand be with them now
whom thou hast kept so long:

And with the Son of man whom thou
to thee hast made so strong.

And so when thou hast set us free
and saved us from shame:

Then will we never fall from thee,
but call upon thy Name.

O Lord of hosts, through thy good grace
convert us unto thee:

Behold us with a pleasant face,
and then full safe are we.

PSAL LXXXI. J. H.

Be light and glad, in God rejoyce,
which is our strength and stay,

Be joyful and lift up your voice
to Jacobs God alway.

Prepare your instruments most meet;
some joyful psalm to sing:

Strike up with harp and lute most sweet
on every pleasant string.

Blow as it were in the new-moon,
with trumpets of the best:

As it is used to be done
at any solemn feast.

For this is unto Israel
a statute, which was made

By Jacobs God, and must full well
be evermore obey'd,

Psalm LXXXII, LXXXIII.

5 This clause with Joseph was decreed
when he from Egypt came,
That as a witness all his seed
should still observe the same.
6 When God himself had so prepar'd,
to bring him from that land;
Whereas the speech which he had heard
he did not understand.
7 I from his shoulder took (saith he)
the burden clean away:
And from the furnace set him free
from burning brick of clay.
8 When thou in grief didst cry and call,
I helpt thee instantly:
And I did answer thee withall
in thunder secretly.
9 Yea, at the waters of discord
I did thee tempt and prove:
Where thou the goodness of the Lord
with murmuring didst move.
10 Hear, O my people Israel,
and I'll assure thee:
Regard and mark my words full well,
if thou wilt cleave to me.

The Second Part.

11 Thou shalt no god in thee reserve,
of any land abroad:
Nor in no wise bow to or serve
a strange or foreign god.
21 I am the Lord thy God, and I
from Egypt set thee free:
Then ask of me abundantly,
and I will give it thee.
13 But yet my people would not hear
my voice when that I spake:
And Israel would not obey,
but did me quite forsake.
14 Then did I leave them to their will
in hardness of their heart:
To walk in their own counsels still,
themselves they did pervert.
15 O that my people would have heard
the words that I did say:
And Israel with due regard had walked in my way!
16 How soon would I confound their foes,
and bring them down full low:
And turn my hand upon all those
that would them overthrow!
17 And they that at the Lord do rage,
as lions should be found:
But for his folk, their time and age
should with great joys be crown'd.
18 I would have fed them with the crop,
and finest of the wheat:
And made the rock with honey drop,
that they their sibs should eat.

PSAL. LXXXII. J. H.

Amid the pæss with men of might
the Lord himself doth stand,
To plead the cause of truth and right,
with judges of the land.
2 How long, said he, will you proceed
false judgment to award:

Why have you partially agreed
the wicked to regard?

3 Whereas of due you should defend the fatherless and weak,
And when the poor man doth contend,
in judgment justly speak.
4 If ye be wise, defend the cause
of poor men in their right:
And rid the needy from the claws
of tyrants force and might.
5 But nothing will they know or learn,
in vain to them I talk:
They will not see or ought discern,
but still in darkness walk.
6 For lo, even now the time is come that all things fall to nought:
And laws likewise by every one
for gain are sold and bought.
7 I had decreed it in my sight
as gods to take you all:
Children also of the most High,
for love I did you call.
8 But notwithstanding ye shall die
as men, and so decay:
O tyrants, I shall you destroy,
and pluck you quite away.
9 Up Lord, and let thy strength be known,
and judge the world with might:
For why? all nations are thine own
to take them as thy right.

PSAL. LXXXIII. J. H.

DO not O God, refrain thy tongue,
in silence do not stay:
Withhold not, Lord, thy self so long,
and make no more delay.

2 For why? behold thy foes, and see how they do rage and cry:
And those that bear an hate to thee,
bold up their heads on high.
3 Against thy folk they use deceit,
and craftily enquire:
For thine elect to lie in wait
in counsel they conspire.
4 Come on, say they, let us expell
and pluck these folk away:
So that the name of Israel
may utterly decay.
5 They all conspire within their hearts
how they may thee withstand:
Against the Lord to take a part
they are in league and band.
6 The tents of all the Edomites,
the Ismaelites likewise:
Thy Hagarenes and Moabites, their plots do still devise.
7 Gebal and Ammon do likewise
with Amalek conspire:
The Philistines against thee rise,
with them that dwell at Tyre.
8 Assur is also joyn'd to them
in their conspiracy:
And is become a fence and aid
to Lots posterity.

Psalm LXXXIV, LXXXV.

As thou did to the Midianites,
to serve them, Lord, each one.
unto Sifer, and Iabin,
beside the brook Kison.
Whom thou in Endor didst destroy,
and waste them through thy might:
that they like dung on earth did lie,
and that in open sight.

The Second Part.

Make them now and their lords appear like Zeb and Oreb then:
Zebah and Zalmana were,
the kings of Midian.
Which said, Let us throughout the land
in all the coasts abroad, possess and take into our hand
the fair houses of God.
Turn them, O God, with storms as fast
as wheels that have no stay:
like the chaff which men do cast
with winds to flie away.
Like as the fire with rage and fume
the mighty forrests spills;
and as the flame doth quite consume
the mountains and the hills.
So let the tempest of thy wrath
upon their necks be laid:
and of thy stormy wind and shewre,
Lord make them all afraid.
Lord, bring them all, I thee desire,
to such rebuke and shame,
that it may cause them to enquire,
and learn to seek thy Name.
And let them daily more and more
to shame and slander fall:
and in rebuke and obloquy
confound and sink them all.
That they may know and understand,
thou art the God most high:
and that thou dost with mighty hand
the world rule constantly.

PSAL. LXXXIV. J. H.

How pleasant is thy dwelling-place,
O Lord of hosts so me!
The tabernacles of thy grace,
how pleasant, Lord, they be!
My soul doth long full sore to go into thy courts abroad:
My heart and flesh cry out also
for thee the living God.
The sparrows find a room to rest,
and save themselves from wrong,
Also the swallow hath a nest
wherein to keep her young.
These birds full nigh thine altar may have place to sit and sing:
O Lord of hosts, thou art alway
my onely God and King.
O they be blessed that may dwell
within thy house always:
For they all times thy facts do tell,
and ever give thee praise.
Yes, happy sure likewise are they whose stay and strength thou art:

Which to thy house do mind the way
and seek it in their heart.
As they go through the vale of tears.
they dig up fountains still,
That as a spring it all appears,
and thou their pits dost fill.
7 From strength to strength they walk full no faintness there shall be: (fast,
And so the God of gods at last in Sion they do see.
8 O Lord of hosts, to me give heed,
and hearken to my cry:
And let it through thine ears proceed,
O Jacobs God most high.
9 O God our shield, of thy good grace regard and so draw near:
Regard, O Lord, behold the face
of thine anointed dear.
10 For why? within thy courts one day
is better to abide,
Then other where to keep or stay
a thousand days beside.
Much rather had I keep a door
within the house of God,
Then in the tents of wickedness
to settle mine abode.
11 For God the Lord, light and defence
will grace and glory give:
And no good thing will he withhold
from them that purely live.
12 O Lord of hosts, that man is blest,
and happy sure is he,
That is perswaded in his breast
to trust all times in thee.

PSAL. LXXXV. J. H.

Thou hast been merciful indeed,
O Lord, unto thy land:
For thou restoredst Jacobs seed
from thraldom and from band.
1 The wicked ways that they were in,
thou didst them clean remit:
And thou didst hide thy peoples sin,
full close thou coveredst it.
2 And thou thine anger didst assuage,
that all thy wrath was gone:
And so didst turn thee from thy rage,
with them to be at one.
3 O God our health, do now convert thy people unto thee:
Put all thy wrath from us apart,
and angry cease to be.
4 Shall thy fierce anger never end,
but still be pour'd on us?
And shall thy wrath it self extend upon all ages thus?
5 Wilt thou not rather turn again,
and quicken us, that we
And all thy folk may evermore
be glad and joy in thee?
6 O Lord, on us do thou declare thy goodness to our wealth:
Shew forth to us, and do not spare;
thine aid and saving Health.

Psalm LXXXVI, LXXXVII.

1 Hearken what God saith to me,
 to his he speaketh peace:
 And to his saints, that never they return to foolishness.

2 For why? his help is still at hand
 to such as do him fear:
 Whereby great glory in our land shall dwell and flourish there.
 3 For truth and mercy there shall meet,
 in one to take their place:
 And peace shall justice with kisses greet,
 and there they shall embrace.

4 Truth from the earth shall spring apace,
 and flourish pleasantly:

5 So righteousness shall shew her face,
 and look from heav'n most high.

6 Yes, God himself doth take in hand
 to give us each good thing:
 And through the coasts of all the land
 the earth her fruit shall bring.

7 Before his face shall justice go much like a guide or stay:
 He shall direct his steps also,
 and keep them in the way.

PSAL. LXXXVI. J. H.

Lord, bow thine ear to my request,
 and hear me instantly:
 For with great pain and grief oppress'd,
 full poor and weak am I.

2 Preserve my soul, because my ways
 and doings holy be:
 And save thy servant, O my God,
 that puts his trust in thee.

3 Thy mercy upon me express,
 and me defend alway:
 For through the day I do not cease
 to thee, O Lord, to pray.

4 Comfort, O Lord, thy servants soul
 that now with pain is pin'd:
 For unto thee I do exalt,
 and lift my soul and mind.

5 For thou art good and bountiful,
 thy gifts of grace are free:
 Also thy mercy plentiful
 to all that call on thee.

6 O Lord, likewise when I do pray,
 regard and give an ear:
 Mark well the words that I do say,
 all my petitions hear.

7 In time when trouble doth me move,
 to thee I do complain:
 For why? I know and well do prove thou answerest me again.

8 Among the gods, O Lord, is none
 with thee to be compar'd:
 And none can do as thou hast done,
 the like hath not been heard.

The Second Part.

9 The Gentiles and the people all which thou didst make and frame
 before thy face on knees shall fall,
 and glorify thy Name.

For why? thou art so much O might,
 all power is thine own:

Thou werkest wonders still in sight,
 for thou art God alone.

11 O teach me, Lord, thy way, and I shall in thy truth proceed:

O joyn my heart to thee so nigh,
 that I thy Name may dread.

12 To thee will I give thanks and praise,
 O Lord, with all my heart:
 And glorify thy Name always,
 because my God thou art.

13 For why? thy mercy shew'd to me
 is great and doth excell:
 Thou sett'st my soul at liberty
 out from the lowest hell.

14 O Lord, the proud against me rise,
 And heaps of men of might:
 They seek my soul, and in no wise
 will have thee in their sight.

15 Thou, Lord, art merciful and kind,
 full slack and slow to wrath:
 Thy goodness is full great, I find thy truth no measure hath.

16 O turn to me, and mercy grant,
 thy strength to me apply:
 O help and save thine own servant,
 thy handmaide son am I.

17 On me some sign of favour show,
 that all my foes may see
 And be asham'd, because, Lord, thou dost help and comfort me.

PSAL. LXXXVII. J. H.

That city shall full well endure,
 her ground-work still doth stay
 Upon the holy hills full sure,
 it can no time decay.

2 God loves the gates of Sion best
 his grace doth there abide:
 He loves them more then all the rest of Jacobs tents beside.

3 Full glorious things reported be in Sion, and abroad:
 Great things, I say, are said of thee,
 thou city of our God.

4 On Rahab I will cast an eye,
 and bear in mind the same:
 To Babylon also apply,
 and them that know my Name

5 Lo, Palestine, and Tyre also,
 with Ethiopie likewise,
 A people old, full long ago
 were born, and there did rise.

6 Of Sion they shall say abroad,
 that divers men of fame
 Have there sprung up, and the high God
 hath founded fast the same.

7 In their records to them it shall
 by him be made appear,
 Of Sion, that the chief of all
 had his beginning there.

8 The trumpeters with as sing,
 there in great plenty be:
 My fountains and my pleasant springs
 are compass'd all in thee.

PSAL.

Psalm LXXXVIII, LXXXIX.

PSAL. LXXXVIII. J. H.

Lord God of health, the hope and stay
thou art alone to me,
I call and cry throughout the day,
and all the night to thee.

O let my prayer soon ascend unto thy sight on high:
Incline thine ear, O Lord, attend,
and hearken to my cry.

For why? with we my heart is fill'd,
and doth in trouble dwell:

My life and breath doth almost yield,
and draweth nigh to hell.

I am esteem'd as one of them
that in the pit do fall:

And made as one among those men
that have no strength at all.

As one among the dead, and free
from things that here remain:

It were more ease for me to be with them the which are slain.

As those that lie in grave, I say,
whom thou hast clean forgot:

The which thy hand hath cut away,
and thou regard'st them not.

Yea, like to one shut up full sure
within the lower pit,

In places dark and all obscure,
and in the depth of it.

Thine anger and thy wrath likewise
full sore on me doth lie:

And all thy storms against me rise,
my soul to vex and try.

Thou putt'st my friends far off from me,
and mak'st them hate me sore:

I am shut up in prison fast,
and can come forth no more.

My sight doth fall through grief & wo,
I call to thee, O God:

Throughout the day my hands also
to thee I stretch abroad.

The Second Part.

Doth thou unto the dead declare
thy wondrous works of fame?

Shall dead to life again repair,
and praise thee for the same?

Or shall thy loving-kindness, Lord,
be preached in the grave?

Or shall with them that are destroy'd
thy truth her honour have?

Shall they that lie in dark full low,
see all thy wonders great?

Or there shall they thy justice know where men all things forget?

But I, O Lord, to thee always do cry and call apace:

My prayer also e're it be day
shall come before thy face.

Why dost thou, Lord, abhor my soul,
in grief that seeketh thee?

And now, O Lord, why dost thou hide
thy face away from me?

I am afflicted, dying still
from y outh many a year,

Thy terrors which do work me
with troubled mind I bear.

17 The furies of thy wrathful rage
full sore upon me lie.

Thy terrors they do not assuage,
but press me heavily.

18 All day they compass me about,
as water at the tide:

And all at once with streams full great beset me on each side.

19 Thou settest far from me my friends
and lovers every one:

Yea, and my old acquaintance all
out of my sight are gone.

PSAL. LXXXIX. J. H.

TO sing the mercies of the Lord
my tongue shall never spare:

And with my mouth from age to age
thy truth I will declare.

2 For I have said, that mercy shall
for evermore remain:

In that thou dost the heav'ns support
thy truth appeareth plain.

3 To mine elect, saith God, I made a covenant and behest:

My servant David to persuade
I swore and did protest:

4 Thy seed for ever I will say,
and stablish it full fast:

And still uphold thy throne alway
from age to age to last.

5 The heav'ns do shew with joy & mirth
thy wondrous works, O Lord:

Thy saints within thy Church on earth
thy faith and truth record.

6 Who with the Lord is equal the
in all the clouds abroad?

Among the sons of all the gods,
what one is like our God?

7 God in assembly of the saints
is greatly to be dread:

And over all that dwell about
in terror to be had.

8 Lord God of hosts, in all the world
what one is like to thee?

On every side, most mighty Lord,
thy truth is seen to be.

9 The rage and fury of the sea
thou rulest at thy will:

And when the waves thereof arise,
thou mak'st them calm and still.

10 And Egypt, Lord, thou hast subdu'd,
thou hast it quite destroy'd:

Yea, thou thy foes with mighty arm
hast scatter'd all abroad.

The Second Part.

11 The heavens are thine, & still have been likewise the earth and land:

The world and all that is therein,
thou foundedst with thy hand.

12 Both north and south, with east & west,
thy self didst make and frame:

Both Tabor mount, and Hermon hills,
rejoyce and praise thy Name.

Psalm LXXXIX.

Thine arm is strong and full of power,
all might therein doth lie:
The strength of thy right hand each hour
thou liftest up on high.

14 In righteousness and equity
thou hast thy seat and place:
Mercy and truth are still with thee,
and go before thy face.

15 That folk is blest that knows aright
the joyful sound, O God:
For in the favour of thy sight
they walk full safe abroad.

16 For in thy Name throughout the day
they greatly do rejoyce:
And through thy righteousness have they
a pleasant fame and noise.

17 For why? their glory, strength, and aid
in thee alone doth lie:
And thy goodness that hath us staid,
shall lift our horn on high.

18 Our strength that doth defend us well
the Lord to us doth bring:
The holy One of Israel,
he is our guide and King.

19 Sometimes thy will unto thy saints
in visions thou didst show:
And thus then didst thou say to them,
thy mind to make them know:

20 A man of might I have crect,
your king and guide to be:
And set him up whom I elect
among the folk to me.

The Third Part.

21 My servant David I have found,
for he doth please me well:
And have anointed him king of my people Israel.

22 For why? my hand is ready still
with him for to remain:
And with mine arm also I will him strengthen and sustain.

23 The enemies shall not oppress,
they shall him not devour:
Nor shall the sons of wickedness
on him have any power.

24 His foes likewise I will destroy
before his face in sight:
And those that hate him I will plague
and strike them with my might.

25 My truth and mercy also shall upon him ever lie:
And in my Name his horn shall be exalted very high.

26 His kingdom I will set to be upon the sea and land:
Also the running floods shall he embrace with his right hand.

27 He shall depend with all his heart
on me, and thus shall say,
My father and my God thou art,
my rock of health and stay.

28 As my first-born I will him take
of all increase that I bring:

His might and honour I will raise above all earthly kings.

29 My mercy shall be with him still,
as I my self have told:

My faithful cov'nant to fulfill
my mercy I will hold.

30 Also his seed I will sustain
for ever strong and sure:
O that his seat shall still remain
while heaven and earth endure

The Fourth Part.

31 If that his sons forsake my law,
and so begin to swerve:

And of my judgments have no aw,
nor will not them observe,

32 Or if they do not use aright
my laws for them prepar'd:
But set all my commandments light,
and will them not regard:

33 Then with the rod will I begin their doings to amend,
And so will scourge them for their sin,
whenever they offend.

34 But yet my mercy and goodness
I will not take away
From him, nor let my faithfulness
in any wise decay.

35 But sure my cov'nant I will hold,
with all that I have spoke:
No word the which my lips have told,
shall alter or be broke.

36 Once sware I by my holiness,
and that perform will I:
With David I shall keep promise,
to him I will not lie.

37 His seed for evermore shall reign,
also his throne of might:
As doth the sun, it shall remain
for ever in my sight.

38 And as the moon within the skie
for ever standeth fast
A faithful witness from on high,
so shall his kingdom last.

39 But, Lord, thou dost him now reject,
and put him in great fear:
Yea, thou art wroth with thine elect,
thine own anointed dear.

40 The cov'nant with thy servant made,
Lord, thou hast quite undone:
And down upon the ground also hast cast his royal crown.

The Fifth Part.

41 Thou pluck'st his hedges up with might,
his walls thou dost confound:
Thou beatest all his bulwarks down,
casting them to the ground.

42 That he is sore destroy'd and torn of corners by throughout:
And so is made a mock and scorn
to all that dwell about.

43 Thou their right hand hast lifted up
that him so sore annoy:
And all his foes that him devour
I e, thou hast made to joy!

Psalm XC, XCI.

44 His sword's edge thou dost take away,
that should his foes withstand:
To him in war no victory
thou giv'st, nor upper hand.

45 His glory thou dost also waste,
his throne, his joy, his mirth
By thee is overthrown and cast
full low upon the earth.

46 Thou hast cut off and made full short
his youth and joyful days:
And rais'd of him an ill report,
with shame and great dispraise.

47 How long away from me, O Lord,
for ever wilt thou turn?
And shall thine anger still alway
as fire consume and burn?

48 O call to mind, remember then,
my time consumeth fast:
Why hast thou made the sons of men
as things in vain to waste?

49 What man is he that liveth here,
and death shall never see?
Or from the hand of hell his soul
shall he deliver free?

50 Where is, O Lord, thine own goodness
so oft declar'd before,
Which by thy truth and uprightness
to David thou hast swore?

51 The great rebukes to mind I call
that on thy servants lie:
The railings of the people all,
born in my breast have I, 52 Wherewith, O Lord, thine enemies
blasphemed have thy Name:
The steps of thine anointed one
they cease not to defame.

53 All praise be given unto thee,
O God the Lord most high,
From this time forth for evermore,
Amen, amen, say I.

PSALM XC. J. H.

THOU, Lord, hast been our sure defence,
our place of ease and rest,
In all times past, yea so long since
as cannot be express.

1 Ere there was made mountain or hill,
the earth and world abroad:
From age to age, and always still,
for ever thou art God.

2 Thou grindest man through grief & pain
to dust or clay, and then,
Thou unto them again dost say,
Return ye sons of men.

3 The lasting of a thousand years,
what is it in thy sight?
As yesterday it doth appear,
or as a watch by night.

4 So soon as thou dost scatter them,
then is their life and trade
Even as a sleep, or like the grass,
whose beauty soon doth fade:

5 Which in the morning shines fall bright,
but fadeth by and by:
And is cut down ere it be night,
all withered, dead, and dry,

7 For through thine anger we consume
our might is much decay'd:
And of thy fervent wrath, O Lord,
we are full sore afraid.

8 The wicked works that we have wrought
thou sett'st before thine eye:
Our privy faults, yea, all our thoughts
thy countenance doth spy.

9 For through thy wrath our days do waste thereof doth nought remain:
Our years consume as doth a blast,
and are not call'd again.

10 The time of our abode on earth is threescore years and ten:
But if we come to fourscore years,
our life is grievous then

The Second Part.

11 For of this time the strength and chile
we dote so much upon,
Is nothing else but pain and grief,
and we as blasts are gone.

12 What man doth know what power, and what might thine anger hath?
Or in his heart who doth thee fear
according to thy wrath?

13 Instruct us, Lord, to know and try
how long our days remain:
That so we may our hearts apply
true wisdom to attain.

14 Return, O Lord, how long wilt thou
in thy great wrath proceed?
Shew favour to thy servants now,
and help them at their need.

15 Refresh us with thy mercy soon,
and then most cheerfully,
All times so long as life doth last,
in heart rejoyce will we.

16 As thou hast plagued us before,
now also make us glad:
And for the years wherein full sore affliction we have had.

17 O let thy work and power appear,
and on thy servants light:
And shew unto thy children dear
thy glory and thy might.

18 Lord, let thy grace and glory stand,
on us thy servants thus:
Confirm the works we take in hand,
and prosper them to us.

PSALM XCI. J. H.

HE that within the secret place
of God most high doth dwell:
In shadow of the mightiest grace
at rest shall keep him well.

1 Thou art my hope and my strong hold,
I to the Lord will say:
My God is he, in him will I
my whole affiance stay.

2 He shall defend thee from the snare
the which the hunter laid:
And from the deadly plague and care
whereof thou art afraid:

3 And with his wings shall cover thee
and keep thee safely there:

Psalm XCII, XCII.

His faith and truth thy fence shall be,
as sure as shield and spear.
5 So that thou never shalt have cause
to fear or be affright,
For all the shafts that die by day,
or terrors of the night:
6 Nor of the plague that privily
doth walk in dark so fast:
Nor yet of that which doth destroy,
and at noon-day doth waste.
7 Yes, at thy side as thou dost stand,
a thousand dead shall be:
Ten thousand more at thy right hand,
and yet shalt thou be free.
8 But thou shalt see it for thy part,
thine eyes shall well regard,
According unto their desert
the wicked have reward.
9 For why? O Lord, I only rest and stay my hope on thee:
In the most High I put my trust,
my sure defence is he.
10 No evil thou shalt need to fear,
with thee it shall go well:
No plague shall ever once come near
the house where thou dost dwell.
11 For why? unto his angels all with charge commanded he,
That still in all thy ways they shall preserve and prosper thee:
12 And in their hands shall bear thee up,
still waiting thee upon:
So that thy foot shall never chance
to dash against a stone.
13 Upon the lion thou shalt go,
the adder fell and long:
And tread upon the lions young,
with dragons stout and strong.
14 Because he sets his love on me,
I'll save him by my might:
And him advance, because that he doth know my Name aright.
15 When he for help to me doth cry,
an answer I will give:
And from his grief take him will I
in glory for to live.
16 With length of years, & days of w^{is}dom
I will fulfill his time:
The goodness of my saving-health
I will declare to him.

PSAL. XCII. J. H.

IT is a thing both good and meet
to praise the highest Lord:
And to thy Name, O thou most High
to sing with one accord:
2 To shew the kindness of the Lord
betime e're day be light:
And to declare his truth abroad
when it doth draw to night.
3 Upon ten-stringed instrument,
or lute and harp so sweet:
With all the mirth you can invent
of instruments most meet.

4 For thou hast made me so rejoyce
in things so wrought by thee:
That I have joy in heart and voice
thy handy-works to see.
5 O Lord, how glorious and how great
are all thy works so stout!
So deeply are thy counsels set,
that none can find them out.
6 The man unwise hath not the wit
this work to pass to bring:
And all such fools are nothing fit,
to understand this thing.
7 Whenas the wicked at their will like grass do spring full fast,
And when they flourish in their ill,
they shall for ever waste.
8 But thou art mighty, Lord most high and thou dost reign therefore in every time eternally,
both now and evermore.
9 Behold, O Lord, thine enemies
shall be destroy'd alway:
And all that work iniquity
shall perish and decay.
10 But thou, like as an unicorn,
shalt lift mine horn on high With fresh and new prepared oil
anointed king am I.
11 And of my foes before mine eyes shall see the fall and shame:
Of all that up against me rise,
mine ears shall hear the same.
12 The just shall flourish upon high as palm-trees bud and blow:
And as the cedars multiply
in Libanus that grow.
13 For they are planted in the place
and dwelling of our God:
Within his courts they spring apace,
and flourish all abroad.
14 And in their age much fruit shall bring both fat and well beeen:
And pleasantly both bud and spring
with boughs and branches green.
15 To shew that God is good and just,
and upright in his will:
He is my rock, my hope, and trust,
in him there is none ill.

PSAL. XCII. J. H.

THE Lord doth reign, and clothed is
with majesty most bright:
And to declare his strength likewise,
hath girt himself with might.
The Lord likewise the earth hath made
and shaped it so sure,
No might can make it move or fade,
at stay it doth endure.
E're that the world was made or wrought
thy seat was set before:
Beyond all time that can be thought,
thou hast been evermore.
The floods, O Lord, the floods do rise
& they ore and make a noise

Psalm XCIV, XCV.

The floods, I say, did enterprise,
and lifted up their voice.
Yea, though the storms arise in fight,
though seas do rage and swell:
The Lord is strong and more of might,
for he on high doth dwell.
O Lord, thy testimonies great,
are very sure: therefore Both holiness right well become thy house for evermore.

P S A L. XCIV. J. H.

O Lord, thou dost revenge all wrong,
vengeance belongs to thee:
Since then it doth to thee belong,
declare that all may see.

1 Set forth thy self, for thou of right
the earth dost judge and guide:
Reward the proud and men of might
according to their pride.

2 How long shall wicked men bear sway
with lifting up their voice?

Shall proud and wicked men alway,
thus triumph and rejoyce?

3 How long shall they with brags burst out,
and proudly prate their fill?

Shall they rejoyce that be so stout,
whose works are ever ill?

4 Thy flock, O Lord, thine heritage
they spoil and vex full sore:

Against thy people they do rage
still daily more and more.

5 The widows which are comfortless,
and strangers they destroy:

They slay the children fatherless,
and none doth put them by.

6 And when they take these things in hand,
this talk they have of thee,

Can Jacobs God this understand?
Nay, no, he cannot see.

7 O folk unwise, and people rude,
some knowledge now discern:

Ye fools among the multitude,
at length begin to learn.

8 The Lord which made the ear of man,
he needs of sight must hear:

He made the eye, all things must then before his sight appear.

9 The Lord doth all the world correct,
and make them understand:

Shall he not then your deeds detect?
how can ye scape his hand?

The Second Part.

10 The Lord doth know the thoughts of his heart he sees full plain: (man,

And he their very thoughts doth scan,
and findeth them but vain.

11 But, Lord, that man is happy sure,
whom thou dost keep in awe,

And through correction dost procure
to teach him in thy law.

12 Whereby he shall in quiet rest
in time of trouble sit:

When wicked men shall be suppress'd,
and fall into the pit.

13 For sure the Lord will not forsake
his people for to rake:

His heritage whom he did chuse,
he will no time forsake.

14 Until that judgment be decreed
to justice to convert:

That all may follow her with speed
that are of upright heart,

15 But who upon my part shall stand against the cursed train?

Or who shall rid me from their hand
that wicked works maintain?

16 Except the Lord had been mine aid,
mine enemies to quell:

My soul and life had now been laid
almost as low as hell.

17 When I did say, My foot doth slide
before that I could call:

Thy mercy, Lord, most ready was to save me from the fall.

18 When with my self I mused much,
and could no comfort find:

Then, Lord, thy goodness did me touch,
and that did ease my mind.

19 Wilt thou accustom, Lord, thy self with wicked men to sit:

Who with pretence instead of law
much mischief do commit?

20 For they consult against the life
of righteous men and good:

And in their counsels they are ripe
to shed the guiltless blood.

21 But yet the Lord is unto me
a sure and strong defence:

To him I flee, because he is my strength and confidence.

22 And he shall cause their mischief
themselves for to annoy:

And in their malice they shall fall,
our God shall them destroy.

P S A L. XCV. J. H.

O Come let us lift up our voice
and sing unto the Lord:

In him our rock of health rejoyce
let us with one accord.

1 Yea, let us come before his face
to give him thanks and praise:

In singing Psalms unto his grace
let us be glad alway.

2 For why? the Lord he is no doubt
a great and mighty God,

A King above all gods throughout
in all the world abroad.

3 The secrets of the earth so deep,
and corners of the land,

The tops of hills that are so steep,
he hath them in his hand.

4 The sea and waters all are his,
for he the same hath wrought:

The earth and all that therein is,
his hand hath made of nought.

5 Come let us bow and praise the Lord,
before him let us fall:

And kneel to him with one accord,
the which hath made us all.

Psalm XCVI, XCVII.

7 For why? he is the Lord our God,
 for us he doth provide:
 We see his flock, he doth us feed,
 his sheep, and he our Guide.
 8 To day if ye his voyce will hear,
 then harden not your heart:
 As ye with grudging many year
 provok'd me in desert.
 9 Whereas your fathers tempted me,
 my power for to prove:
 My wondrous works when they did see,
 yet still they would me move.
 10 Twice twenty years they did me grieve,
 and I to them did say,
 They ear in heart, and not believe,
 they have not known my way.
 11 Wherefore I wote when that my wrath
 was kindled in my breast,
 That they should never tread the path
 to enter in my rest.

P S A L. XCVI. J. H.

Sing ye with praise unto the Lord
 new song: with joy and mirth:
 Sing unto him with one accord,
 all people on the earth.
 2 Yea, sing unto the Lord alway,
 praise ye his holy Name:
 Declare and shew from day to day
 salvation by the same.
 3 Among the heathen all declare his honour round about:
 To shew his wonders do not spare
 in all the world throughout.
 4 For why? the Lord is much of might,
 and worthy of all praise:
 And he is to be dread of right,
 above all gods alway.
 5 For all the gods of heathen folk
 are idols that will fade:
 But yet our God he is the Lord
 that hath the heavens made.
 6 All praise and honour also dwell
 ever before his face:
 Both power and might likewise excel
 within his holy place.
 7 Ascribe unto the Lord therefore,
 all men with one accord:
 All might and worship evermore
 ascribe unto the Lord.
 8 Ascribe unto the Lord also the glory of his Name:
 Also into his courts do go
 with gifts unto the same.

The Second Part.

9 Fall down and worship ye the Lord
 within his temple bright:
 Let all the people of the world
 be fearful at his sight.
 10 Tell all the world, be not afraid,
 the Lord doth reign above:
 Woe, he the earth so fast hath stay'd
 that it can never move.
 11 And that it is the Lord alone that rules with princely might,

To judge the nations every
 with equity and right.
 12 The heavens shall joyfully begin,
 the earth likewise rejoyce:
 The sea with all that is therein
 shall shout and make a noise.
 13 The fields shall joy, and every thing
 that springeth on the earth:
 The wood and every tree shall sing
 with gladness and with mirth:
 14 Before the presence of the Lord,
 and coming of his might:
 When he shall justly judge the world,
 and rule his folk with right.

P S A L. XCVII. J. H.

The Lord doth reign, whereat the earth
 may joy with pleasant voice:
 Also the isles with joyful mirth
 may triumph and rejoyce.
 2 Both clouds and darkness likewise swell,
 and round about him beat:
 Yea, right and justice ever dwell
 and bide about his seat.
 3 Yea, fire and heat at once do run,
 and go before his face:
 Which all his enemies shall burn
 abroad in every place.
 4 His lightnings great full bright did blaze
 and to the world appeare:
 Whereat the earth did look and gaze
 with dread and deadly fear.
 5 The hills like wax did melt in sight
 and presence of the Lord:
 They fled before that Rulers might,
 which guideth all the world.
 6 The heav'ns likewise declare and shew
 his justice forth abroad,
 That all the world may see and know
 the glory of our God.
 7 Confusion sure shall come to such as worship idols vain:
 Also to those that glory much
 dumb pictures to maintain.
 8 For all the idols of the world,
 which they their gods do call,
 Shall feel the power of the Lord,
 and down to him shall fall.
 9 With joy shall Sion hear this thing,
 and Judah shall rejoyce:
 For at thy judgments they shall sing,
 with a most chearful voice.
 10 For thou, O Lord, art set on high,
 in all the earth abroad:
 And art exalted wondrously
 above each other god.
 11 All ye that love the Lord, do this,
 hate all things that are ill:
 For he doth keep the souls of his
 from such as would them spill.
 12 And light doth spring up to the just,
 with pleasure for his part:
 Gladness and joy likewise to them
 that are of upright heart.

Psalm XCVIII, XCIX, C, CI.

Ye righteous in the Lord rejoyce,
his holiness proclaim:
And thankfully with heart and voice,
be mindful of the same.

PSALM XCVIII. J. H.

Sing ye now unto the Lord
a new and pleasant song:
For he hath wrought throughout the world
his wonders great and strong.
With his right hand full worthily
he doth his foes devour,
And gets himself the victory
with his own arm and power.
The Lord doth make the people know
his saving health and might:
And also doth his justice show
in all the heathens sight.
His grace and truth to Israel
in mind he doth record:
And all the earth hath seen right well
the goodness of the Lord.
Be glad in him with joyful voice,
all people of the earth:
Give thanks to God, sing and rejoyce
to him with joy and mirth.
Upon the harp unto him sing,
give thanks to him always:
Rejoyce before the Lord our King,
with trumpets sound his praise.
Yea, let the sea with all therein
for joy both rore and swell:
The earth likewise let it begin,
with all that therein dwell.
And let the floods rejoyce their fill,
and clap their hands apace:
Yea, let the mountains and the hills,
triumph before his face.
For he shall come to judge and try
the world and every wight:
And rule the people mightily
with justice and with right.

PSALM XCIX. J. H.

The Lord doth reign, although at it
the people rage full sore:
Yet, he on cherubims doth sit,
though all the world do rore.
The Lord that doth in Sion dwell,
is high and wondrous great:
Above all folk he doth excell,
and he aloft is set.
Let all men praise thy mighty Name,
for it is fearful sure:
And let them magnifie the same,
that holy is and pure.
The princely power of our King
doth love judgment and right:
Thou rightly rulest every thing
in Jacob through thy might.
To praise the Lord our God devise,
all honour to him shew:
And at his footstool worship him,
that holy is, and true.

Moses, Aaron, and Samuel,
as priests on him did call:
When they did pray he heard them well,
and gave them answer all.
Within the cloud to them he spake,
then did they labour still
To keep such laws as he did make
according to his will.
O Lord our God, thou didst them heare,
and answeredst them again:
But their inventions punished,
which foolish were and vain.
O praise our God and Lord therefore within his holy hill:
For why? our God whom we adore,
is holy ever still.

PSALM C. J. H.

All people that on earth do dwell,
sing to the Lord with cheerful voice:
Him serve with fear, his praise sore tell,
come ye before him and rejoyce.
The Lord ye know is God indeed,
without our aid he did us make:
We are his flock, he doth us feed,
and for his sheep he doth us take.
O enter then his gates with praise,
approach with joy his courts unto:
Praise, laud, and bleis his Name always:
for it is seemly so to do.
For why? the Lord our God is good,
his mercy is for ever sure:
His truth at all times firmly stood,
and shall from age to age endure.

Another of the same, by J. H.

In God the Lord be glad and light,
praise him throughout the earth:
Serve him, and come before his sight
with singing and with mirth.
Know that the Lord our God he is,
he did us make and keep,
Not we our selves: for we are his own flock and pasture-sheep.
O go into his gates always,
give thanks within the same:
Within his courts set forth his praise,
and laud his holy Name.
For why? the goodness of the Lord
for evermore doth reign:
From age to age throughout the world
his truth doth still remain.

PSALM CI. N.

My mercy will and judgment sing,
O Lord God, unto thee:
O let me understand the ways
that good and holy be.
Within my house I'll daily walk
with heart pure and upright:
And I no kind of wicked thing
will set before my sight.
There their works that fall away:
they shall not cleave to me.

From

Psalm CII.

4 From me shall pass the froward heart,
 none evil will I see.
 5 Him I'll destroy that slandereth
 his neighbour privily:
 The lofty heart I cannot bear,
 nor him that looketh high.
 6 Mine eyes shall be on them within
 the land that faithful be:
 In perfect way who walketh, shall be servant unto me.
 7 I will no guileful person have within my house to dwell:
 And in my presence he shall not remain that lies doth tell.
 8 Betimes I will destroy even all
 the wicked of the land:
 That I may from Gods city cut
 the wicked workers hand.

PSALM CII. N.

Hear thou my prayer, O Lord, and let
 my cry come unto thee:
 1 In time of trouble do not hide
 thy face away from me.
 2 Incline thine ear to me, make haste
 to hear me when I call:
 For as the smoke doth fade, so do
 my days consume and fall.
 3 And as an hearth my bones are burnt,
 my heart is smitten dead,
 And withers like the grass, that I forget to eat my bread.
 4 By reason of my groaning voice
 my bones cleave to my skin:
 5 As pelican in wilderness,
 such case now am I in.
 And as an owl in desert is,
 so, I am such an one:
 6 I watch, and as a sparrow on the house-top am alone.
 7 Lo, daily in reproachful wise
 my foes they do me scorn:
 And them that do against me rage,
 against me they have sworn.
 8 Surely with ashes as with bread,
 my hunger I have fill'd:
 And mingled have my drink with tears
 that from mine eyes distill'd.
 9 Because of thy displeasure, Lord,
 thy wrath and thy disdain:
 For thou hast lifted me aloft,
 and cast me down again.
 10 The days wherein I pass my life,
 are like the fleeting shade:
 And I am with'ed like the grass
 that soon away doth fade.
 11 But thou, O Lord, forever dost
 remain in steady place:
 And thy remembrance ever doth abide from race to race.

The Second Part.

12 Thou wilt arise, and mercy thou
 to Sion wilt extend:

The time of mercy, now the time
 foreset is come to end.
 13 For in the very stones thereof
 thy servants do delight:
 And on the dust thereof they have compassion in their sight.
 14 Then shall the heathen people fear
 the Lords most holy Name:
 And all the kings on earth shall dread
 thy glory and thy fame.
 15 Then when the Lord the mighty God again shall Sion rear:
 And then when he most nobly in his glory shall appear.
 16 To pray'r of the poor desolate
 when he himself shall bend:
 When he shall not disdain unto their pray'rs for to attend.
 17 This shall be written for the age
 that after shall succeed:
 The people that are yet unborn,
 the Lords renown shall spread.
 18 From his high sanctuary he hath looked down below:
 And out of heav'n's most high he hath beheld the earth also.
 19 That of the mourning captive he might hear the woful cry:
 And that he might deliver them
 that were condemn'd to die.
 20 That they in Sion may declare
 the Lords most holy Name:
 And in Jerusalem set forth
 the praises of the same:
 21 Then when the people of the land and kingdoms with accord
 shall be assembled to perform their service to the Lord.

The Third Part.

22 My former force of strength he hath abated in the way:
 And shorter he did cut my days,
 thus I therefore did say,
 23 My God, in midst of all my days
 now take me not away:
 Thy years endure eternally,
 and never do decay.
 24 Thou the foundations of the earth
 before all time hast laid:
 The heav'ns also, they are the work
 which thine own hands have made.
 25 They all shall perish and decay,
 but thou remainest still:
 And they shall all in time wax old
 even as a garment will.
 26 Thou as a garment shalt them change,
 and changed shall they be:
 But thou dost still abide the same,
 thy years do never see.
 27 The children of thy servants shall continually endure:
 And in thy light their happy feed
 for ever shall stand sure.

Psalm CIII, CIV.

P S A L. CIII. T.S.

MY soul, give laud unto the Lord,
 my spirit do the same:
 And all the secrets of my heart,
 praise ye his holy Name.
 2 Give thanks to God for all his gifts,
 shew not thy self unkind:
 And suffer not his benefits
 to slip out of thy mind.
 3 That gave thee pardon for thy faults,
 and thee restor'd again,
 From all thy weak and frail disease,
 and heal'd thee of thy pain.
 4 That did redeem thy life from death;
 from which thou couldst not flee:
 His mercy and compassion both
 he did extend to thee.
 5 That fill'd with goodness thy desire,
 and did prolong thy youth:
 Like as the eagle casts her bill,
 whereby her age renew'th.
 6 The Lord with justice doth repay
 all such as be oppress'd:
 So that their sufferings and their wrongs
 are turned to the best.
 7 His ways and his commandments all
 to Moses he did show:
 His counsels and his valiant acts
 the Israelites did know.
 8 The Lord is kind and merciful
 when sinners do him grieve:
 The slowest to conceive a wrath,
 and readiest to forgive.
 9 He chides not us continually,
 though we be full of strife:
 Nor keeps our faults in memory,
 for all our sinful life.
 10 Nor yet according to our sins
 the Lord doth us regard:
 And after our iniquities
 he doth us not reward.
 11 But as the space is wondrous great
 'twixt earth and heav'n above:
 So is his goodness much more large
 to them that do him love.
 12 God doth remove our sins from us,
 and our offences all,
 As far as the sun-rising is full distant from his fall.

The Second Part.

13 And look what pity parents dear
 unto their children bear:
 Like pity beareth God to such as worship him in fear.
 14 The Lord that made us knows our shape,
 our mould and fashion just:
 How weak and frail our nature is,
 and how we are but dust.
 15 And how the time of mortal men
 is like the with'ring hay:
 Or like the flower right fair in field,
 that fades full soon away.

16 Whose gloss and beauty stormy winds
 do utterly disgrace:
 And make that after their assaults
 such blossoms have no place.
 17 But yet the goodness of the Lord
 with his shall ever stand:
 Their childrens children do receive his righteousness at hand.
 18 I mean, which keep his covenant
 with all their whole desire:
 And not forget to do the thing
 that he doth them require.
 19 The heav'ns most high are made the seat
 and footstool of the Lord:
 And by his power imperial
 he governs all the world.
 20 Ye angels which are great in power,
 praise ye and bless the Lord:
 Which to obey and do his will immediately accord.
 21 Ye noble hosts and ministers,
 cease not to laud him still:
 Which ready are to execute
 his pleasure and his will.
 22 Yea, all his works in every place
 praise ye his holy Name:
 My thankful heart, my mind and soul,
 praise ye also the same.

P S A L. CIV. W.K.

MY soul, praise the Lord,
 speak good of his Name:
 O Lord our great God,
 how dost thou appear
 So passing in glory,
 that great is thy Honour and majesty
 in thee shine most clear.
 2 With light as a robe,
 thou hast thy self clad,
 Whereby all the earth
 thy greatness may see:
 The heavens in such sort thou also hast spread,
 That it to a curtain
 compared may be.
 3 His chamber-beams lie
 in the clouds full sure,
 Which as his chariots,
 are made him to bear:
 And there with much swift noise
 his course doth endure,
 Upon the wings riding
 of winds in the air.
 4 He maketh his spirits
 as heralds to go:
 And lightnings to serve
 we see also prest:
 His will to accomplish
 they run to and fro,
 To save or consume things,
 as seemeth him best.
 5 He groundeth the earth
 so firmly and fast,

Psalm CIV.

That it once to move
none shall have such power.
6 The deep a fair covering for it made thou hast:
Which by his own nature
the hills would devour.
7 But at thy rebuke
the waters do flee:
And so give due place
thy word to obey.
At thy voice of thunder
so fearful they be,
That in their great raging
they haste soon away.
8 The mountains full high
they then up ascend:
If thou do but speak,
my word they fulfill.
So likewise the valleys
most quickly descend,
Where thou them appointed remain they do still.
9 Their bounds thou hast set
how far they shall run,
So that in their rage
not that pass they can:
For God hath appointed
they shall not return
The earth to destroy more,
which made was for man.

The Second Part.

10 He sendeth the springs
to strong streams or lakes,
Which run do full swift
among the huge hills:
11 Where both the wild asses
their thirst oft-times slake,
And beasts of the mountains
thereof drink their sakes.
12 By these pleasant springs
of fountains full fair,
The fowls of the air
abide still and dwell:
Who moved by nature
to hop up and there, Among the green branches
their songs shall excell.
13 The mountains to moast
the clouds he doth use:
The earth with his works
is wholly repeat.
14 So as the brute cattle
he doth not refuse:
But grass doth provide them,
and herb for mans meat.
15 Yea, bread, wine, and oyl
be made for mans sake,
His face to refresh,
and heart to make strong.
16 The cedars of Liban
this great Lord did make:
Which trees he doth nourish
that grow up so long.

17 In these may birds build and make there their nest:
In fir-trees the storks remain and abide.
18 The high hills are succours
for wild goats to rest:
Also the rock stony
for conies to hide.
19 The moon then is set
her seasons to run:
The days from the nights
thereby to discern:
And by the descending
allo of the sun,
The cold from heat alway
thereby we do learn.
20 When darkness doth come
by Gods will and power,
Then creep forth do all
the beasts of the wood.
21 The lions range soring
their prey to devour:
But yet it is thou, Lord,
which givest them food.
22 As soon as the sun
is up, they retire:
To couch in their dens
then are they full sate.
23 That man to his work may:
as right doth require,
Till night come and call him
to take rest again.

The Third Part.

24 How sundry, O Lord,
are all thy works found!
With wisdom full great
they are indeed wrought:
So that the whole world
of thy praise doth sound:
And as for thy riches,
they pass all mens thought.
25 So is the great sea,
which large is and broad,
Where things that creep swarm,
and beasts of each sort.
26 There mighty ships sail,
and some lie at rode:
The whale huge and monstrous
there also doth sport.
27 All things on thee wait,
thou dost them relieve:
And thou in due time
full well dost them feed.
28 Now when it doth please thee
the same for to give,
They gather full gladly
those things which they need.
Thou openest thy hand,
and they find such grace,
That they with good things
are filled we see.
29 But sore are they troubled
if thou turn thy face:
For if thou their breath take vile dust then they be.

30 Again, when thy spirit
from thee doth proceed
All things to appoint,
and what shall ensue:
Then are they created
as thou hast decreed:
And dost by thy goodness
the dry earth renew.

31 The praise of the Lord
for ever shall last,
Who may in his works
by right well rejoyce.
32 His look can the earth make
to tremble full fast,
And likewise the mountains
to smoke at his voice.

33 To this Lord and God
sing will I always:
So long as I live,
my God praise will I.

34 Then am I most certain
my words shall him please:
I will rejoyce in him,
to him will I cry.

35 The sinners, O Lord,
consume in thine ire:
Also the perverse,
them root out with snare:
But as for my soul now,
let it still desire,
And say with the faithful,
Praise ye the Lords Name.

PSALM CV: N.

Give praises unto God the Lord,
and call upon his Name:

Among the people all declare his works to spread his fame.

1 Sing joyfully unto the Lord,
yea, sing unto him praise:
And talk of all his wondrous works
that he hath wrought always.

2 In honour of his holy Name
rejoice with one accord:
And let the heart also be glad
of them that seek the Lord.

3 Seek ye the Lord, and seek the strength of his eternal might:
Seek his face continually,
and presence of his sight.

4 The wondrous works which he hath done
keep still in mindful heart:
Let not the judgments of his mouth
out of your mind depart:

5 Ye that of faithful Abraham
his servants are the seed:
Ye his elect, the children that of Jacob do proceed.

6 For why? 'tis he alone that is the mighty Lord our God:
And his most righteous judgments are through all the earth abroad.

7 His promise and his covenant
which he hath made to his,
He hath remembered evermore
to thousands of degrees.

The Second Part:

8 The covenant which he hath made with Abraham long ago,
And faithful oath which he hath (worn)
to Isaac also:

9 And did appoint it for a law,
that Jacob should obey,
And for eternal covenant
to Israel alway.

10 When thus he said, Lo, I to you all Canaan land will give,
The lot of your inheritance,
wherein your seed shall live.

11 Although their number at that time
did very small appear:
Yea, very small, and in the land
they then but strangers were.

12 While yet they walkt from land to land
without a sure abode.
And while from sundry kingdoms they did wander all abroad.

13 Yet wrong at no oppressors hand
he suffered them to take:
But even the great and mighty kings
reproved for their sake.

14 And thus he said, Touch ye not those that mine anointed be:
Nor do the prophets any harm
that do pertain to me.

15 He call'd a dearth upon the land
of bread destroy'd the store:
But yet against the time of need
did send a man before.

The Third Part.

16 Even Joseph which had once been sold to live a slave in wo:
Whose feet they hurt in stocks, whose soul
the irons pierc'd into.

17 Until the time came when his cause
was known apparently,
The mighty word of God the Lord
his faultless truth did try.

18 The king sent and deliver'd him
from prison where he was:
The ruler of the people then
did freely let him pass.

19 And over all his house he made him Lord, to bear the sway:
And of his substance made him have the rule and all the stay.

20 That he might to his will instruct
the princes of the land:
And wisdom teach his senators rightly to understand.

21 Then into the Egyptian land came Israel also:
And Jacob in the land of Ham
did sojourn to and fro.

22 His people he exceedingly
in number made to grow:
And over all their enemies
in strength he made them grow.

23 Whole heart he turned, that with power
they did his people trust:

Psalm CVI.

And did his servants wrongfully abuse with false deceit.

The Fourth Part.

26 His faithful servant Moses then,
and Aaron whom he chose,
He did command to go to them,
his message to disclose.

27 His wonderful and mighty signs
among them he did shew:
And wonders in the land of Ham
then did they work also.

28 Darkness he sent, and made it dark
in stead of brighter day:
And his commission and his word
they did not disobey.

29 He turn'd their waters into bloud,
and did their fishes slay:

30 Their land brought frogs even in the where their king Pharaoh lay. (place

31 He spake, and at his voice there came great swarms of noisome flies:

And all the quarters of their land
were fill'd with crawling lice.

32 He gave them cold and stony hail
instead of milder rain:

And fiery flames within their land
he sent unto their pain.

33 He smote their vines and all the trees
whereon their figs did grow:

And all the trees within their coasts
also did overthrow.

34 He spake, then caterpillars did
and grasshoppers abound:

35 Eating the grass in all their land,
and fruit of all their ground.

The Fifth Part.

36 The first-begotten in their land,
with death did likewise smite:

Yea, the beginning and first-fruit
of all their strength and might.

37 With gold and silver caused them
from Egypt land to pass:

And in the number of their tribes
no feeble one there was.

38 Egypt was glad and joyful then
when they did thence depart:

For terrour and the fear of them
was fill'd upon their heart.

39 To shroud them from the parching heat,
a cloud he did display:

And fire he sent to give them light
when night had had the day.

40 They asked, and he caused quails
to rain at their request:

And fully with the bread of heaven
their hunger he repress'd.

41 He opened the stony rock,
and waters gushed out:

Also the dry and parched ground
like rivers ran about.

42 For of his holy cov'nant he was mindful evermore:

Which to his servant Abraham
he plight'd long before.

43 He brought his people forth with mirth
and his elect with joy,
Out of the cruel land where they had liv'd in great annoy.

44 And of the heathen men he gave to them the fruitful lands:

The labours of the people did
they take into their hands.

45 That they his holy statutes might observe for evermore,

And faithfully obey his laws.

Praise ye the Lord therefore.

P S A L. CVI. N.

Praise ye the Lord, for he is good,
his mercy lasts alway:

1 Who can express his noble acts,
or all his praise display?

2 They blessed are that judgment keep,
and justly do alway.

3 With favour of thy people Lord,
remember me, I pray:

And with thy saving health, O Lord,
vouchsafe to visit me:

4 That I the great felicity
of thine elect may see:

And with thy peoples joy I may
a joyful mind possess,

And may with thine inheritance
a cheerful heart express.

5 Both we and our forefathers all have sinned every one:

We have committed wickedness,
and very lewdly done.

6 The wonders great which thou, O Lord,
hast done in Egypt land,

Our fathers though they saw them all,
yet did not understand:

Nor they thy mercies multitude
did keep in thankful mind:

But at the sea, yea, the Red sea,
rebelled most unkind.

7 Nevertheless he saved them
for honour of his Name:

That he might make his power known,
and spread abroad his fame.

8 The Red sea he did then rebuke,
and forthwith it was dri'd:

And as in wilderness, so through the deep he did them guide.

9 He sav'd them from the cruel hand
of their despightful foe,

And from their enemies he did deliver them also.

The Second Part.

10 The waters did them overwhelm,
not one was left alive:

11 Then they believ'd his word, and praise
in song they did him give.

12 But very soon unthankfully
his works they cleave forgot:

And for his counsel and his will
they did neglect to wait:

But fainted in the wilderness
with fond and greedy lust:

And

Psalm CVI.

And in the desert tempted God,
the stay of all their trust.

15 Who then their wanton minds desire did suffer them to have:
But wasting leanness therewithall
into their souls he gave.

16 Then when they lodged in their tents,
at Moses they did grutch:

Aaron the holy of the Lord
they also envy'd much.

17 Therefore the earth did open wide,
and Dathan did devour:
And all Abirams company
did cover in that hour.

18 In their assembly kindled was a hot consuming fire:

And wasting flame did then burn up
the wicked in his ire.

19 Upon the hill of Horeb they
an idol-calf did frame:

And there the molten image they did worship of the same.

20 Thus to the likeness of a calf
which feedeth on the grass,
They turned all their glory, and their honour did deface.

21 And God their only Saviour
unthankfully forgot,
Which many great and mighty things
in Egypt land had wrought:

The Third Part.

22 And in the land of Ham for them
most wondrous works had done,
And by the Red sea dreadful things
performed long ago.

23 Therefore because they shew'd themforgetful and unkind, (selves)
To bring destruction on them all
he purpos'd in his mind:

Had not his chosen Moses stood before him in the way,
To turn away his wrath, lest he should them destroy and slay.

24 They did despise the pleasant land
that he to them did give:
Yea, and the words that he had spoke
they did no whit believe.

25 But in their tents with grudging heart
they wickedly repin'd,

Nor to the voice of God the Lord
did give an heark'ning mind.

26 Therefore against them lifted he his strong revenging hand,
Them to destroy in wilderness
e're they should see the land:

27 And to destroy their seed among the nations with his rod,
And through the kingdoms of the world
to scatter them abroad.

28 To Baal-peor they did joyn
themselves most wickedly:
The sacrifices of the dead
eating most greedily.

29 Thus they with their inventions
his anger did provoke:

And in his sore enkindled wrath
the plague upon them broke.

30 But Phinehas stood up with zeal
the sinners vile to slay:

And judgment he did execute,
and then the plague did stay.

The Fourth Part.

31 It was imputed unto him
for righteousness that day:

And from thenceforth so counted is
from race to race alway,

32 At waters called Meribah
they did him angry make:

Yea, so far forth, that Moses then
was punish'd for their sake:

33 Because they vex'd his spirit so,
that in impatient heat

His lips spake unadvisedly,
his fervour was so great.

34 Nor as the Lord commanded them,
did they the people slay:

35 But were among the heathen mixt
and learn'd their wicked way:

36 They did their idols serve, which was their ruin and decay:

37 To heads their sons and daughters they did offer up and slay.

38 Yea, with unkind and murder'ing knife
the guiltless blood they spilt:

Yea, their own sons and daughter blood
without all cause of guilt.

Whom they to Canaan idols then
off'red with wicked hand:

And so with blood of innocents
defiled was the land.

39 Thus were they stained with the work
of their own filthy way:

And with their own inventions
a whoring went astray.

40 Therefore against his people was his anger kindled sore:

And even his own inheritance
he did abhor therefore.

41 Into the hands of heathen men
he gave them for a prey,

And made their foes their lords, whom they were forced to obey.

The Fifth Part.

42 Yea, and their hateful enemies
oppress'd them in the land:

And they were humbly made to stoop:
subjects to their hand.

43 Full oftentimes from thralldom had he deliver'd them before:

But with their counsels they to wrath
provok'd him evermore.

Therefore they by their wickedness
were brought full low to lie:

44 Yet when he saw them in distress,
he hearkned to their cry.

45 He call'd to mind his covenant
which he to them had sworn:

And by his mercies multitude repented him therefore.

Psalm CVII.

And favour he them made to find
Before the sight of those That led them captive from their land,
though they had been their foes.
Save us, O Lord, that art our God,
save us, O Lord, we pray:
And from among the heathen folk,
Lord, gather us away.

48 That we may triumph and rejoyce
in thy most holy Name:
That we may glory in thy praise
and sounding of thy fame.
49 The Lord the God of Israel
be bless'd for evermore:
Let all the people say, Amen.
Praise ye the Lord therefore.

PSAL. CVII. W. K.

Give thanks unto the Lord our God,
for gracious is he:
And that his mercy hath no end
all mortal men may see.
2 Such as the Lord redeemed hath,
with thanks shall praise his Name:
And shew how they from foes were freed,
and how he wrought the same.

3 He gath'rd them forth of the lands
that lay so far about:
From east to west, from north to south
his hand did find them out.

4 They wandred in the wilderness,
and strayed from the way:
And found no City where to dwell,
that serve night for their stay.

5 Whose thirst and hunger was so great
in those deserts so void:
That faintness them assaulted, and their souls greatly annoy'd.

6 Then did they cry in their distress
unto the Lord for aid:
Who did remove their troublous state,
according as they pray'd.

7 And by that way which was most right
he led them like a guide:
That they might to their city go,
and there alio abide.

8 Let men therefore before the Lord
confess his goodness then:
And shew the wonders that he doth
before the sons of men.

9 For he their empty souls sustain'd,
whom thirst had made to faint:
Their hungry souls with goodness fed,
and heard their sad complaint.

10 Such as do dwell in darkness deep
where they on death do wait:
Fast bound to bear such troublous storms
as iron chains do threat.

The Second Part.

11 Because against the words of God
they proudly did rebell:
Esteeming light his counsels high,
which do so far excel.

12 But when he humbled them full low
they then fell down with grief:

And none was found that could them help,
or give them some relief.

13 Then did they cry in their distress
unto the Lord for aid:
Who did remove their troublous state
according as they pray'd.

14 For he from darkness brought them out,
and from deaths dreadful shade:
Bursting with force the iron bands
which them before did lade.

15 Let men therefore before the Lord
confess his kindness then:
And shew the wonders that he doth
before the sons of men.

16 For he throw down the gates of brass,
with strong and mighty hand:
The irons bars in sunder brake,
nothing could him withstand.

17 The foolish folk great plagues do feel,
by reason of their sin:
And for their great transgression
which they continue in.

18 Their soul abhorr'd all sorts of meat,
no relish they could have:
Whereby death had them almost brought unto the very grave.

19 Then did they cry in their distress
unto the Lord for aid:
Who did remove their troublous state,
according as they pray'd.

20 For then he sent to them his word,
which health did soon restore:
And brought them from those dangers deep wherein they were before.

The Third Part.

21 Let men therefore before the Lord
confess his kindness then:
And shew the wonders that he doth
before the sons of men.

22 And let them offer sacrifice
to him most thankfully:

23 And speak of all his wondrous work with gladness and with joy.
Such as in ships and brittle barks
into the seas descend,

Their merchandise through fearful floods
to compass and to end:

24 These men are forced to behold
the Lords works what they be:
And in the dangerous deep the same,
most marvelous they see.

25 For at his word the stormy wind
arise in a rage,
And stirrcth up the surges so,
that nought can them allwage.

26 Then are they lifted up so high,
the clouds they seem to gain:
And plunging down the depth until their souls consume with pain.

27 And like a drunkard to and fro
now here now there they reel,
As men who had their reason lost
and had no sense to feel.

28 Then did they cry in their distress
unto the Lord for aid:

Who

Psalm CVIII, CIX.

Who did remove their troublous state,
according as they pray'd.

19 For with his word the Lord doth make the sturdy storms to cease :

So that the waves from their great rage
are brought to rest and peace.

30 Then are they glad when rest is come,
which they so much did crave :

And to the haven by him are brought,
which they so fain would have.

The Fourth Part.

31 Let men therefore before the Lord
confess his kindness then :

And shew the wonders that he doth
before the sons of men.

32 Let them in presence of the folk with praise extol his Name :

And where the elders do convent,
there let them do the same.

33 The wilderness he often makes
with waters to abound :

And water-springs he often turns
to dry and parched ground.

34 A fruitful land with pleasures deckt
full barren doth he make :

When on their sins that dwell therein
he doth just vengeance take.

35 Again the wilderness full rude
he maketh fruit to bear :

With pleasant springs of waters clear,
though none before were there.

36 Wherein such hungry souls are set
as he doth freely chase :

That they a city may them build
to dwell in for their use.

37 That they may sow their pleasant land,
and vineyards also plant,

To yield them fruits of such increase,
that they may have no want.

38 They multiply exceedingly,
the Lord doth bless them so :

Who also maketh the brute beasts
in numbers great to grow.

39 But when the faithful are brought low,
by the oppressors stout,

Diminishing through many plagues
that compels them about :

40 Then doth he princes bring to shame
which did them sore oppress,

And likewise caused them to err
within the wilderness.

41 But yet the poor he raiseth up out of his troubles deep :

And oft-times doth his train augment
much like a flock of sheep.

42 The righteous shall behold this sight,
and also much rejoyce :

Whereas the wicked and perverse
with grief shall stop their voice.

43 But who is wise, that now full well
he may these things record ?

For certainly such shall perceive the kindness of the Lord.

PSAL. CVIII. J: F:

O God, my heart prepared is,
my tongue is likewise so :
I will advance my voice in song,
that I thy praise may show.

2 Awake my viol and my harp
sweet melody to make :

And in the morning I my self
right early will awake.

3 By me among the people, Lord,
still praised shalt thou be :

And I among the heathen folk
will praises sing to thee :

4 Because thy mercy doth ascend above the heavens high :

Also thy truth doth reach the clouds
within the lofty sky.

5 Above the starry heavens high
exalt thy self, O God :

Display likewise upon the earth
thy glory all abroad.

6 That thy dearly beloved may be set at liberty,

Help, O my God, with thy right hand,
and hearken unto me.

7 God in his holiness hath spoke,
wherefore my joys abound :

Sichem I will divide, and mere
the vale of Succoths ground.

8 And Gilead shall be mine own, Manasse mine shall be :

My head-strength Ephraim, and law
shall Judah give to me.

9 Mead my washpot, and my shoe
on Edom will I throw :

Upon the land of Palestine
in triumph will I go.

10 Who to the city strong shall be leader and guide to me ?

Also by whom to Edoms land conveyed shall I be ?

11 Is it not thou, O Lord, which late hadst us forsaken quite ?

And thou also, which with our hosts
didst not go forth to fight ?

12 Give us, O Lord, thy saving aid
when troubles do assail :

For all the help of man is vain,
and can no whit avail.

13 Through God we shall do valiant acts,
and worthy of renown :

He shall subdue our enemies,
yes, he shall tread them down.

PSAL. CIX. N:

IN speechless silence do not hold,
O God, thy tongue always :

Even thou, O Lord, because thou art
the God of all my praise.

2 The wicked and the guileful mouth ;
on me disclosed be :

And they with false and lying tongues
have spoken unto me.

Psalm CX.

They did beset me round about
with words of hateful spite:
Without all cause of my desert
against me they did fight.

4 For my good will they were my foes,
then I began to pray:

5 My good with ill, my friendliness
with hate they did repay.

6 Set thou the wicked over him,
to have the upper hand:

At his right hand, Lord, suffer thou
his hateful foe to stand.

7 When he is judged, let him then condemned be therein:

And let the pray'r that he doth make
be turned into sin.

8 Few be his days, his charge also let thou another take:

9 His children let be fatherless,
his wife a widow make.

10 Let his offspring be vagabonds,
and ever beg their bread:

In places desolate and waste,
let them seek to be fed.

11 Let covetous extortioners
get all his goods in store:

And let the stranger spoil the fruit
of all his toil before.

12 Let there be none to pity him,
let there be none at all,

That on his children fatherless
will let their mercy fall.

The Second Part.

13 Let his posterity be quite
destroy'd, and never breed:

Their name out-blotted in the age
that after shall succeed.

14 Let not his fathers wickedness
from Gods remembrance fall:

And never let his mothers sin
be done away at all.

15 But in the presence of the Lord,
let them for ever stay:

That from the earth their memory
he may cut clean away.

16 Since mercy he forgot to shew,
but did pursue with spight

The troubled man, and sought to slay
the woful hearted wight.

17 As he did cursing love, it shall happen unto him so:

And as he did not blessing love,
far from him it shall go.

18 As he with cursing clad himself
so it like water shall

Enter his bowels, and like oyl
into his bones shall fall.

19 As garment let it be to him,
to cover him withall:

And as a girdle wherewith he always be girded shall.

20 Let this be the reward from God,
of him that is my foe:

Yea, and of those that evil speak against my soul also.

21 But thou, O Lord, that art my God,
deal graciously with me:

Deliver me for thy Names sake,
for great thy mercies be.

22 Because in depth of great distress
I needy am and poor:

Also within my pained breast,
my heart is wounded sore.

The Third Part.

23 Even so do I depart away,
as doth declining shade:

And as the grasshopper, so I am shaken off and fade.

24 With fasting long from needful food
my knees enfeebled are:

And all the fatness of my flesh
is gone with grief and care.

25 And I also a vile reproach
to them am made to be:

And they that did upon me look,
did shake their heads at me.

26 Therefore, O God my Saviour,
mine aid and succour be:

According to thy mercies great,
save and deliver me.

27 And they shall know thereby, that this is thy most mighty hand:

And that 'tis thou that hast it done,
they well shall understand.

28 Although they curse with spite, yet thou shalt bless with loving voice:

When they rise up, and come to shame,
thy servant shall rejoyce.

29 Let them with shame be cloathed all that are mine enemies:

And with confusion as a cloak
be covered likewise.

30 But greatly I will with my mouth
give thanks unto the Lord:

And I among the multitude
his praises will record.

31 For he with help at his right hand will stand the poor man by,

To save him from the man that would condemn his soul to die.

P S A L. CX. N.

THe Lord did say unto my Lord,
sit thou on my right hand,

Till I have made thy foes a fool
whereon thy feet shall stand.

2 The Lord shall out of Sion send the scepter of thy might:

Amidst thy mortal foes be thou
the ruler in their sight.

3 And in the day on which thy reign
and power they shall see:

Then hereby free-will-offerings shall
the people offer thee.

Yea, with an holy worshipping,
then shall they offer all:

Thy beths-dew is the dew that doth
from wens of morning fall.

Psalm CXI, CXII, CXIII, CXIV.

1 The Lord hath sworn, and never will repent what he doth say:
By th' order of Melchisedech,
thou art a Priest alway.
2 The Lord thy God on thy right hand
that standeth for thy stay, shall wound for thee the stately kings
upon his wrathful day.
3 The heathen he shall judge, and fill
the place with bodies dead:
And over divers countreys shall
in sunder smite the head.
4 And he shall drink out of the brook
that runneth in the way:
Wherefore he shall lift up on high
his royal head that day.

P S A L. CXI. N.

With heart I do accord,
To praise and laud the Lord
In presence of the just.
1 For great his works are found,
To search them such are bound
As do him love and trust.
2 His works are glorious,
Also his righteousness
It doth endure for ever.
3 His wondrous works he would
We still remember should,
His mercy faileth never.
4 Such as to him love bear,
A portion full fair
He hath up for them laid:
For this they shall well find,
He will them have in mind,
and keep them as he said.
5 For he did not disdain
His works to shew them plain,
By lightnings and by thunders:
When he the heathens land
Did give into their hand,
Where they beheld his wonders.
6 Of all his works ensu'th
Both judgment, right and truth,
Whereto his statutes tend:
7 They are decreed sure,
For ever to endure,
Which equity doth end.
8 Redemption he gave
His people for to save.
9 And hath also required,
His promise not to fail,
But always to prevail,
His holy Name be feared.
10 Whoso with heart full faine
True wisdom would attain,
The Lord fear and obey:
Such as his laws do keep shall knowledge have full deep,
His praise shall last alway.

P S A L. CXII. W. K.

The man is blest that God doth fear,
And that his law doth love indeed:
1 His seed on earth God will uprear,
And blest such as from him proceed.

2 His house with riches he will fill,
His righteousness endure shall still.
3 Unto the righteous doth arise
In trouble joy, in darkness light.
Compassion is in his eyes,
And mercy always in his sight.
4 Yea, pity moveth him to lend,
He doth with judgment things expend:
5 And surely shall never fail,
For in remembrance had is he:
6 Nor tidings ill his mind assail,
Who is the Lord sure hope doth see.
7 His heart is firm, his fear is past,
For he shall see his foes down cast.
8 He did well for the poor provide,
His righteousness shall still remain:
And his estate with praise abide,
Which wicked men behold with pain,
9 Yea, gnash the teeth thereat shall they
And so consume and melt away.

P S A L. CXIII. W. K.

Ye children which do serve the Lord,
Praise ye his Name with one accord.
1 Yea, blessed be always his Name,
Who from the rising of the sun,
Till it return where it begun,
Is to be praised with great fame.
2 The Lord all people doth sustaine,
As for his glory we may count,
Above the heavens high to be.
3 With God the Lord who may compare Whose dwellings in the heavens are?
Of such great power and force is he.
4 He doth abase himself we know,
Things to behold on earth below,
And also in heaven above.
5 The needy out of dust to draw
Also the poor which help none saw,
His only mercy did him move.
6 And so him set in high degree
With Princes of great dignity,
That rule his people with great fame.
7 The barren he doth make to bear,
And with great joy her fruit do rear:
Therefore praise ye his holy Name.

P S A L. CXIV. W. W.

When Israel by Gods command
from Pharaohs land was bent,
And Jacobs house the strangers left,
and in the same train went:
1 In Judah God his glory shew'd,
his holiness most bright:
So did the Israelites declare his kingdom, power, and might.
2 The sea it saw, and suddenly
as all amaz'd did see:
The roaring streams of Jordans flood
gave back immediately.
3 As rams afraid, the mountains skip't,
their strength did them forsake:
And as the silly trembling lambs,
their tops did beat and shake.

VER Psalm CXV, CXVI.

5 What ailed thee, O sea, that thou,
so suddenly didst flee?
Ye rolling waves of Jordans flood,
why turn'd ye so swiftly?
6 Ye mountains, even as rams afraid,
why did your strength so shake?
Why did your tops, as trembling lambs,
for fear quiver and quake?
7 O earth, confess thy Sovereign Lord,
and dread his mighty hand:
Before the face of Jacobs God
fear ye, both sea and land.
8 I mean the God, which from hard rocks
doth carve floods to appear:
And from the stony flint doth send fountains of waters clear.

PSALM CXV. N.

NOT unto us, Lord, not to us,
but to thy Name give praise,
Both for thy mercy and thy truth
that are in thee always.
2 Why shall the heathen scorn us say,
where is their God become?
3 Our God he is in heaven, and what he will'd, that hath he done.
4 Their idols silver are and gold,
works of mens hands they be:
5 They have a mouth, and do not speak,
and eyes but do not see:
6 And they have ears join'd to their heads
but do not hear at all:
Noses also they have, and smell withall,
but not to smell withall.
7 And hands they have, but handle not,
and feet, but cannot go:
A throat they have, yet through the same
they make no sound to blow.
8 They and their makers are alike,
and these whose trust they be.
9 O Israel trust in the Lord,
thy help and shield is he.
10 O Aarons house, trust in the Lord,
that still defendeth thee:
11 Ye that do fear him, trust in him,
your sure defence is he.
12 The Lord hath mindful been of us,
and with us blest also:
On Israel and on Aarons house
his blessings he will show.
13 Them that be fearers of the Lord,
the Lord will blest them all:
Yea, he will blest them every one,
the great and also small.
14 To you alway the living Lord
will multiply his grace:
And also to the children that shall follow of your race.
Ye are the blessed of the Lord,
even of the Lord most high:
Which both the heav'n & earth did make,
and fix immovably.
15 The heav'ns, yea, the highest heav'ns
belong unto the Lord:
The earth unto the sons of men
he gave of free accord.

17 They that be dead do not with praise
set forth the Lords renown:
Nor any that into the place
of silence do go down.
18 But we will praise the Lord our God,
henceforth for evermore:
He only worthy is of praise,
Praise ye the Lord therefore.

PSALM CXVI. N.

I Love the Lord, because my voice
and prayer heard hath he:
2 I'll ever call on him, because he bow'd his ear to me.
3 Even when the snares of cruel death
about beset me round:
When pains of hell me caught, and when I we and sorrow found:
4 Upon the Name of God my Lord,
then did I call, and say,
Deliver thou my soul, O Lord,
I do thee humbly pray.
5 The Lord is very merciful,
and just he is also:
And in our God compassion
doth plentifully flow.
6 The Lord in safety doth preserve
all those that simple be:
I was in woful misery,
and he delivered me.
7 And now my soul, since thou art safe
return unto thy rest:
For largely, lo, the Lord to thee
his bounty hath express.
8 Because thou hast delivered
my soul from deadly thrall:
My moistned eyes from mournful tears,
my sliding feet from fall:
9 Before the Lord I in the land
of life will walk therefore:
10 I did believe, therefore I spake,
for I was troubled sore.

The Second Part.

11 I said in my distress and fear,
that all men liars be:
12 What shall I pay the Lord for all his benefits to me?
13 The wholesome cup of saving health
I thankfully will take:
And on the Lords Name I will call
when I my prayers make.
14 I to the Lord will pay my vows
with joy and great delight:
Even at this very present time
in all his peoples sight.
15 Right dear and precious in his sight
he always doth esteem
The death of all his holy ones,
whatever men do deem.
16 Thy servant, Lord, thy servant, lo,
I do my self confess,
Son of thy hand-maid, thou hast broke
the bonds of my distress.
17 Therefore I'll offer up to thee
a sacrifice of praise:

Psalms CXVII, CXVIII.

And I will call upon the Name
of God the Lord always.

13 To the Lord will pay my vows
within his temple bright,
Even at this very present time
In all his peoples sight.

14 Yea, in the courts of Gods own house,
and in the midst of thee,
O thou Jerusalem: Therefore
the Lord our God praise ye.

PSALM CXVII. N.

○ All ye nations of the world,
praise ye the Lord always:
And all ye people every where
set forth his noble praise.

1 For great his kindness is to us,
his truth doth not decay:
Wherefore praise ye the Lord our God,
praise ye the Lord alway.

PSALM CXVIII. N.

○ Give ye thanks unto the Lord,
for gracious is he:
Because his mercy doth endure
for ever towards thee.

1 Let Israel confess that his mercy doth ever dure:

2 Let Aarons house likewise confess his mercy's ever sure.

3 Let all that fear the Lord our God
even now confess and say,
The mercy of the Lord our God
endureth still alway.

4 In trouble and in heaviness
unto the Lord I cri'd:

Which lovingly heard me at large,
my suit was not deny'd.

5 The Lord himself is on my side,
I will not stand in doubt,
Nor fear what man can do to me,
when God stands me about.

6 The Lord doth take my part with them
that help to succour me:
Therefore I shall see my desire upon mine enemy.

7 Better it is to trust in God,
then in mans mortal seed:

8 Or to put confidence in kings
or princes in our need.

9 All nations have enclosed me,
and compassed me round:

But in the Name of God shall I
mine enemies confound.

10 They kept me in on every side,
and did me quite surround:

But in the Lords most mighty Name
I'll cast them to the ground.

11 They came about me all like bees,
but in the Lords great Name

I quencht their thorns that were on fire,
and will destroy the same.

The Second Part.

12 They did with force thrust sore at me
that I indeed might fall:

But through the Lord I found such help
that they were vanquish'd all.

13 The Lord is my defence and strength,
my joy, my mirth, and song:

He is become for me indeed
a Saviour most strong.

14 The right hand of the Lord our God
doth bring to pass great things:

He causeth voice of joy and health
in righteous mens dwellings.

15 The right hand of the Lord doth bring most mighty things to pass:

His hand hath the preeminence,
his force is as it was.

16 I shall not die, but ever live to utter and declare

The mighty power of the Lord,
his works, and what they are.

17 The Lord himself hath chastened,
and hath corrected me:

But not me given over yet
to death, as ye may see.

18 Set open unto me the gates of truth and righteousness:

That I may enter into them,
the Lords praise to express.

19 This is the gate even of the Lord,
which open shall be set:

For good and righteous men alway
shall enter into it.

The Third Part.

20 I will give thanks to thee, O Lord,
and ever will praise thee,

Who hast me heard, and art become a Saviour unto me.

21 The stone which e're this time among
the builders was refus'd,

Is now become the corner-stone,
and chiefly to be us'd.

22 This was the mighty work of God,
this was the Lords own fact:

And it is wondrous to behold
with eyes that noble act.

23 This is the joyful day indeed,
which God himself hath wrought

Let us be glad and joy therein
in heart, in mind, and thought.

24 Now help us, Lord, and prosper us
we wish with one accord:

25 Blessed is he that comes to us in the Name of the Lord.

26 God is the Lord that shews us light
bind ye therefore with cord

Your sacrifice to the altar,
and give thanks to the Lord.

27 Thou art my God, I will confess
and render thanks to thee:

Thou art my God, and I will praise
thy mercy towards me.

28 O give ye thanks unto the Lord
for gracious is he:

Because his mercy doth endure
for ever towards me.

Psalm CXIX.

PSALM CXIX. W. W.

A L B P H.

Blessed are they that perfect are,
and pure in mind and heart:
Whose lives and conversations
from Gods laws never part.
Blessed are they that give themselves
his statutes to observe:
Seeking the Lord with all their heart,
and never from him swerve.
Doubtless such men go not astray,
nor do no wicked thing,
But steadfastly walk in his way
without any wandering.
'Tis thy commandment and thy will,
that with attentive heed,
Thy noble and divine precepts
we learn and keep indeed.
O would to God it might thee please
my ways so to direct,
That I might always keep thy laws,
and never them reject.
So should no shame my life attain,
whilst I thus set mine eyes,
And bend my mind always to muse
on thy sacred decrees.
Then will I praise with upright heart,
and magnify thy Name,
When I shall learn thy judgments just,
and likewise prove the same.
And wholly will I give my self
to keep thy laws most right:
For sake me not for ever, Lord,
but shew thy grace and might.

The Second Part. B E T H.

By what means may a young man best,
his life learn to attend?
If that he mark and keep thy word,
and therein his time spend.
Unfeignedly I have thee sought,
and thus seeking abide:
O never suffer me, O Lord,
from thy precepts to slide.
Within my heart and secret thoughts
thy words I have hid still:
That I might not at any time offend thy godly will.
We magnify thy Name, O Lord,
and praise thee evermore:
Thy statutes of most worthy fame,
O Lord, teach me therefore.
My lips have never ceas'd to preach
and publish day and night,
Thy judgments all which did proceed
from thy mouth full of might.
Thy testimonies and thy ways,
much more my heart rejoyce,
Then all the treasures of the earth,
which worldlings make their choice.
On thy precepts I will still muse,
and thereto frame my talk:
As at a mark, so will I aim
how I thy ways may walk.

My only joy shall be so fixt,
and on thy laws so set:
That nothing shall me so far blind,
that I thy words forget.

The Third Part. G I M E L.

Grant to thy servant now such grace,
as may my life prolong:
Thy holy word then will I keep,
both in my heart and tongue.
Mine eyes which were dim and shut up,
so open and make bright:
That of thy law and wondrous works
I may have the clear sight.
I am a stranger in this earth,
wandering now here now there:
Thy word therefore to me disclose
my footsteps for to clear.
My soul is ravish'd with desire,
and never is at rest:
But seeks to know thy judgments high,
and what may please thee best.
The proud men and malicious
thou hast destroy'd each one:
And curs'd are such as do not thy laws attend upon.
Lord, turn from me rebuke and shame
which wicked men conspire:
For I have kept thy covenants
with zeal as hot as fire.
The princes great in council sat,
and did against me speak:
But then thy servant thought how he thy statutes might not break.
For why? thy cov'nants are the joy,
and solace of my heart:
They are my faithful counsellors,
from them I'll not depart.

The Fourth Part. D A L E T H.

I am, alas, as brought to grave,
and almost turn'd to dust:
Restore therefore my life again,
as thy promise is just.
My ways when I acknowledged,
with mercy thou didst hear:
Hear now also, and me instruct thy laws to love and fear.
Make me, O Lord, to understand
thy precepts evermore:
Then on thy works I'll meditate,
and lay them up in store.
My soul I feel so sore oppress'd,
that it doth melt for grief:
According to thy word therefore haste, Lord, to send relief.
From lying and deceitful lips
let thy grace me defend:
And that I may learn thee to love,
thy holy law me send.
The way of truth both straight and sure
I chosen have and found:
Before me I thy judgments set
which keep me safe and sound.
Since then, O Lord, I readily
thy covenants embrace:

Psalm CXIX

Let me therefore have no rebuke
nor check in any case.

12 Then will I run most joyfully
where thy word doth me call:
When thou hast set my heart at large,
and rid me out of thral.

The Fifth Part. H E.

13 Instruct me, Lord, in the right way
of thy statutes divine:
And them to keep unto the end
my heart will I incline.
14 Grant me the knowledge of thy law,
and I shall it obey:
With heart and mind, and all my might
I will it keep alway.
15 In the right paths of thy precepts guide me, Lord, I require:
None other pleasure do I wish,
nor greater thing desire.
16 Incline my heart thy laws to keep,
and covenants to embrace:
And from all filthy avarice,
Lord, shield me with thy grace.
17 From vain desires and worldly lusts
turn back mine eyes and sight:
Give me the spirit of life and power,
to walk thy ways aright.
18 Confirm thy gracious promise, Lord,
which thou hast made to me,
Which am thy servant, and do love
and fear nothing but thee.
19 Reproach and shame which I so fear,
from me, O Lord, expel:
For thou dost judge with equity,
and therein dost excel.
20 Behold, my hearts desire is bent
thy laws to keep alway:
Lord, strengthen me so with thy grace
that it perform I may.

The Sixth Part. V A U.

21 Thy mercies great and manifold,
let me obtain, O Lord:
Thy saving health let me enjoy,
according to thy word.
22 So shall I stop the slanderous mouths
of leud men and unjust:
For in thy faithful promises,
stands my comfort and trust.
23 The word of truth within my mouth
let ever still be prest:
For in thy judgments wonderful
my hope doth stand and rest.
24 And whilst that breath within me doth
this natural life preserve, Yea, till this world shall be dissolv'd
thy law will I observe.
25 So walk will I as set at large,
from dread and danger free:
Because I study how to keep
thy precepts faithfully.
26 Thy noble acts I will describe,
as things of most great fame:
Even before kings! will them blaze,
and shrink no whit for shame.

27 I will rejoyce then to obey
thy just commands and will:
Which evermore I have lov'd best,
and so will love them still.
28 My hands I will lift to thy laws
which I have dearly fought:
And practise thy commandments
in will, in deed, and thought.

The Seventh Part. Z A I N.

29 Thy promise which thou mad'st to me
remember, Lord, I pray:
For therein have I put my trust
and confidence alway.
30 It is my comfort and my joy
when troubles me assail:
For were my life not by thy word,
it suddenly would fail.
31 The proud and lush as God contemns
still made of me a scorn:
Yet would I not thy law forsake,
as if I were forlorn:
32 But call to mind, Lord, thy great works
shew'd to our fathers old:
Whereby I feel my joy surmount
my grief an hundred fold.
33 Horror hath taken hold on me,
because the wicked do Forsake thy righteous law, and will have no regard thereto.
34 But as for me, I fram'd my song
thy statutes to exalt,
When I among the strangers dwell,
and grief did me assault.
35 I thought upon thy Name, O Lord;
by night when others sleep:
Thy law also I kept always,
and ever will it keep.
36 This grace I did obtain, because thy covenants most dear
I did embrace, and also keep with reverence and fear.

The Eighth Part. C H E T H.

37 O God, which art my part and lot,
my comfort and my stay,
I have decreed and promised
thy laws to keep alway.
38 Mine earnest heart did humbly sue
in presence of thy face:
As thou therefore hast promised,
Lord, grant to me thy grace.
39 My life I have examined,
and tri'd my secret heart:
Which to thy statutes caused me
my feet straight to convert.
40 I did not stay nor linger long as they that slothful are:
But hastily thy laws to keep
I did my self prepare.
41 The cruel bands of wicked men
have made of me their prey:
Yet would I not thy law forget,
nor from thee go astray 42 Thy righteous laws and judgments are so very great and high That

Psalm CXIX.

That even at midnight I will rise
thy Name to magnifie.

69 I am companion to all them
which fear thee in their heart:
And never will for love nor dread
from thy commandments start.

70 Thy mercies, Lord, most plenteously
the earth throughout do fill:
O teach me how I may obey
thy statutes and thy will.

The Ninth Part. T E T H.

65 According to thy promise Lord,
so hast thou with me dealt:
For of thy grace in sundry sorts have I thy servant felt.

66 Teach me to judge always aright,
and give me knowledge sure:
For certainly I do believe
thy precepts are most pure.

67 Before that I afflicted was,
I err'd and went astray:
But now I keep thy holy word,
and make it all my stay.

68 Thou art both good and gracious giving most lib'rally:
Thine ordinances how to keep
therefore, O Lord, teach me.

69 The proud and the ungodly have against me forg'd a lie:
Yet thy commandments still observe
with all my heart will I.

70 Their hearts are swollen with worldly they are exceeding fat: (wealth,
But in thy law do I delight,
and nothing seek but that.

71 O happy time, may I well say,
when thou didst me correct:
For as a guide to learn thy laws
thy rod did me direct.

72 So that to me thy word and law
is dearer manifold
Then thousands of gold and silver,
or ought that can be told.

The Tenth Part. J O D.

73 Thy hands have made and fashion'd me,
thy creature for to be:
Make me to understand thy law,
and keep it faithfully.

74 So they that fear thee shall rejoice
whenever they may see:
Because I have learn'd by thy word
to put my trust in thee.

75 When with thy rods the world is
I know the cause is just: (plagu'd,
So when thou dost correct me, Lord,
the cause right needs be must.

76 Now of thy goodness I thee pray
some comfort to me send:
And as thou hast me hitherto,
O Lord, still me defend.

77 Thy tender mercies poure on me,
and I shall surely live,
For joy and consolation both
by law to me dost give.

78 Confound the proud, who do me seek perversely to destroy:
But as for me, thy laws to know,
I will my self employ.

79 Whoso with reverence do thee fear,
to me let them retire:
And such as do thy cov'nants know,
and ~~there~~ alone desire.

80 My heart without all wavering
let on thy laws be bent:
That no confusion come to me,
nor any discontent.

The Eleventh Part. C A P H.

81 My soul doth faint and ceaseth not thy saving health to crave:
And for thy words sake still I trust
my hearts desire to have.

82 Mine eyes do fail with looking for thy word, and thus I say, Oh when wilt thou me comfort, Lord
why dost thou thus delay?

83 Like as a bottle in the smoke,
so am I parcht and dry'd:
Yet will I not out of my heart
let thy commandments slide.

84 How long, O Lord, shall I yet live,
before I see the hour,
That on my foes which me torment,
thy vengeance thou wilt pour?

85 Presumptuous men have digged pits,
thinking to make me sure:
Thus contrary unto thy law,
my hurt they do procure.

86 But thy commandments are all true,
and causeless they me grieve:
To thee therefore I do complain,
that thou may'st me relieve.

87 Almost they had me clean destroy'd,
and brought me quite to ground:
Yet by thy statutes I abode,
and therein succour found.

88 Restore me, Lord, again to life,
for thy mercies excel:
And so shall I thy cov'nants keep till death my life expel.

The Twelfth Part. L A M E D.

89 In heav'n, O Lord, where thou dost thy word is stablish't sure: (dwell,
And shall to all eternity
fast settled there endure.

90 From age to age thy truth abides,
as doth the earth with us:
Whose ground-work thou hast laid so sure
as no tongue can express.

91 Even to this day we may well see how thou dost them preserve:
According to thine ordinance,
for all things do thee serve.

92 Had it not been that in thy law
my soul had comfort sought,
Long time e're now in my distress
I had been brought to nought.

93 Therefore will I thy precepts keep in memory full fast:

Psalm CXIX.

Because that thou by them, O Lord,
my life restored hast.

94 No man to me can title make,
for I am only thine:

Save me therefore, for to thy laws
mine ears and heart incline.

95 The wicked men that seek my bane,
for me do lie in wait:

But I will meditate upon thy testimonies great.

96 For nothing in this world I see which hath at length no end:

But thy commandment and thy word
beyond all shall extend.

The Thirteenth Part. M B M.

97 What great desire and fervent love
unto thy law I bear:

On it my daily study is,
that so I may thee fear.

98 Thy word hath taught me to exceed in wisdom all my foes:

For they are ever with me, and do daily me oppose.

99 My teachers which did me instruct,
in knowledge I excell:

Because I do thy covenants keep,
and them to others tell.

100 In wisdom I do far surpass
the ancient men also:

And that because I keep thy laws,
and so resolve to do.

101 My feet I have refrain'd likewise
from every evil way,

That so I might thy word observe
and keep without delay.

102 I have not from thy judgments swerv'd
nor shrunk, as thou canst tell:

For why? thou hast me taught thereby
to live godly and well.

103 O, Lord, how sweet unto my taste
I find thy words alway!

Doubtless no honey in my mouth
doth taste so sweet as they.

104 Thy laws have me such wisdom
that utterly I hate

All wicked and ungodly ways,
in every kind or rate.

The Fourteenth Part. N U N.

105 Even as a lantern to my feet,
so doth thy word shine bright:

And to my paths where-e'er I go
it is a flaming light.

106 I have both sworn and will perform
in truth and faithfulness,

That I will keep thy judgments just,
and them in life express.

107 Affliction hath me sore oppress,
and brought me to death's door:

O Lord, as thou hast promised,
so me to life restore.

108 The off'rings which with heart and most freely I thee give,

Accept, and teach me how I may
after thy judgments live.

109 My soul is ever in my hand,
great dangers me assail:

Yet do I not thy law forget,
nor it to keep will fail.

110 Although the wicked laid their net
to make of me a prey,

Yet did I not from thy precepts
once swerve or go astray.

111 Thy law, O Lord, I taken have mine heritage to be:

Because such great delight and joy
it doth afford to me.

112 For evermore I have been bent
thy statutes to fulfill:

Even so likewise unto the end
I will continue still.

The Fifteenth Part. S A M E C H.

113 All thoughts that vain and wicked
I do always detest:

But for thy precepts and thy laws,
I love them ever best.

114 Thou art my hid and secret place,
my shield and strong defence:

Therefore have I thy promises
lookt for with patience.

115 Therefore ye evil-doers all away from me be gone:

For the commandments will I keep
of God my Lord alone.

116 As thou hast promis'd, so perform that I may live, and be

Never ashamed of the hope which thou hast given me.

117 Uphold me, and I shall be safe
for ought they do or say:

And in thy statutes pleasure take will I both night and day.

118 Thou hast trod such under thy feet
as do thy statutes break:

For nought avail their subtilty,
their counsel is too weak.

119 Like drops thou casts the wicked one where-e'er they go or dwell

Therefore can I as thy statutes
love nothing half so well.

120 My flesh doth quake for fear of thee,
my soul is much dismayd:

By reason of thy judgments great
my heart is sore afraid.

The Sixteenth Part. A I N.

121 I do the thing that lawfully is,
and give to all men right:

Refrain me not to them that would oppress me with their might.

122 But for thy servant surely be in that thing which is right:

And never let the proud oppress
me with their rage and spite.

123 Mine eyes do fail with waiting for thy health which I do crave:

And for thy righteous promise, Lord,
whereby thou wilt me save.

124 Entreat thy servant lovingly,
and favour to him show:

Psalm CXIX.

And thy statutes most excellent
teach me also to know.

- 125 Thy humble servant, Lord, I am,
grant me to understand,
How by thy statutes I may know
both what to take in hand.
126 It is now time, Lord, to begin,
for truth doth quite decay:
Thy law likewise they have made void,
and none doth it obey.
127 This is the cause wherefore I love
thy laws much more than gold,
Or Jewels fine which are esteem'd
most costly to be sold.
128 I thought thy precepts all most just,
and so them kept in store:
All crafty and malicious ways
I greatly do abhor.

The Seventeenth Part. P E.

- 129 Thy cov'nants are most wonderful,
and full of things profound:
My soul therefore doth keep them sure,
when they are tri'd and found.
130 The entrance of thy word doth give
to men a light most clear:
The simple likewise understand
when they it read or hear.
131 My mouth I open'd, and did pant,
because my soul did long:
For thy commandments, which always do guide my heart and tongue.
132 With mercy and compassion, Lord,
behold me from above,
As thou art wont such to behold
as thy Name fear and love.
133 Direct my footsteps by thy word,
that I thy will may know:
And never let iniquity
thy servant overthrow.
134 From slanderous tongues and deadly preserve and keep me sure: (harm, Thy precepts then will I observe,
with heart upright and pure.
135 Thy countenance which doth surmount
the sun in his bright hue,
Let shine on me, and by thy law
teach me what to eschew.
136 Rivers of waters from mine eyes
continually do fall:
Because I see how wicked men
thy laws keep not at all.

The Eighteenth Part. Z A D E.

- 137 In every point, Lord, thou art just,
although the wicked grudge:
And when thou dost sentence pronounce,
thou art a righteous Judge.
138 To render right, and flee from guile,
are two chief points most high:
And such as thou hast in thy law
commanded us straitly.
139 My zeal hath even consumed me,
and I am pin'd away,
Because my foes thy word forget,
and will it not obey.

- 140 Thy word is very pure, and
it doth my heart rejoice:
Therefore thy servant nothing more
can love or make my choice.

- 141 And though I be nothing set by,
as one of base degree:
Yet do I not thy laws forget,
nor shrink away from thee.
142 Thy truth and righteousness, O Lord
for ever shall endure:
Also thy law is truth it self,
most constant and most pure.
143 Trouble and grief have seiz'd on me,
and brought me wondrous low:
Yet do I still of thy precepts
delight to hear and know.
144 The righteousness of thy judgments
doth last for evermore:
Then teach them me, because in them
my life lies up in store.

The Nineteenth Part. K O P H.

- 145 With fervent heart I call'd and cri'd,
now answer me, O Lord:
That thy commandments to observe
I fully may accord.
146 To thee, my God, I make my suit,
save me, I humbly pray:
Thy testimonies then will I always keep and obey.
147 To thee I cry, even in the morn
before the day appear:
Because I hoped in thy word,
and thee alone do fear.
148 Mine eyes prevent the night-watchers,
before they call, I wake:
That meditating on thy word,
I might some comfort take.
149 Incline thine ears to hear my voice,
and pity on me take.
As thou wast wont, so quicken me,
lest life should me forsake.
150 My foes draw near, and greedily
do after mischief run:
From thy law they are far gone back,
and wickedly it shun.
151 Therefore, O Lord, approach thou
for need doth so require: (need,
For all thy precepts are most true,
then help, I thee desire.
152 Concerning thy commandments, I have learned long ago,
That they remain for evermore,
thou hast them grounded so.

The Twentieth Part. R S T M.

- 153 My trouble and affliction
consider and behold:
Deliver me, for of thy law
I ever take fast hold.
154 Defend my good and righteous cause,
with speed some succour send:
From death as thou hast promised,
Lord, ever me defend.
155 As for the wicked, far they are
from saving health and grace:

Because

Psalm CXX, CXXI.

Because the way thy laws to know
they enter not the trace.

156 Great are thy mercies, Lord, I grant,
what tongue can them explain?
According to thy judgments good,
let me my life obtain.

157 Though many men did trouble me,
and persecute me sore:

Yet from thy laws I never shrunk,
nor went aside therefore.

158 The great transgressors I beheld
with great anxiety:

Because they did not keep thy word,
nor ever seek to thee.

159 Behold, how I do love thy laws
with a most upright heart:

Then quicken me, O Lord, for thou
most good and gracious art.

160 Thy word from the beginning hath been ever true and just:

Thy righteous judgments every one always continue must.

The Twenty first Part. S C H I N.

161 Princes have persecuted me without a cause, but saw

It was in vain, for of thy word
my heart did stand in awe.

162 And surely of thy word I was
more joyful and more glad,

Than he that of rich spoils and prey
great store and plenty had.

163 But as for lies and falsities,
them I hate and detest:

Because thy holy law I do
above all things love best.

164 Ten times a day I praise the Lord,
singing with heart and voice:

Because thy righteous judgments do greatly my heart rejoyce.

165 Great peace and rest shall all such have
as do thy statutes love:

No danger shall their quiet state impair or once remove.

166 My only health and comfort, Lord,
I look for at thy hand:

And therefore have I done those things
which thou didst me command.

167 Thy laws have been my exercise,
which my soul most desir'd:

So much to them my love was bent,
that nought else I requir'd.

168 Thy statutes and commandments I have kept with heart upright:

For all my doings and my way
are present in thy sight.

The Twenty second Part. T A U.

169 O Lord, let my complaint and cry
before thy face appear:

And as thou hast me promise made,
so teach me thee to fear.

170 O let my supplication
have free access to thee:

And grant me, Lord, deliverance,
as thou hast promis'd me.

171 Then shall my lips thy praises speak
after most ample sort.

When thou thy statutes hast me taught,
wherein stands my comfort.

172 My tongue shall freely preach thy word
and evermore confess,

Thy famous acts and noble laws
are truth and righteousness.

173 Stretch out thy hand, I thee beseech
and speedily me save:

For thy commandments to observe chosen, O Lord, I have.

174 Of thee alone, Lord, I crave help
for other I know none:

And in thy law and nothing else
I do delight alone.

175 Grant me therefore long days to
thy Name to magnifie:

And of thy judgments merciful
let me the favour try.

176 For I was lost and went astray
much like a wandering sheep:

Oh seek me, for I have not fail'd thy statutes for to keep.

P S A L. CXX. T. S.

IN trouble and in thrall

Unto the Lord I call,
And he doth me comfort.

1 Deliver me, I say,

From liars lips alway,

And tongues of false report.

2 What vantage, or what thing,

Gett'st thou thus for to sing,

Thou false and flatter'ing liar?

3 Thy tongue doth hurt, I ween

No less than arrows keen,

Or hot consuming fire.

4 Alas! too long I slack

Within these tents so black,

Which Kedars are by name,

By whom the flock elect

And all of Isaac's seed

Are put to open shame.

5 With them that peace did hate

I came a peace to make,

And set a quiet life:

6 But when my tale was told,

Causeless I was controul'd

By them that would have it

P S A L. CXXI. W. W.

ILift mine eyes to Zion hill,

From whence I do attend

That succour God me send.

1 The mighty God me succour will

Which heav'n and earth framed,

And all things therein named.

2 Thy foot from slip he will preserve

And will thee safely keep,

For he will never sleep.

3 Lo he that Israel doth conserve

No sleep at all can him catch,

But his eyes shall ever watch

Psalm CXXII, CXXIII, CXXIV, CXXV.

3 The Lord is thy warrant alway,
The Lord he doth thee cover
at thy right hand ever:
4 The Sun shall not thee parch by day,
Nor the Moon not half so bright
shall with cold thee hurt by night.
5 The Lord will keep thee from distress,
And will thy life sure save:
6 And thou shalt also have
in all thy business good success:
Where-ever thou goest in or out,
God will thy things bring about,

PSALM CXXII. W.K.

I Did in heart rejoyce
To hear the peoples voice,
In offering so willingly:
2 For let us up, say they,
And in the Lords house pray:
Thus spake the folk full lovingly:
3 Our feet that wandred wide shall in thy gates abide,
O thou Jerusalem full faire,
Which art so seemly set
Much like a City nest,
The like whereof is not elsewhere.
4 The tribes with one accord,
The tribes of God the Lord
Are thither bent their way to take:
So God before did tell
That there is Israel
Their prayers should together make.
5 For there are thrones erect,
And that for this respect,
To set forth justice orderly:
Which thrones right to maintain
To Davids house pertain,
His folk to judge accordingly.
6 To pray let us not cease
For Jerusalems peace,
Thy friends God prosper mightily:
7 Peace be thy walls about,
And prosper thee throughout
Thy palaces continually.
8 I wish thy prosperous state
For my poor brethrens sake,
That comfort have by means of thee.
9 Gods house doth me allure
By wealth for to procure
So much as lies in me.

PSALM CXXIII. T.S.

O Thou that in the heav'ns dost dwell,
I lift mine eyes to thee:
Even as a servant listeth his,
his masters hands to see.
As handmaids watch their mistress hand
to see grace for to achieve:
So we behold the Lord our God,
till he do us forgive.
Lord, grant us thy compassion,
and mercy in thy sight:
For we are fill'd and overcome
with hatred and despight.

4 Our minds are stuff with great rebuke,
the rich and worldly wife
Do make of us their mocking-stocks,
the proud do us despise.

PSALM CXXIV. W.W.

NOW Israel
may say, and that truly
if that the Lord
had not our cause maintain'd,
2 If that the Lord
had not our right sustain'd,
When all the world
against us furiously
Made their uproars,
and said we should all die.
3 Now long ago
they had devour'd us all,
And swallow'd quick,
for ought that we could deem:
Such was their rage,
as we might well esteem.
4 And as the floods
with mighty force do fall:
So had they now
our lives even brought to thrall, 5 The raging streams,
most proud in roaring noise,
Had long ago
o'rewhelm'd us in the deep:
6 But lov'd be God,
which doth us safely keep
From bloody teeth,
and their most cruel voice,
Which as a prey,
to eat us would rejoyce.
7 Even as a bird
out of the fowlers gins Escapes away,
right so it fares with us:
Broke are their nets,
and we have scaped thus.
8 God that made Heaven
and Earth is our help then:
His Name hath sav'd
us from these wicked men.

PSALM CXXV. W.K.

SUCH as in God the Lord do trust,
As mount Sion shall firmly stand,
And be removed at no hand.
The Lord will count them right and true
So that they shall be sure
For ever to endure.
2 As mighty mountains huge and great Jerusalem about do close:
So will the Lord do unto those Who on his godly will do wait:
Such are to him so dear,
They never need to fear.
3 For though the righteous try doth
By making wicked men his rod,
Lest they through grief forsake their God,
It shall not as their lot still be.
4 Give, Lord, to us thy light,
Whose hearts are true and right.

Psalm CXXVI, CXXVII, CXXVIII

But as for such as turn aside
By crooked ways which they out sought,
The Lord will surely bring to nought,
With workers vile they shall abide:
But peace with Israel
For evermore shall dwell.

Another of the same, by W. W.

THose that do put their confidence
Upon the Lord our God only,
And flee to him for their defence
In all their need and misery:
Their faith is sure still to endure,
Grounded on Christ the corner-stone,
Mov'd with none ill, but standeth still Stedfast like to the Mount Sion.

And as about Jerusalem
The mighty hills do it compass,
So that no enemies come to them
To hurt that town in any case:
So God indeed in every need
His faithful people doth defend,
Standing them by assuredly
From this time forth world without end.

Right wise and good is our Lord-God,
And will not suffer certainly
The sinners and ungodlies rod
To rest upon his family:
Lest they also from God should go,
Falling to sin and wickedness.
O Lord, defend world without end
Thy Christian flock through thy goodness.

O Lord do good to Christians all
That stedfast in thy word abide:
But such as from the Lord do fall,
And to false doctrine daily slide,
Them will the Lord scatter abroad
With hypocrites thrown down to hell,
God will them send pains without end:
But, Lord, grant peace to Israel.

Glory to God the Father of might,
And to the Son our Saviour,
And to the holy Ghost whose light
Shine in our hearts, and us succour:
That the right way from day to day
We may walk, and him glorifie:
With hearts desire all that are here
Worship the Lord, and say, Amen.

PSAL. CXXVI. W. W.

WHen that the Lord
again his Sion had forth brought From bondage great,
and also servitude extream;
His work was such
as did surmount mans heart and thought:
So that we were
much like to them that use to dream.
Our mouths all were
with laughter filled then,
Also our tongues
did shew us joyful men.
The heathen folk
were forced then this to confesse,
How that the Lord
or them also great things had done.

3 But much more we,
and therefore can confess no less:
Wherefore to joy
we have good cause as we begun.
4 O Lord, go forth,
thou canst our bondage ends
As to desarts
the flowing rivers send.
5 Full true it is that they which sow in tears indeed,
A time will come
when they shall reap in mirth and joy.
6 They went and wept
in bearing of their precious seed,
For that their foes
full oftentimes did them annoy:
But their return
with joy they shall surely see,
Their sheaves home bring,
and not impaired be.

PSAL. CXXVII. W. W.

EXcept the Lord the house doth make
And thereunto doth set his hand:
What men do build it cannot stand.
Likewise in vain men undertake
Cities and holds to watch and ward,
Except the Lord be their safeguard.
2 Though ye rise early in the morn,
And so at night go late to bed,
Feeding full hardly with brown bread,
Yet were your labour lost and worn:
But they whom God doth love and keep,
Receive all things with quiet sleep.
3 Therefore mark well when-e're ye see
That men have heirs e' enjoy their land,
It is the gift of Gods own hand:
For God himself doth multiply
Of his great liberality
The blessing of posterity.
4 And when the children come to age
They grow in strength and activens
In person and in comeliness:
So that a shaft shot with courage
Of one that hath a mark strong arm
Flies not so swift, nor doth like harm.
5 Oh well is he that hath his quiver
Furnisht with such artillery:
For when in perill he shall be,
Such one shall never quake nor shive
When that he pleads before the judge
Against his foes that bear him grudge.

PSAL. CXXVIII. T. S.

Blessed art thou that fearest God;
and walkest in his ways:
2 For of thy labour thou shalt eat,
happy shall be thy days.
3 Like fruitful Vines on thy house side
so doth thy Wife spring out:
Thy Children stand like Olive-plants
thy table round about.
4 Thus art thou blest that fearest God
and he shall let thee see,

Psalm CXXIX, CXXX, CXXXI, CXXXII.

The promised Jerusalem,
and her felicity.

3 Thou shalt thy childrens children see,
to thy great joys increase:
And likewise grace on Israel,
prosperity and peace.

PSAL. CXXIX. M.

Oft they, now Israel may say,
me from my youth assail'd:
2 Oft they assail'd me from my youth,
yet never have prevail'd.
Upon my back the plowes plow'd,
and furrows long did cast:
4 The righteous Lord hath cut the cords of wicked men at last.
5 They that hate me shall be asham'd,
and turned back also:
6 And made as grass upon the house,
which with'reth ere it grow:
7 Whereof the mower cannot find enough to fill his hand:
Nor can he fill his lap that goes
to glean upon the land.
8 Nor passers by pray God on them
to let his blessing fall:
9 Or say, We bless you in the Name
of God the Lord at all.

PSAL. CXXX. W. W.

Lord, to thee I make my mone
when dangers me oppress:
I call, I sigh, complain and grone,
trusting to find release.
2 Hear now, O Lord, my request,
for it is full due time:
Let thine ears always be prest
unto this prayer of mine.
3 O Lord our God, if thou welgh
our sins and them peruse:
Who shall then escape, and say,
I can my self excuse?
4 But, Lord, thou art merciful,
and turn'st to us thy grace,
That we with hearts most careful should fear before thy face.
5 In God I put my whole trust,
my soul waits on his will:
For his promise is most just,
and I hope therein still.
6 My soul to God hath regard,
wishing for him alway,
More then they that watch and ward
to see the dawning day.
7 Let Israel then boldly
in the Lord put his trust
He is that God of mercy
that his deliver must.
8 For he it is that must save
Israel from his sin,
And all such as surly have their confidence in him

PSAL. CXXXI. M.

O Lord, I am not puffed in mind,
I have no scornful eye:
I do not exercise my self
in things that be too high.
2 But as a child that weaned is even from his mothers breast:
So have I, Lord, behav'd my self
in silence and in rest.
3 O Israel trust in the Lord,
let him be all thy stay,
From this time forth for evermore,
from age to age alway.

PSAL. CXXXII. M.

Remember Davids troubles, Lord,
how to the Lord he swore,
2 And vow'd a vow to Jacobs God,
to keep for evermore:
3 I will not come within my house,
nor climb up to my bed,
4 Nor let my temples take their rest,
nor the eyes in my head,
5 Till I have found out for the Lord
a place to sit thereon:
An house for Jacobs God to be an habitation.
6 We heard of it at Ephrata,
there did we hear this sound:
And in the fields and forests there
these voices first were found.
7 We will assay, and go into his tabernacle there,
Before his footstool to fall down,
and worship him in fear.
8 Arise, O Lord, arise, I pray,
into thy resting-place:
Thou and the ark of thy great strength,
the presence of thy grace.
9 Let all thy priests be clothed, Lord,
with truth and righteousness:
Let all thy saints and holy men
sing with great joyfulness.
10 And for thy servant Davids sake,
refuse not, Lord, I pray,
The face of thine anointed, and turn not thy face away.

The Second Part.

21 The Lord to David swore in truth,
and will not shrink from it,
saying, the fruit of thy body
upon thy seat shall sit.
22 And if thy sons my cov'nant keep,
that I shall learn each one:
Then shall their sons for ever sit upon thy princely throne.
23 The Lord himself hath Sion chose,
and loves therein to dwell,
24 Saying, this is my resting-place,
I love and like it well.
25 And I will bless with great increase her victuals every where:
And I will satisfie with bread
the needy, that be there,

Psalm CXXXIII, CXXXIV, CXXXV.

16 With my salvation I will clothe her priests for evermore :
And all her saints likewise shall sing
and shout for joy therefore.
17 There will I surely make the house of David for to bud :
For there I have ordain'd for mine
a lantern bright and good.
18 As for his foes, I will them clothe with shame for evermore :
But I will cause his crown to shine
more fresh then heretofore.

P S A L. CXXXIII. W. W.

O How happy a thing it is,
and joyful for to see,
Brethren together fast to hold
the band of amity !
1 It calls to mind that sweet perfume,
and that costly ointment,
Which on the sacrificers head
by Gods command was spent.
It wet not Aarons head alone,
but on his beard did fall :
And finally it did run down
on his rich garments all.
2 And as the lower ground doth drink
the dew of Hermon hill,
And Sion with his silver drops
the fields with fruit doth fill :
4 Even so the Lord doth pour on them
his blessings manifold, Whose hearts and minds without all guile
this knot doth keep and hold.

P S A L. CXXXIV. W. W.

BEhold and have regard,
ye servants of the Lord,
Which in his house by night do watch :
praise him with one accord.
1 Lift up your hands on high unto his holy place,
And give the Lord his praises due,
his benefits embrace.
2 For why ? the Lord who did
both earth and heaven frame, Doth Sion bless, and will conserve
for evermore the same.

P S A L. CXXXV. N.

O Praise the Lord, praise him, praise him,
praise him with one accord :
O praise him still all ye that be the servants of the Lord :
1 O praise him ye that stand and be in the house of the Lord :
Ye of his court, and of his house,
praise him with one accord.
Praise ye the Lord, for he is good,
sing praises to his Name :
It is a comely and good thing
always to do the same.
4 For why ? the Lord hath Jacob chose,
his very own ye see :
So hath he chosen Israel
his treasure for to be.

5 For this I know and am right sure,
the Lord is very great :
He is indeed above all gods
most easie to intreat.
6 For whatsoever pleased him,
all that full well he wrought :
In heaven, in earth, and in the sea,
which he hath made of nought.
7 He lifts up clouds even from the earth,
he makes lightnings and rain.
He bringeth forth the winds also,
and nothing made in vain.
8 He smote the first-born of each king
in Egypt that took rest :
He spared there no living thing,
the man nor yet the beast.
9 He did likewise shew wonders great
on their inhabitants, Upon king Pharaoh, and also on his severe servants.
10 He smote then many nations,
and did great acts and things
He slew the great and mightiest
and chiefest of their kings.
11 Schon king of the Amorites,
and Og king of Basan :
He slew also the kingdoms all that were of Canaan :
12 And gave their land to Israel,
an heritage we see,
To Israel his own people,
an heritage to be.

The Second Part.

13 Thy Name shall still endure, and thy memorial likewise
Throughout all generations
that are, or shall arise.
14 The Lord will surely now avenge
his people all indeed :
And to his servants he will shew
favour in time of need.
15 The idols of the heathen which are in the coasts and lands,
Of silver and of gold they be,
the work even of mens hands.
16 They have their mouths, but cannot and eyes that have no sight :
17 And they have ears, but hear nothing,
their mouths are breathless quite.
18 Wherefore all they are like to them,
that so do set them forth :
And likewise those that trust in them,
or think they be ought worth.
19 O all ye house of Israel,
see that ye praise the Lord :
And ye that be of Aarons house,
praise him with one accord.
20 And ye that be of Levi's house,
praise ye likewise the Lord :
And ye that stand in awe of him,
praise him with one accord.
21 And out of Sion sound his praise,
the great praise of the Lord,
Which dwelleth in Jerusalem.
Praise him with one accord.

Psalm CXXXVI.

PSALM CXXXVI. N.

Praise ye the Lord, for he his good,
for his mercy endureth for ever.
2 Give praise unto the God of gods,
for his mercy, &c.
3 Give praise unto the Lord of lords,
for his mercy, &c.
4 Which only doth great wondrous works,
for his mercy, &c.
5 Which by his wisdom made the heavens,
for his mercy, &c.
6 Which on the waters stretcht the earth,
for his mercy, &c.
7 Which made great lights to shine abroad,
for his mercy, &c.
8 As sun to rule the lightfom day,
for his mercy, &c.
9 The moon and stars to guide the night,
for his mercy, &c.
10 Which smote Egypt with their first-born,
for his mercy, &c.
11 And Israel brought out from thence,
for his mercy, &c.
12 With mighty hand and stretched arm,
for his mercy, &c.
13 Which cut the Red-sea in two parts,
for his mercy, &c.
14 And Israel made to pass there-through,
for his mercy, &c.
15 And drowned Pharaoh and his host,
for his mercy, &c.
16 Through wilderness his people led,
for his mercy, &c.
17 He which did smite great noble kings,
for his mercy, &c.
18 And which hath slain the mighty kings,
for his mercy, &c.
19 As Schon king of Amorites,
for his mercy, &c.
20 And Og the king of Basan land,
for his mercy, &c.
21 And gave their land for heritage,
for his mercy, &c.
22 Even to his servant Israel,
for his mercy, &c.
23 Remembering us in base estate,
for his mercy, &c.
24 And from oppressours rescued us,
for his mercy, &c.
25 Which giveth food unto all flesh,
for his mercy, &c.
26 Praise ye the Lord of heaven above,
for his mercy, &c.
27 Givethanks unto the Lord of lords,
for his mercy endureth for ever.

Another of the same, by T. G.

O Laud the Lord benigne,
Whose mercies ne're decay:
2 Give thanks and praises sing
To God of gods alway.
For certainly
His mercies dure
Both firm and sure
eternally.

3 The Lord of lords praise ye,
Whose mercies ever dure:
4 Great wonders only he Doth work by his great power.
For certainly, &c.
5 Which God omnipotent
By his great wisdom high
The heavenly firmament
Did frame as we may see,
For certainly, &c.
6 Yea, he the heavy charge
Of all the earth did stretch:
And on the waters large
The same he did out reach.
For certainly, &c.
7 Great lights he made, for why?
His mercy lasts alway:
8 Such as the Sun we see,
To rule the lightfom day.
For certainly, &c.
9 Also the Moon so clear,
Which shineth in our sight,
And stars that do appear,
To guide the darkfom night
For certainly, &c.
10 With grievous plagues and sore
All Egypt smote he then:
The first-born less and more
He slew of beasts and men.
For certainly, &c.
11 And from amidst their land
His Israel forth brought:
12 Which he with mighty hand
And stretched arm hath wrought.
For certainly, &c.
13 The sea he cut in two,
Which stood up like a wall:
14 And made through it to go
His chosen children all.
For certainly, &c.
15 But there o'rewhelmed then
The proud king Pharaoh,
With his huge host of men,
And chariots also.
For certainly, &c.
16 Who led through wilderness
His people safe and sound:
17 And for his love endless
Great kings he brought to ground
For certainly, &c.
18 And with puissant hand
Slew kings of mighty fame:
19 As of Amorites land
Schon the king by name.
For certainly, &c.
20 And Og (the giant large)
Of Basan king also:
21 Whose land for heritage
He gave his people to.
For certainly, &c.
22 Even unto Israel
His servant dear, I say,
He gave the same to dwell,
And there abide alway.
For certainly, &c.

Psalm CXXXVII, CXXXVIII, CXXXIX.

1 To mind he did us call
 In our most base degree:
 2 And from oppressours all
 In safety set us free.
 For certainly, &c.
 3 All flesh in earth abroad
 With food he doth fulfill:
 4 Wherefore of heaven the God
 To laud be it your will.
 For certainly,
 His mercies dure
 Both firm and sure
 Eternally.

P S A L. CXXXVII. W. W.

When as we sat in Babylon
 the rivers round about,
 And in remembrance of Sion
 the tears for grief burst out:
 1 We hang'd our harps and instruments
 the willow-trees upon:
 For in that place men for their use
 had planted many a one.
 2 Then they to whom we prisoners were,
 said to us tauntingly,
 New let us hear your Hebrew songs,
 and pleasant melody.
 3 Aias! said we, who can once frame
 his heavy heart to sing
 The praises of our loving God,
 thus under a strange king?
 4 But yet if I Jerusalem
 out of my heart let slide:
 Then let my fingers quite forget
 the warbling harp to guide.
 5 And let my tongue within my mouth
 be ty'd for ever fast,
 If that I joy before I see thy full deliv'rance pass.
 6 Therefore, O Lord, remember now
 the cursed noise and cry
 That Edoms sons against us made,
 when they ras'd our City.
 Remember, Lord, their cruel words,
 when as with mighty sound
 They cried, Down, yea, down with it unto the very ground.
 7 Even so shalt thou, O Babylon,
 at length to dust be brought:
 And happy shall that man be call'd,
 that our revenge hath wrought.
 8 Yea, blessed shall that man be call'd,
 that takes thy little ones,
 And dasheth them in pieces small
 against the very stones.

P S A L. CXXXVIII. N.

Thee will I praise with my whole heart
 my Lord my God, always:
 Even in the presence of the gods
 I will advance thy praise.
 1 Toward thy holy temple I will look and worship thee:
 And praised in my thankful mouth
 thy holy Name shall be.

Even for thy loving kindness sake,
 and for thy truth withall:
 For thou thy Name hast by thy word
 advanced over all.
 2 When I did call, thou heardest me,
 and thou hast made also
 The power of increased strength
 within my soul to grow.
 3 Yea, all the kings on earth they shall give praise to thee, O Lord:
 For they of thy most holy mouth
 have heard the mighty word.
 4 They of the ways of God the Lord
 in singing shall entreat:
 Because the glory of the Lord
 it is exceeding great.
 5 The Lord is high, but yet he doth
 the lowly man respect:
 The proud he knows far off, and them
 with scorn he doth reject.
 6 Although in midst of trouble I do walk, yet shall I stand Reviv'd by thee, for thou, O Lord,
 wilt stretch out thy right hand
 Upon the wrath of all my foes,
 and saved shall I be By thy right hand. The Lord God will perform his work to me.
 7 Thy mercy lasts for evermore,
 Lord, do me not forsake:
 Forsake me not that am the work which thine own hand did make.

P S A L. CXXXIX. N.

O Lord, thou hast me try'd and know'st
 my sitting down dost know, 1 My rising up, and thoughts far off,
 thou understand'st also.
 2 My paths, yea, and my lying down
 thou compass'st always:
 And by familiar custom art
 acquainted with my ways.
 3 No word is in my tongue, O Lord,
 that is not known to thee:
 4 Thou hast beset me round about,
 and laid thy hand on me.
 5 Such knowledge is too wonderful and past my skill to gain:
 It is so high that I unto
 the same cannot attain.
 6 From sight of thy all-seeing Spirit,
 Lord, whither shall I go?
 Or whither shall I fly away
 from thy presence also.
 7 To heav'n if I do mount aloft,
 lo, thou art present there:
 In hell if I lie down below,
 even there thou dost appear.
 8 Yea, let me take the morning wings,
 and let me go and dwell
 Even in the very utmost parts
 where flowing sea doth swell:
 9 Yet certainly there also shall thy hand me lead and guide:
 And thy right hand shall hold me fast,
 and make me to abide.

Psalm CXL, CXLI.

Or if I say, the darkness shall shroud me quite from thy sight :
Even then the night that is most dark,
about me shall be light.
The darkness hideth not from thee,
but night doth shine as day :
To thee the darkness and the light
are both alike alway.

The Second Part.

For thou possessedst hast my reins,
and thou hast covered me,
When I within my mothers womb
enclosed was by thee.
Thee will I praise, made fearfully
and wondrously I am :
Thy works are marvellous, right well
my soul doth know the same.
My bones they are not hid from thee,
although in secret place
I have been made, and in the earth
beneath I shaped was.
When I was formless, then thine eye
saw me : for in thy book
were written all, nought was before that after fashion took.
The thoughts therefore of thee, O God,
how dear are they to me !
And of them all how passing great
the endless number be !
If I should count them, lo, their sum
more than the sand I see :
And whensoever I awake
yet am I still with thee.
The wicked and ungodly thou
most surely wilt slay :
Therefore now all ye bloody men,
depart from me away.
For they against thee, O my God,
do speak full wickedly :
They take thy Name in vain, and are great enemies to thee.
Hate I not them that hate thee, Lord,
and that in earnest wise ?
Am I not grieved with all those
that up against thee rise ?
I hate them with a perfect hate,
even as my utter foes.
Try me, O God, and know my heart,
my thoughts prove and disclose.
Consider, Lord, if wickedness
in me there any be :
And in thy way, O God my guide,
for ever lead thou me.

PSAL. CXL. N.

Lord, save me from the evil man,
and from his pride and spite,
And from all those also which do,
in violence delight.
Which make on me continual war,
their tongues, lo, they have whet
Like serpents, underneath their lips
is adders poison set.
Keep me, O Lord, from wicked hands, preserve me to abide

Free from the cruel man, that means
to cause my steps to slide.
The proud have laid a snare for me,
and they have spread a net
With cords in my path-way, and gins
for me also have set.

Therefore I said unto the Lord,
thou art my God alone :
Hear me, O Lord, O hear the voice
wherewith I pray and moane.
O Lord my God, thou only art
the strength that saveth me :
My head in day of battel hath been cover'd still by thee.
Let not, O Lord, the wicked have the end of his desire :
Perform not his ill thought, lest he
with pride be set on fire.
Of them that compass me about,
the chiefest of them all,
Lord, let the mischief of their lips
upon their own heads fall.
Let coals fall on them, let them be cast in consuming flame,
And in deep pit, so as they may not rise out of the same.
For no backbiter shall on earth
be set in stable plight :
And evil to destruction still shall hunt the cruelwight.
I know the Lord th' afflicted will revenge, and judge the poor :
The just shall praise thy Name, & shall dwell with thee evermore.

PSAL. CXLI. N.

Lord, upon thee do I call,
then haste thee unto me :
And hearken thou unto my voice
when I do cry to thee.
As incense let my pray'rs still be directed in thine eyes :
And the up-lifting of my hands
as evening sacrifice.
For guiding of my mouth, O Lord,
set thou a watch before :
And also of my moving lips,
O Lord, keep thou the door.
That I should wicked works commit,
incline thou not my heart :
With ill men of their delicacies,
Lord, let me eat no part.
But let the righteous smite me, Lord,
for that is good for me :
Let him reprove me, and the same
a precious oyl shall be.
Such smiting shall not break my head,
the time shall shortly fall,
When I shall in their misery
make prayers for them all.
And when in stony places down
their judges shall be cast :
Then shall they hear my words, because they have a pleasant taste.
Our bones about the graves mouth are all scattered and found :

Psalm CXLII, CXLIII, CXLIV.

As he that heweth wood, or he
that diggeth up the ground.

8 But, O my Lord my God, mine eyes
do look up unto thee:
In thee is all my trust, let not my soul forsaken be.

9 Keep and preserve me from the snare
which they for me have laid:
And from the gins of wicked men,
whereof I am afraid.

10 The wicked into their own nets
together let them fall:
While I do by thy help escape,
the danger of them all.

P S A L. CXLII. N.

UNto the Lord God with my voice
I did send out my cry:
And with my strained voice unto
the Lord God prayed I.

1 My meditation in his sight
to pour I did not spare:
And in the presence of the Lord
my trouble did declare.

2 Although perplexed was my soul,
my path was known to thee:
In way where I did walk, a snare
they slyly laid for me.

3 I look'd and view'd on my right hand;
but none there would me know:
All refuge failed me, and for my soul none cared now.

4 Then cried I to thee, and said,
O Lord, my hope thou art:
And in the land of the living,
my portion and my part.

5 Hark to my cry, for I am brought full low, deliver me
From them that do me persecute,
for me too strong they be.

6 That I may praise thy Name, my soul
from prison, Lord, bring out:
When thou art good to me, the just shall press me round about.

P S A L. CXLIII. N.

Lord, hear my prayer, and my complaint
that I do make to thee:
And in thy native truth, and in thy justice answer me.

1 In judgment with thy servant, Lord,
O enter not at all:
For justifi'd be in thy sight
not one that liveth shall.

2 The enemy pusht my soul,
my life to ground hath thrown:
And laid me in the dark, like them
that dead are long ago.

3 Within me is perplexity
was mine afflicted sprite:
And in me was my troubled heart
amazed and affright.

4 Yet I record time past, and on thy works I meditate.

Yes, I do muse upon thy works
that thy hands have create.

5 To thee, O Lord my God, do I stretch forth my craving hands:
My soul desireth after thee,
as do the thirsty lands.

6 Hear me with speed, my spirit falls, hide not thy face, lest I be like to them that in the pit
sink down, and there do lie.

7 Let me thy loving kindness in the morning hear and know:
For in thee is my trust, shew me
the way where I shall go.

8 For I lift up my soul to thee,
O Lord, deliver me
From all mine enemies: for I have hidden me with thee.

9 Teach me to do thy will, for thou thou art my God alway.
Let thy good spirit to the land
of mercy me convey.

10 For thy Names sake with quickningalive do thou me make: (grace)
And out of trouble bring my soul
even for thy justice sake.

11 And of thy mercy slay my foes,
O Lord, destroy them all
That do oppress my soul, for I thy servant am and shall.

P S A L. CXLIV. N.

Blest be the Lord my strength, that doth instruct my hands to fight:
The Lord that doth my fingers frame
to battel by his might.

1 He is my hope, my fort, and tower,
deliverer and shield:
In him I trust, my people he
subdues to me to yield.

2 O Lord, what thing is man, that his thou holdest so in price?
Or son of man, that upon him
thou thinkest in such wise?

3 Man is but like to vanity,
so pass his days to end

4 As fleeting shade. Bow down, O Lord,
the heavens and descend,

5 The mountains touch, and they shall cast forth thy lightning flame (smoke)
And scatter them: thine arrows shoot, consume them with the same.

6 Send down thy hand from heaven O
Lord, deliver me: (bow)
Take me from waters great, from hand
of strangers set me free.

7 Whose subtil mouth of vanity
with flattering words doth treat:
And their right hand is a right hand
of falsehood and deceit.

8 A new song will I sing, O God,
and singing will I be,
On viol and on instrument
tea-bringed unto thee.

Psalm CXLV, CXLVI

To Even he it is that only gives deliverance to kings:
 Unto his servant David help
 from hurtful sword he brings.
 11 From strangers hand me save & shield,
 whose mouth talks vanity:
 And their right hand is a right hand
 of guile and subtilty.
 12 That our sons may be as the plants
 whom growing youth doth rear:
 Our daughters as carv'd corner-stones,
 like to a palace fair.
 13 Our garners full, and plenty may
 of sundry sorts be found:
 Our sheep bring thousands, in our streets
 ten thousands may abound.
 14 Our oxen be to labour strong,
 that none do us invade:
 There be no goings-out, nor cries
 within our streets be made.
 15 The people blessed are that with such blessings great are shar'd: Yea, blessed all the people are whose God is God the Lord.

PSAL. CXLV. N.

Thee will I laud, my God and King,
 and blest thy Name alway:
 For ever will I praise thy Name,
 and blest thee day by day.
 3 Great is the Lord, most worthy praise,
 his greatness none can reach:
 4 From race to race they shall thy works
 praise, and thy power preach.
 5 I of thy glorious majesty
 the beauty will record:
 And meditate upon thy works
 most wonderful, O Lord.
 6 And they shall of thy power, and of thy fearful acts declare:
 And I to publish all abroad
 thy greatness will not spare.
 7 And they into the mention shall break of thy goodness great:
 And I aloud thy righteousness
 in singing shall repeat.
 8 The Lord our God is gracious,
 and merciful also:
 Of great abounding mercy, and
 so anger he is slow:
 Yea, good to all, and all his works
 his mercy doth exceed:
 10 Lo, all thy works do praise thee, Lord,
 and do thy honour spread.
 11 Thy Saints do blest thee, and they do thy kingdoms glory show:
 12 And blaze thy power, to cause the sons
 of men thy power to know.

The Second Part.

And of his kingdoms majesty
 to spread the glorious praise.
 13 Thy kingdom, Lord, a kingdom is that doth endure always:
 And thy dominion through each age
 endures without decay.

14 The Lord upholdeth them that fall,
 their sliding he doth stay.
 15 The eyes of all do wait on thee:
 thou dost them all relieve:
 And thou to each sufficing food
 in season due dost give.
 16 Thou openest thy plentiful hand;
 and bounteously dost fill
 All things whatever that do live,
 with gifts of thy good will.
 17 The Lord is just in all his ways,
 his works are holy all:
 18 And he is near all those that do,
 in trust upon him call.
 19 He the desires which they require that fear him will fulfill:
 And he will hear them when they cry,
 and save them all he will.
 20 The Lord preserves all those to him
 that bear a loving heart:
 But he them all that wicked are will utterly subvert.
 21 My thankful mouth shall gladly speak
 the praises of the Lord:
 All flesh to praise his holy Name for ever shall accord.

PSAL. CXLVI. J. H.

My soul, praise thou the Lord always,
 my God I will confess:
 2 While breath and life prolong my days,
 my tongue no time shall cease.
 3 Trust not in worldly princes then,
 though they abound in wealth:
 Nor in the sons of mortal men,
 in whom there is no health.
 4 For why? their breath doth soon decay to earth anon they fall: (part)
 And then the counsels of their heart
 decay and perish all.
 5 Blessed and happy is that man,
 whom Jacobs God doth aid:
 And he whose hope doth not decay,
 but on the Lord is staid.
 6 Who made the earth and waters deep,
 the heavens high withall:
 Which doth his word and promise keep
 in truth, and ever shall.
 7 With right always doth he proceed
 for such as suffer wrong:
 The poor and hungry he doth feed,
 and loose the fetters strong.
 8 The Lord doth send the blind their sight,
 the lame to limbs restore:
 And he doth love the righteous,
 and just man evermore.
 9 He doth defend the fatherless,
 and stranger sad in heart,
 And quit the widdow from distress,
 and ill mens ways subvert.
 10 Thy Lord and God eternally,
 O Sion, still shall reign,
 In time of all posterity
 for ever to remain.

Psalm CXLVII, CXLVIII:

PSALM CXLVII. M.

Praise ye the Lord, for it is good unto our God to sing:
For it is pleasant, and to praise
it is a comely thing.
1 The Lord his own Jerusalem
he buildeth up alone:
And the dispersed of Israel
doth gather into one.
2 He heals the broken in their hearts;
their sores up doth he bind:
3 He counts the number of the stars,
and names them in their kind.
4 Great is the Lord, great is his power,
his wisdom infinite.
5 The Lord relieves the meek, & throws
to ground the wicked wight.
6 Sing unto God the Lord with psalms,
unto the Lord rejoyce:
And to our God upon the harp
advance your singing voice.
7 He covers heaven with clouds, and for the earth prepareth rain:
And on the mountains he doth make
the grass to grow again.
8 He gives to beasts their food, and to young ravens when they do cry:
9 His pleasure not in strength of horse,
nor in mans legs doth lie:
10 But in all those that do him fear,
the Lord hath his delight,
And such as do attend upon his mercies shining light.

The Second Part.

11 O praise the Lord, Jerusalem;
thy God, O Sion, praise:
12 For he the bars hath forged strong,
wherewith thy gates he stayes.
13 Thy children he hath blest in thee:
and in thy borders he Doth settle peace, and with the flour
of wheat he filleth thee.
14 And his commandment upon the earth he sendeth out:
Also his word with speedy course
doth swiftly run about.
15 He giveth snow like wool, and frost
like ashes scatt'reth wide:
16 Like morsels casts his ice, thereof
the cold who can abide?
17 He sendeth forth his mighty word,
and melteth them again:
His wind he makes to blow, and then
the waters flow again.
18 The doctrine of his holy word
to Jacob he doth show:
His statutes and his judgments he gives Israel to know.
19 With every nation he hath not so dealt, nor have they known His secret judgments, ye therefore praise ye the Lord alone.

PSALM CXLVIII. J. R.

Give laud unto the Lord,
From heav'n that is so high;
Praise him in deed and word,
Above the starry skie.
1 And also ye,
His angels all,
Armies royal,
Praise joyfully.
2 Praise him both moon and sun
Which are so clear and bright:
The same of you be done,
Ye glistering stars of light!
3 And you no less,
Ye heavens fair,
And clouds of th' air,
His laud express.
4 For at his word they were
All formed as we see:
At his voice did appear
All things in their degree,
5 Which he set fast,
To them he made
A law and trade
Always to last.
6 Extol and praise Gods Name
On earth ye dragons sell:
All deeps do ye the same,
For it becomes ye well.
7 Him magnifie,
Fire, hail, ice, snow,
And storms that blow:
At his decree.
8 The hills and mountains all,
And trees that fruitful are,
The cedars great and tall,
His worthy praise declare.
9 Beasts and cattel,
Yes, birds flying,
And worms creeping,
That on earth dwell.
10 All kings both more and less,
With all their pompous train,
Princes and all judges
That in the world remain,
Exalt his Name.
11 Young men and maids,
Old men and babes,
Do ye the same.
12 For his Name shall we prove
To be most excellent,
Whose praise is far above
The earth and armament.
13 For sure he shall Exult with bliss
The horn of his,
And help them all.
14 His saints all shall forthgo
His praise and worthiness,
The children of Israel
Each one both more and less.
15 And also they
That with good will
His words fulfill,
And him obey,

Psalm CXLIX, CL.

PSALM CXLIX.

Sing ye unto the Lord our God
a new rejoycing song:
And let the praise of him be heard
his holy saints among.
Let Israel rejoyce in him
that made him of nothing:
And let the children of Sion
be joyfull in their King.
3 Let them sound praise with voice of flute:
unto his holy Name:
And with the timbrel and the harp
sing praises to the same.
4 For why? the Lord his pleasure all
nath in his people set:
And by deliverance he will raise
the meek to glory great.
5 With glory and with honour now
let all his saints rejoyce:
And now aloud upon their beds
advance their singing voice.
6 And in their mouths let be the high praises of God the Lord:
And in their hands likewise a sharp
and double edged sword:
7 To plague the heathen, and correct
the people with their hands:

To bind their stately kings in chains,
their lords in iron bands:
8 To execute on them the doom
that written was before,
This honour all his saints shall have:
Praise ye the Lord therefore.

PSALM CL. N.

Yield unto God the mighty Lord
praise in his sanctu'ry:
And praise him in the firmament,
that shews his power on high.
1 Advance his Name, and praise him in his mighty acts always:
According to his excellence
and greatness give him praise.
2 His praises with the princely noise
of sounding trumpets blow:
Praise him upon the viol, and upon the harp also.
3 Praise him with timbrel and with flute,
organs and virginals:
4 With founding cymbals praise ye him,
praise him with loud cymbals.
5 Whatever hath the benefit of breathing, praise the Lord:
To praise his great and mighty Name,
agree with one accord.

The End of the PSALMS.

VENI CREATOR.

Come holy Ghost, eternal God,
proceeding from above,
Both from the Father and the Son,
the God of peace and love.
Visit our minds, and into us
thy heavenly grace inspire:
That in all truth and godliness,
we may have true desire.
Thou art the very Comforter
in all wo and distress:
The heavenly gift of God most high,
which no tongue can express:
The fountain and the lively spring
of joy celestiale
The fire so bright, the love so cleas,
and unction spiritual.
Thou in thy gifts art manifold,
whereby Christs Church doth stand:
In faithfull hearts writing thy law,
the finger of Gods hand.
According to thy promise made,
thou givest speech of grace:
That through thy help the praise of God
may stand in every place.
O holy Ghost, into our souls
send down thy Heavenly light:
Kindle our hearts with fervent love,
as ye God day and night

Strengthen and stablish our weakness,
so feeble and so frail:
That neither devil, world, nor flesh
against us may prevail.
Our enemies put far from us,
and grant us to obtain Peace in our hearts with God and man,
without grudge or disdain.
And grant, O Lord, that thou being
our leader and our guide,
We may eschew the snares of sin,
and from thee never slide.
To us such plenty of thy grace,
good Lord, grant we thee pray,
That thou mayst be our Comforter,
at the last dreadful day.
Of all strife and dissention,
O Lord, dissolve the bands,
Make fast the knots of peace and love,
throughout all Christian lands.
Grant us, O Lord, through thee to know
the Father most of might:
That of his dear beloved Son
we may attain the sight:
And that with perfect faith also
we may acknowledge thee,
The Spirit of them both alway,
one God in persons three.

The humble suit of a sinner.

All laud and praise to the Father and to the Son equal,
And to the holy Ghost also,
one God coeternal.
And pray we that the only Son vouchsafe his Spirit to send
To all that do profess his Name,
even unto the worlds end.

The humble suit of a sinner. M.

O Lord on whom I do depend,
behold my careful heart:
And when thy will and pleasure is,
release me of my smart.
Thou see'st my sorrows what they are,
my grief is known to thee:
And there is none that can remove,
or take the same from me,
But only thou, whose aid I crave,
whose mercy still is prest
To ease all those that come to thee
for succour and for rest.
And since thou see'st my restless eyes,
my tears and grievous groan,
Attend unto my suit, O Lord,
mark my complaint and moan.
For sin hath so inclosed me,
and compassed me about,
That I am now remediless,
if mercy help not out.
For mortal man cannot release,
or mitigate this pain:
But even thy Christ, my Lord and God,
who for my sins was slain.
Whose bloody wounds are yet to see,
though not with mortal eye:
Yet do thy saints behold them all,
and so I trust shall I.
Though sin doth hinder me a while,
when thou shalt see it good,
I shall enjoy the sight of him,
who shed for me his blood.
And as thine angels and thy saints
do now behold the same:
So trust I to possess that place,
with them to praise thy Name.
But whilst I live here in this vale
where sinners do frequent, Assist me ever with thy grace,
my sins still to lament.
Lest that I tread the sinners trace,
and give them my consent
To dwell with them in wickedness,
whereto nature is bent.
Only thy grace must be my stay,
let that with me remain:
For if I fall, then of my self
I cannot rise again.
Wherefore this is yet once again
my suit and my request,
To grant me pardon for my sin,
that I in thee may rest.
Then shall my heart and tongue also be instruments of praise,
and in thy Church and house of saints
A sing psalms to thee alway.

Venite, exultemus.

Venite, exultemus.

O Come and let us now rejoyce,
And sing unto the Lord,
And to our only Saviour,
Also with one accord.

O let us come before his face,
With inward reverence,
Confessing all our former sins,
And that with diligence.

To thank him for his benefits
Always distributing:
Wherefore to him right joyfully
In psalms now let us sing.

And that because our God alone
Is Lord magnificent,
And is above all other gods
A King omnipotent.

His people doth he not forsake
At any time or tide:
And in his hands are all the coasts
Of all the world so wide.

And with his loving countenance
He looketh every where,
And doth behold the tops of all
The mountains far and near.

The sea and all that is therein
Are his, for he them made:
Also his hand hath fashioned
The earth, which doth not fade.

O come therefore and worship him,
And down before him fall:
And let us kneel before the Lord,
The which hath made us all.

He is our God, our Lord and King,
And we his people are,
His flock and sheep of his pasture,
Of whom he taketh care.

This day if you will hear his voice,
Then harden not your heart,
As in the bitter murmuring,
When ye were in desert.

Which thing was of their negligence
Committed in the time
Of trouble in the wilderness,
A great and grievous crime.

Whereas your fathers tempted me,
And tri'd me every way,
They proved me and saw my works,
What I could do or say.

These forty years have I been griev'd
With this generation:
And evermore I said, They can't
In their imagination

Wherewith their hearts were cumbered
Long time and many days: (sons
Wherefore I said, Assuredly
They have not known my ways.

To whom I in my anger swore
That they should not be blest,
Nor see my joy celestial,
Nor enter in my rest.

Gloria

Te Deum.

Gloria Patri.

All laud and praise be to thee, Lord,
O that of might art most,
To God the Father and the Son,
And to the holy Ghost.
As it in the beginning was
For ever heretofore,
And is now at this present time,
And shall be evermore.

The Song of S. Ambrose, called Te Deum.

We praise thee, God, and thee confess
the only Lord to be,
And as eternal Father, all
the earth doth worship thee.
To thee all Angels cry, the heavens
and all the powers therein
To thee Cherub and Seraphim
to cry they do not lin,
O holy, holy, holy Lord,
of Sabaoth Lord the God, Through heaven and earth thy praise is
and glory all abroad. (spread,
Th' Apostles glorious company
yield praises unto thee:
The Prophets goodly fellowship
praise thee continually.
The noble and victorious host of Martyrs sound thy praise:
The holy Church throughout the world
acknowledge thee always.
Father of endless Majesty
they do acknowledge thee:
Thy Christ thine honourable, true,
and only Son to be.
The holy Ghost the Comforter,
of glory thou art King,
O Christ, and of the Father art
the Son everlasting.
When sinful men decay in hand
thou rookest to restore,
To be inclos'd in virgins womb
thou diddest not abhor.
When thou hadst overcome of death
the sharp and cruel might,
Then heav'n's kingdom didst open set
to each believing wight.
In glory of the Father thou
dost sit on Gods right hand:
We trust that thou shalt come our Judge,
our cause to understand.
Lord, help thy servants whom thou hast bought with thy precious blood,
And in eternal glory set
them with thy saints so good.
O Lord, do thou thy people save,
bless thine inheritance:
Lord, govern them, and also do
for ever them advance.
We magnifie thee day by day,
and world without an end Adore thy holy Name: O Lord vouchsafe us to defend
From sin this day: have mercy, Lord,
have mercy on us all:

Benedictus.

And on us, as we trust in thee,
Lord, let thy mercy fall.
O Lord, I have reposed all
my confidence in thee:
Therefore let no confounding shame
my portion ever be.

The Song of Zacharias, called Benedictus.

The only Lord of Israel
Be praised evermore:
For through his visitation
And mercy kept in store,
His people now he hath redeem'd
That long have been in thrall:
And spread abroad his saving health
Upon his servants all.

In Davids house his servant true,
According to his mind,
And also his anointed King,
As we in Scripture find.
As by his holy Prophets all
Of-times he did declare,
The which were since the world began,
His ways for to prepare.

That we might be delivered
From those that make debate,
Our enemies, and from the hands
Of all that do us hate.

The mercy which he promised
Our fathers to fulfill,
And think upon his cov'nant made
According to his will.

And also to perform the oath
Which he before had sworn
To Abraham our father dear,
For us that were forlorn:

That he would give himself for us
And us from bondage bring
Out of the hands of all our foes,
To serve our heavenly King.
And that without all kind of fear,
Also in righteousness:
And also for to lead our lives
In steadfast holiness:

And thou, O child, which now art born
And of the Lord elect,
Shalt be the Prophet of the High'st,
His ways for to direct.

For thou shalt go before his face
For to prepare his ways,
And also for to teach his will
And pleasure all thy days.

To give them knowledge how that their Salvation is near:
And that remission of their sins
Is through his mercy dear.

Whereby the day-spring from on high
Is come us to visit,
And those for to illuminate
Which do in darkness sit.

To lighten those that shadowed be
With death, and are oppress'd:
And also for to guide our feet
The way to peace and rest

Magnificat. Nunc dimittis.

The Song of the blessed Mary,
called Magnificat.

MY soul doth magnifie the Lord,
My spirit evermore
Rejoyceth in the Lord my God,
Which is my Saviour.

And why? because he did regard,
And gave respect unto
The low estate of his handmaid,
And let the mighty go.

For now behold, all nations
And generations all,
From this time forth for evermore
Shall me right blessed call:

Because he hath me magnifi'd,
Which is the Lord of might,
Whose Name be ever sanctifi'd,
And praised day and night.

For with his mercy and his grace
All men he doth inflame,
Throughout all generations
To such as fear his Name.

He shewed strength with his great arm,
And made the proud to start,
With all imaginations
That they bear in their heart.

He hath put down the mighty ones
From their supernal seat,
And did exalt the meek in heart,
As he hath thought it meet.

The hungry he replenished
With all things that were good,
And through his power he made the rich
Of times to want their food.

And calling to remembrance his Great mercy very well,
Hath holpen up assiduously
His servant Israel.

According to his promise made
To Abraham before,
And to his seed successively,
To stand for evermore.

The Song of Simeon, called Nunc dimittis.

O Lord, because my hearts desire
Hath wished long to see
My only Lord and Saviour,
Thy Son before I die:

The joy and health of all mankind,
Desired long before,
Which now is come into the world,
Of mercy bringing fore:

Thou sufferest thy servant now
In peace for to depart,
According to thy holy Word,
Which lighteneth my heart.

Because mine eyes which thou hast made
To give my body light,
Have now beheld thy saving health,
Which is the Lord of might.

Whom thou hast mercifully set
Of thine abundant grace
In open sight and visible
Before all peoples face,

The Lamentation Of a sinner

The Gentiles to illuminate,
And Satan overquell,
Also to be the glory of Thy people Israel.

The Lamentation of a sinner.

O Lord turn not away thy face
From him that lies prostrate,
Lamenting fore his sinful life
Before thy mercy gate.

Which gate thou openest wide to those
That do lament their sin:
Shut not that gate against me, Lord,
But let me enter in.

And call me not to strict account
How I have lived here:
For then I know right well, O Lord,
How vile I shall appear.

I need not to confess my life,
I am sure thou canst tell:
What I have been, and what I am,
I know thou know'st it well.

O Lord, thou know'st what things be
Also the things that be: (past)
Thou know'st also what is to come,
Nothing is hid from thee.

Before the heav'ns and earth were made
Thou know'st what things were then,
As all things else that have been since
Among the sons of men.

And can the things that I have done
Be hidden from thee then?
No, no, thou know'st them all, O Lord,
Where they were done, and when.

Wherefore with tears I come to thee
To beg and to intreat,
Even as the child that hath done ill,
And feareth to be beat.

So come I to thy mercy gate,
Where mercy doth abound,
Desiring mercy for my sin,
To heal my deadly wound.

O Lord, I need not to repeat
What I do beg or crave:
Thou know'st, O Lord, before I ask,
The thing that I would have.

Mercy, good Lord, mercy I ask,
This is the total sum:
For mercy, Lord, is all my suit,
Lord, let thy mercy come.

The Lords Prayer, or Pater noster.

OUR Father which in heaven art,
Lord, Hallowed be thy Name:
Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, even as the same in heaven is. Give us, O Lord, our daily bread this day.
As we forgive our debtors, so forgive our debts we pray.
Into temptation lead us not,
from evil make us free.
For kingdom, power, and glory thine
both now and ever be.

The Lords Prayer

The Lords Prayer. D. Cox.

OUR Father, which in heaven art,
And mak'st us all one brotherhood,
To call upon thee with one heart,
Our heavenly Father and our God:
Grant we pray not with lips alone,
But with our hearts deep sigh and groane.

Thy blessed Name be sanctifi'd,
Thy holy word might us inflame,
In holy life for to abide
To magnifie thy holy Name.
From all errors defend and keep
The little flock of thy poor sheep.

Thy kingdom come even at this hour,
And henceforth everlastingly:
Thine holy Ghost into us pour,
With all his gifts most plenteously.
From Satans rage and filthy band,
Defend us with thy mighty hand.

Thy will be done with diligence,
Like as in heaven in earth also:
In trouble grant us patience,
Thee to obey in wealth and wo.
Let not flesh, blood, or any ill,
Prevail against thy holy will.

Give us this day our daily bread,
And all other good gifts of thine:
Keep us from war and from bloodshed,
Also from sickness and famine:
That we may live in quietness,
Without all greedy carefulness.

Forgive us our offences all,
Relieve our careful conscience,
As we forgive both great and small
Which unto us have done offence.
Prepare us, Lord, for to serve thee
In perfect love and unity.

O Lord, into temptation
Lead us not, when the fiend doth rage,
To withstand his invasion
Give power and strength to every age:
Arm and make strong thy feeble host
With faith, and with the holy Ghost.

From evil, Lord, deliver us,
The days and times are dangerous:
From everlasting death save us,
And in our last need comfort us:
A blessed end to us bequeath,
Into thy hands our souls receive.

For thou, O Lord, art King of kings,
And thou hast power over all:
Thy glory shineth in all things,
In the wide world universal.
Amen, let it be done, O Lord,
As we have pray'd with one accord.

The Ten Commandments of God,
Exod. 20. W. W.

Heark, Israel, and what I say
Give heed to understand,
I am the Lord thy God that brought thee out of Egypt land, Even from the house wherein thou didst
in thralldom live a slave.

The Ten Commandments

None other gods at all before my presence shalt thou have.
No manner of graven image shalt thou make at all to thee,
Nor any other figure else
shall counterfeited be,
Of any thing in heaven above,
nor in the earth below:
Nor in the waters under earth,
to them thou shalt not bow.
Nor shalt them serve, the Lord thy God,
a jealous God is he,
Punishing parents faults unto
the third and fourth degree,
Upon their children that me hate:
and mercy do display
To thousands of such as me love,
and my precepts obey.
The Name thou of the Lord thy God
in vain shalt never use:
For him that takes his Name in vain
the Lord will not excuse.
Remember that thou holy keep
the sacred Sabbath-day:
Six days thou labour shalt, and do thy needful works alway.
The seventh day is set by the Lord
thy God to rest upon,
No work then shalt thou do in it,
not thou, nor yet thy son,
Thy daughter, servant, nor thy maid,
thine ox, nor yet thine ass,
Nor stranger that within thy gates
hath his abiding-place.
For in six days God heav'n and earth,
and all therein did make.
And after those his rest he did
upon the seventh day take.
Wherefore he blest the day that he
for resting did ordain,
And sacred to himself alone
appointed to remain.
Yield honour to thy Parents, that prolong'd thy days may be Upon the land the which the Lord
thy God hath given thee.
Thou shalt not murder. Thou shalt not commit adultery.
Thou shalt not steal. Nor witness false against thy neighbour be.
Thou shalt not cover house that to thy neighbour doth belong:
Nor covet shalt in having of his wife to do him wrong.
Nor his man-servant, nor his maid,
nor ox, nor ass of his,
Nor any other thing that to thy neighbour proper is.

Another of the same, by W. W.

At tend my people and give ear,
Unto the things I will thee tell:
See that my words in mind thou bear
And to my precepts listen well.

The Ten Commandments.

1 I am thy Sovereign Lord & God, (thrall,
Which brought thee out from careful
And thee deliver'd from Pharaohs rod:
Make thee no gods on them to call.

2 Nor fashion'd form of any thing
In heaven or earth to worship it:
For I thy God by revenging
With grievous plagues this sin will smite.

3 Take not in vain Gods holy Name,
Abuse it not after thy will:
For so thou might'st soon purchase blame,
And in his wrath he would the spill.

4 The Lord from work the sev'nth day ceaseth
And brought all things to perfect end:
So thou and thine that day take rest,
That him alone ye may attend.

5 Unto thy parents honour give,
As Gods commandments do intend:
That thou long days and good may'st live
In earth where God a place doth lend.

6 Beware of murder and of hate.

7 All filthy fornication fear.

8 See thou steal not at any rate.

9 False witness against no man bear,

10 Thy neighbors house wish not to have,
His wife, or ought that he calls mine:
His field, his ox, his ass, his slave,
Or any thing which is not thine.

A Prayer.

The Spirit of grace grant us, O Lord,
To keep these laws our hearts restore:
And cause us all with one accord
To magnifie thy Name therefore.

For of our selves no strength we have
To keep these laws after thy will:
Thy might therefore, O Christ, we crave
That we in thee may them fulfill.

Lord, for thy Names sake grant us this,
Thou art our strength, O Saviour Christ:
Of thee to speed how should we miss,
In whom our treasure doth consist?

To thee for evermore be praise,
With the Father in each respect,
And with the holy Spirit always,
The comforter of thine elect.

The Complaint of a sinner.

WHere righteousness doth say,
Lord for my sinful part,
In wrath thou shouldst me pay Vengeance for my desert:
I can it not deny,
But needs I must confess,
How that continually,
Thy laws I do transgress,
Thy laws I do transgress.

But if it be thy will
With sinners to contend,
Then all thy flock shall spill,
And be lost without end.
For who lives here so right,
That rightly he can say,
He sins not in thy sight,
Full oft and every day? Full oft, &c.

The Complaint of a sinner.

The Scripture plain tells me,
The righteous man offendeth
Seven times a day 'gainst thee,
Whereon thy wrath dependeth
So that the righteous man
Doth walk in no such path,
But he falls now and then
In danger of thy wrath, in danger, &c.
Then since the case so stands,
That even the man right wise
Falls oft in sinful bands,
Whereby thy wrath may rise,
Lord, I that am unjust,
And righteousness none have,
Whereto then shall I trust
My sinful soul to save? My sinful, &c.

But truly to that post
Whereto I cleave and shall,
Which is thy mercy most?
Lord, let thy mercy fall,
And mitigate thy mood,
Or else we perish all,
The price of this thy blood,
Wherein mercy I call, Wherein, &c.

The Scripture doth declare
No drop of blood in thee,
But that thou didst not spare
To shed each drop for me.
Now let those drops most sweet
So moist my heart so dry,
That I with sin replete,
May live, and sin may die, May live, &c.

That having mortifi'd
This sin of mine in me,
I may be sanctifi'd
By grace of thine in thee:
So that I never fall
Into such mortal sin,
That my foes infernal
Rejoyce my death therein, Rejoyce, &c.

But vouchsafe me to keep
From those infernal foes,
And from that lake so deep,
Whereon no mercy grows.
And I shall sing the songs Confirmed with the just,
That unto thee belongs,
Which art my only trust
Which art my only trust.

A Song to be sung before Morning Prayer

Praise ye the Lord, ye Gentiles all,
which hath brought you into his O praise him all people mortal, (light)
as it is most worthy and right.
For he is full determined
on us to pour out his mercy:
And the Lords truth be ye a sur'd
abideth perpetually.
Glory be to God the Father,
and to Christ Jesus his true Son,
With th' Holy Ghost in like manner,
now and at every season.

A Song

A Song.

To be sung before Evening Prayer.

BEhold now give heed, such as be the Lords servants faithful and true:
Some praise the Lord every degree,
with such songs as to him are due.
O ye that stand in the Lords house,
even in our own Gods mansion,
Praise ye the Lord so bounteous,
which worketh our salvation.
Lift up your hands in th' holy place,
yes, and that in the time of night:
Praise ye the Lord which gives all grace,
for he is a Lord of great might.
Then shall the Lord out of Sion,
which heav'n & earth made by his power
Give to you and your Nation
his blessing, mercy, and favour.
Glory be to God the Father,
and to Christ Jesus his true Son,
With th' holy Ghost in like manner,
now and at every season.

The Twelve Articles of the Christian Faith.

ALL my belief and confidence
is in the Lord of might,
The Father which all things hath made,
the day and also night:
The heavens and the firmament,
and also every star:
The earth and all that is therein,
which pass mans reason far:
And in like manner I believe in Christ our Lord his Son, Eoqual with the Deity,
and man in flesh and bone:
Conceived by the holy Ghost,
his word doth me assure:
And of his mother Mary borne,
yet she a Virgin pure.
Because mankind to Satan was
for sin in bond and thrall:
He came and offered up himself
to death to save us all.
And suffering most grievous pain,
then Pilate being judge,
Was crucified on the cross,
and thereof did not grudge.
And so he died in the flesh,
but quickned in the spirit:
His body then was buried,
that we might life inherit.
His soul did after this descend
into the lower parts:
A dread unto the wicked spirits,
but joy to faithful hearts.
And in the third day of his death
he rose to life again,
That so he might be glorified,
and freed from grief and pain.
Ascending to the heavens high,
to sit in glory still
On Gods right hand his Father does,
according to his will.

The Creed.

Until the day of judgment come,
when he shall come again
With angels power (yet of that day
we all be uncertain)
To judge all people righteously,
whom he hath dearly bought:
The living and the dead also,
which he hath made of nought.
And in the holy Spirit of God,
my faith to satisfie,
The third person in Trinity believe I stedfastly:
The holy and Catholick Church
that Gods word doth maintain,
And holy Scripture doth allow,
which Satan doth disdain.
And also I do trust to have
by Jesus Christ his death Release and pardon of my sins,
and that only by faith:
What time all flesh shall rise again
before the Lord of might,
And see him with their outward eyes,
which now do give them light.
And then shall Christ our Saviour
the sheep and goats divide,
And give life everlastingly
to those whom he hath tri'd, Within his realm celestial
in glory for to rest,
With all his holy company
of Saints and Angels blest,
Which serve the Lord omnipotent
obediently each hour:
To whom be all dominion
and praise for evermore.

A Prayer to the Holy Ghost, to be sung before the Sermon.

Come Holy Spirit the God of might,
comforter of us all:
Teach us to know thy word aright,
that we may never fall.
O holy Ghost, visit our coast,
defend us with thy shield:
Against all sin and wickedness,
Lord, help us win the field.
Lord keep our king and his counsel,
and give them will and might
To persevere in thy Gospel,
which can put sin to flight.
O Lord, that giv'st thy holy word,
send preachers plenteously:
That in the same we may accord,
and therein live and die.
O holy Spirit direct aright
the preachers of thy word,
That thou by them may'st cut down sin
as it were with a sword.
Depart not from thy pastours pure,
but aid them at their need:
Which break to us the bread of life,
whereon our souls do feed.
O blessed Spirit of truth keep us
in peace and unity,

Keep

Da Pacem.

Keep us from sects and errors all,
and from all Papistry.
Convert all these that are our foes,
and bring them to thy light:
That they and we may well agree,
and praise thee day and night.
O Lord, increase our faith in us,
and let love so abound,
That man and wife be void of strife,
and neighbours 'bout us round.
In our time give thy peace, O Lord,
to nations far and nigh:
And teach them all thy holy word,
that we may sing to thee.
All glory to the Trinity that is of mighties most:
The living Father and the Son,
and to the holy Ghost.
As it hath been in all the time
that hath been heretofore:
As it is now, and so shall be henceforth for evermore.

Da pacem, Domine.

Give peace in these our days, O Lord,
Great dangers are now at hand:
Thine enemies with one accord
Christ Name in every land
Seek to deface,
Root out and rase
Thy true right worship indeed.
Be thou the stay,
Lord, we thee pray,
Thou help'st alone in all need.
Give us that peace that we do lack,
Through misbelief and ill life:
Thy word to offer thou dost not slack,
Which we unkindly 'gainst strive.
With fire and sword
This healthful word
Some persecute and oppress:
Some with the mouth
Confess the truth
Without sincere godliness.
Give peace, and us thy Spirit down send,
With grief and repentance true
Do pierce our hearts, our lives to amend,
And by faith in Christ renew:
That fear and dread,
War and bloodshed,
Through thy sweet mercy and grace,
May from us slide:
Thy truth may bide,
And shine in every place.

The Lamentation.

O Lord, in thee is all my trust,
give ear unto my woful cry:
Refuse me not that am unjust,
but cast on me thy heavenly eye.
Behold how I do still lament
my sins wherein I do offend:
Shall I for them have punishment,
since thee to please I do intend?
No, no, not so thy will is bent
to deal with sinners in thine ire.

The Lamentation.

But when in heart they shall repent,
thou grant'st with speed their just desire:
To thee therefore still will I cry,
to wash away my sinful crime:
Thy blood, O Lord, is not yet dry,
but that it may help me in time.
Haste thee, O Lord, haste thee, I pray,
to pour on me thy gifts of grace,
That when this life shall pass away,
in heav'n with thee I may have place:
Where thou dost reign eternally,
with God, which once did down thee Where Angels sing continually: (send,
to thee be praise world without end.

A Thanksgiving after the Receiving of the Lords Supper.

The Lord be thanked for his gifts
and mercies evermore
That he doth shew unto his saints:
to him be laud therefore.
Our tongues cannot so praise the Lord
as he doth right deserve:
Our hearts cannot of him so think
as he doth us preserve.
His benefits they be so great
to us that be but sin,
That at our hands for recompence
there is no hope to win.
O sinful flesh that thou shouldst have such mercies of the Lord!
Thou dost deserve most worthily
of him to be abhor'd.
Nought else but sin and wretchedness
doth rest within our hearts:
And stubbornly against the Lord
we daily play our parts.
The sun above in firmament
that is to us alight, Doth shew it self more clear and pure
then we be in his sight.
The heav'ns above and all therein
more holy are then we:
They serve the Lord in their estate,
each one in his degree:
They do not strive for mastery,
nor light their office set:
But serve the Lord and do his will,
there's nothing can them let.
Also the earth and all therein
of God doth stand in awe,
It doth observe the Formers will,
by skilful natures law.
The sea and all that is therein
doth bend when God doth beck:
Spirits beneath do tremble all,
and fear his wrathful check.
But we (alas!) for whom all these were made them for to rule,
Do not so know or love the Lord
as doth the ox or mule.
A law he gave for us to know,
what was his holy will:
He would us good, but we not would avoid the thing is ill.

A Thanksgiving.

Not one of us that seeketh out
the Lord of life to please:
Nor doth the thing that might us lead
to Christ and quiet ease.
Thus are we all his enemies,
we can it not deny:
And he again of his good will
would not that we should die.
Therefore when remedy was none
to bring us unto life,
The Son of God our flesh he took
to end our mortal strife.
And all the law of God the Lord
he fully did obey:
And for our sins upon the cross
his blood our debts did pay.
And that we should not yet forget
what good he to us wrought,
A sign he left our eyes to tell
that he our bodies bought.
In bread and wine here visible
unto thine eyes and taste,
His mercies great thou may'st record,
if that his grace thou hast.
As once the corn did live and grow,
and was cut down with scythe,
And threshed out with many stripes,
out from his husk to drive,
And as the mill with violence
did tear it out so small,
And made it like to earthly dust,
not sparing it at all.
And as the oven with fire hot
did close it up with heat,
And all this done that I have said,
that it should be our meat:
So was the Lord in his ripe age
cut down by cruel death:
His soul he gave in torments great,
and yielded up his breath.
Because that he to us might be an everlasting bread,
With much reproach and troubles great
on earth his life he led.
And as the grapes in pleasant time
are pressed very sore,
And plucked down when they be ripe,
and let to grow no more:

Because the juice that in them is as comfortable drink
We might receive, and joyful be
when sorrows make us shrink:
So Christ his blood out pressed was also with nails and spear:
The juice thereof doth save all those
that rightly do him fear.
And as the corns by unity
into one loaf are knit:
So is the Lord and his whole Church,
though he in heaven sit.
As many grapes make but one wine,
so should we be but one In faith and love in Christ above,
and unto Christ alone:
Leading a life without all strife,
in quiet rest and peace:
From envy and from malice both
our hearts and tongues to cease.
Which if we do, then shall we shew
that we his chosen be:
By faith in him to lead a life
as always willed he.
And that we may so do indeed,
God send us all his grace:
Then after death we shall be sure
with him to have a place.

R. W.

Preserve us, Lord, by thy dear Word,
From Turb and Pope defend us Lord:
Which both would thrust out of his throne,
Our Lord Christ Jesus thy dear Son.
Lord Jesus Christ, shew forth thy might,
That thou art Lord of lords by right:
Thy poor afflicted flock defend,
That we may praise thee without end.
God holy Ghost our Comforter,
Be our patron, help, and succour:
Give us one mind, and perfect peace
All gifts of grace in us increase.
Thou living God in persons three,
Thy Name be prais'd in unity:
In all our need so us defend,
That we may praise thee without end.

A Form of PRAYER to be used in private Houses every Morning and Evening.

Morning Prayer.

A Mighty God and most merciful Father, we do not present our selves here before thy Majesty, trusting in our own merits or worthiness, but in thy manifold mercies, which hast promised to hear our prayers, and grant our requests which we shall make to thee in the Name of thy beloved Son Jesus Christ our Lord, who also hath commanded us to assemble ourselves together in his Name, with full assurance that he will not only be amongst us, but also be our Mediatour and Advocate towards thy Majesty, that we may obtain all things which shall seem expedient to thy blessed will, for our necessities. Therefore we beseech thee, most merciful Father, to turn thy loving countenance towards us, and impute not unto us our manifold sins and offences, whereby we justly deserve thy wrath and sharp punishment, but rather receive us to thy mercy, for Jesus Christs sake, accepting his death and passion as a just recompence for all our offences, in whom thou art well pleased, and through whom thou canst not be offended with us. And seeing that of thy great mercies we have quietly passed this night, grant (O heavenly Father) that we may bestow this day wholly in thy service, so that all our thoughts, words, and deeds, may redound to the glory of thy great Name, and good example to all men, who seeing our good works may glorifie thee our heavenly Father. And forasmuch as of thy meer favour and love thou hast not only created us to thine own similitude and likeness, but also hast chosen us to be heirs with thy dear Son Jesus Christ, of that immortal kingdom which thou preparedst for us from the beginning of the world, we beseech thee to increase our faith and knowledge, and to lighten our hearts with thy holy Spirit, that we may in the mean time live in godly conversation and integrity of life, knowing that idolaters, adulterers, covetous men, contentious persons, drunkards, gluttons, and such like, shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

And because thou hast commanded us to pray one for another, we do not only make request O Lord, for our selves, and for them that thou hast already called to the true understanding of thy heavenly will, but for all people and nations of the world, who as they know by thy wonderful works that thou art God over all, so they may be instructed by thy holy Spirit to believe in thee their only Saviour and Redeemer. But forasmuch as they cannot believe except they hear, nor cannot hear but by preaching, and none can preach except they be sent, therefore, O Lord, raise up faithful distributors of thy mysteries, who setting apart all worldly respects, may both in their life and doctrine only seek thy glory. Contrarily, confound Satan and Antichrist, with all hirelings, whom thou hast already cast off into a reprobate sense, that they may not by sects, schisms, heresies and errors, disquiet thy little flock. And because, O Lord, we be fallen into the latter days and dangerous times, wherein ignorance hath gotten the upper hand, and Satan by his ministers seeketh by all means to quench the light of thy Gospel, we beseech thee to maintain thy cause against those ravening wolves, and strengthen all thy servants whom they keep in prison and bondage. Let not thy long-suffering be an occasion either to increase their tyranny or to discourage thy children: neither yet let our sins and wickedness be an hinderance to thy mercies, but with speed, O Lord, consider these great miseries. For thy people Israel many times by their sins provoked thine anger, and thou punishedst them by thy just judgment: yet though their sins were never so grievous, if they once returned from their iniquity, thou receivedst them to mercy. We therefore, most wretched sinners, bewail our manifold sins, and earnestly repent us of our former wickedness, and ungodly behaviour towards thee: and whereas we cannot of our selves purchase thy pardon, yet we humbly beseech thee for Jesus Christs sake, to shew thy mercies upon us, and receive us again to thy favour. Grant us, dear Father, these our requests, and all other things necessary for us and thy whole Church, according to thy promise in Christ Jesus our Lord: In whose Name we beseech thee as he hath taught us, saying, Our Father which art, &c.

Evening Prayer.

O Lord God, Father everlasting, and full of pity, we acknowledge and confess that we be not worthy to lift up our eyes to heaven, much less to present our selves before thy Majesty, with confidence that thou wilt hear our prayers, and grant our requests, if we consider our own deservings: For our consciences do accuse us, and our sins do witness against us, and we know that thou art an upright Judge, which dost not justify the sinners and wicked men, but punishest the faults of all such as transgress thy commandments: yet, most merciful Father

since it hath pleased thee to command us to call on thee in all our troubles and adversities, promising even then to help us, when we feel our selves as it were swallowed up of death and desperation, we utterly renounce all worldly confidence, and fly to thy sovereign bounty as our only stay and refuge: beseeching thee not to call to remembrance our manifold sins and wickedness, whereby we continually provoke thy wrath and indignation against us, neither our negligence and unkindness, which have neither worthily esteemed, nor in our lives sufficiently expressed the sweet comfort of thy Gospel revealed unto us: but rather to accept the obedience and death of thy Son Jesus Christ, who by offering up his body in sacrifice once for all, hath made a sufficient recompence for all our sins. Have mercy therefore upon us, O Lord, and forgive us our offences. Teach us by thy holy Spirit that we may rightly weigh them, and earnestly repent for the same. And so much the rather, O Lord, because that the reprobate, and such as thou hast forsaken, cannot praise thee, nor call upon thy Name, but the repenting heart, the sorrowful mind, the conscience oppressed, hungry and thirsting for thy grace, shall ever set forth thy praise and glory. And albeit we be but worms and dust, yet thou art our Creator, and we be the work of thine hands, yea, thou art our Father, and we thy children, thou art our Shepherd, and we thy flock, thou art our Redeemer, and we the people whom thou hast bought, thou art our God, and we thine inheritance. Correct us not therefore in thine anger, O Lord, neither according to our deserts punish us, but mercifully chastise us with a fatherly affection, that all the world may know that at what time soever a sinner doth repent him of his sins from the bottom of his heart, thou wilt put away his wickedness out of thy remembrance, as thou hast promised by thine holy Prophets.

Finally, forasmuch as it hath pleased thee to make the night for man to rest in, as thou hast ordained him the day to travel in, grant (dear Father) that we may so take our bodily rest, that our souls may continually watch for the time that our Lord Jesus Christ shall appear for our deliverance out of this mortal life: and in the mean season, that we, not overcome by any fantasies, dreams, or other temptations, may fully set our minds upon thee, love thee, fear thee, and rest in thee: furthermore, that our sleep be not excessive or overmuch, after the insatiable desires of our flesh, but only sufficient to content our weak nature, that we may be the better disposed to live in all godly conversation, to the glory of thy most holy Name, and profit of our brethren. So be it.

A godly Prayer to be said at all times.

Honour and praise be given to thee, O Lord God Almighty, most dear Father of heaven, for all thy mercies and loving kindnesses shewed unto us, in that it hath pleased thy gracious goodness, freely and of thine own accord to elect and chuse us to salvation before the beginning of the world. And even like continual thanks be given to thee, for creating us after thine own image, for redeeming us with the precious blood of thy dear Son, when we were utterly lost, for sanctifying us with thy holy Spirit in the revelation and knowledge of thy holy word, for helping and succouring us in all our needs and necessities, for saving us from all dangers of body and soul, for comforting us so fatherly in all our tribulations and persecutions, for sparing us so long, and giving us so large a time of repentance. These benefits, O most merciful Father, like as we acknowledge to have received them of thy only goodness, even so we beseech thee for thy dear Son Jesus Christs sake, to grant us always thy holy Spirit, whereby we may continually grow in thankfulness towards thee, to be led into all truth, and comforted in all adversities. O Lord strengthen our faith, kindle it more in ferventness and love towards thee, and our neighbours for thy sake. Suffer us not, most dear Father, to receive thy Word any more in vain: but grant us always the assistance of thy grace and holy Spirit, that in heart, word and deed, we may sanctifie and do worship to thy Name, help to amplify and increase thy kingdom, and whatsoever thou sendest, we may be heartily well content with thy good pleasure and will. Let us not lack the thing, O Father, without the which we cannot serve thee: but bless thou so all the works of our hands, that we may have sufficient, and not be chargeable, but rather helpful unto others. Be merciful, O Lord, to our offences, and seeing our debt is great, which thou hast forgiven us in Jesus Christ, make us to love thee and our neighbours so much the more. Be thou our Father, our captain and defender in all temptations: hold thou us by thy merciful hand, that we may be delivered from all inconveniences, and end our lives in the sanctifying and honouring of thy holy Name, through Jesus Christ our Lord and only Saviour.

Let thy mighty hand and out-stretched arm, O Lord, be still our defence, thy mercy and loving kindness in Jesus Christ thy dear Son, our salvation, thy true and holy Word, our instruction, thy grace and holy Spirit, our comfort and consolation, unto the end, and for ever. So be it.

A Prayer

PRAYERS.

A Prayer to be said before a man begins his work.

O Lord God, most merciful Father and Saviour, seeing it hath pleased thee to command us to travel that we may relieve our need, we beseech thee of thy grace so to bless our labour, that thy blessing may extend unto us, without the which we are not able to continue, and that this great favour may be a witness unto us of thy bountifulness and assistance, so that thereby we may know the fatherly care that thou hast over us.

Moreover, O Lord, we beseech thee that thou wouldst strengthen us with thy holy Spirit, that we may faithfully travel in our state and vocation without fraud or deceit, and that we may endeavour our selves to follow thy holy Ordinance, rather than seek to satisfy our greedy affections, or desire to gain. And if it please thee, O Lord, to prosper our labour, give us a mind also to help them that have need, according to that ability that thou of thy mercy shalt give us: and knowing that all good things come of thee, grant that we may humble our selves to our neighbours, and not by any means lift up our selves above them which have not received so large a portion of thy mercies as thou hast given us. And if it please thee, O Lord, to try and exercise us by greater poverty and necessity than our flesh would desire, that thou wouldst yet, O Lord, grant us grace to know that thou wilt nourish us continually through thy bountiful liberality, that we be not so tempted, that we fall into distrust, but that we may patiently wait till thou fill us, not only with corporal graces and benefits, but chiefly with thine heavenly and spiritual treasures, to the intent that we may always have more ample occasion to give thee thanks, and wholly to rest upon thy mercies. Amen.

us, O Lord, of mercy, through Jesus Christ thy Son our Lord and Saviour. Amen.

A Confession for all Estates and Times.

O Eternal God and most merciful Father, we confess and acknowledge here before thy divine Majesty, that we are miserable sinners, conceived and born in sin and iniquity, so that in us there is no goodness: For the flesh evermore rebelleth against the spirit, whereby we continually transgress thy holy precepts and commandments, and so purchase to our selves through thy just judgment, Death and Damnation. Notwithstanding, O heavenly Father, forasmuch as we are displeased with our selves for the sins we have committed against thee, and do unfeignedly repent us of the same, we most humbly beseech thee for Jesus Christs sake, to shew thy mercy upon us, to forgive us all our sins, and increase thy holy Spirit in us, that we may acknowledge from the bottom of our hearts our own unrighteousness, may from henceforth not only mortifie our sinful lusts and affections, but also bring forth such fruits as may be agreeable to thy most blessed will, not for the worthiness thereof, but for the merits of thy dearly beloved Son Jesus Christ our only Saviour, whom thou hast already given an oblation and offering for our sins, and for whose sake we are certainly perswaded, that thou wilt deny us nothing that we shall ask in his Name, according to thy will. For thy Spirit doth assure our consciences, that thou art our merciful Father, and so lovest us thy children through him, that nothing is able to remove thy heavenly grace and favour from us. To thee therefore, O Father, with thy Son and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end. Amen.
